THE QUARANTINE ORDERS.

PRESIDENT HARRISON'S CIRCULAR APPROVED IN ENGLAND.

Objection Taken to the Slipshod Methods of the British Local Government Board—The Cases in England Confined to the Infected Ones at First Reported.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—President Harrison's circular relative to the quarantining of vessels carrying immigrants finds general approval and even admiration here. There is some feeling of envy also that the American law enables the Government to take such prompt and thorough steps to stop the importation of cholera. The halting and imperfect measures of the British Local Government Board directing that what the board's edict calls "filthy, unwholesome persons coming from foreign ports" shall pass unchallenged are questioned by high legal authority as exceeding the powers of the board. The only act existing giving the board the shadow of right to prevent the landing of aliens, either en route to another country or having England as their permanent destination, is the act of 1836 for the registration of aliens. After such registration the power of the board to interfere with aliens vanishes.

The Government in cooping immigrants at Gravesend and elsewhere are acting illegally and they will be obliged to ask Parliament to pass a retrospective act legalizing what they have done. The Local Board of officials and the Board of Trade officials desire to go further.

It is feared that the result of President Harrison's measure will be to stop the stream of alien emigration to America and make England the permanent location of many families who had intended to seek new homes across the water.

The prolonged quarantine declared by the United States is not regarded as in any wise hostile to England, but with a view to counteract the undoubted tendency to throw a crowd of infected immigrants into the States. The officials of both boards urge that the Government make immediate assent to a prohibition of the landing of immigrants from infected ports and to a long quarantine on vessels from such ports. In the absence of an act empowering such measures, it is held that the Privy Council could issue an edict.

Mr. Gladstone and Mr. Fowler, Secretary of State for War, have to-day been communicating with Sir Charles Russell, the Attorney-General, and Mr. Rigby, the Solicitor-General, to obtain their advice with regard to the means to meet the legal difficulties.

The agents of leading steamship companies express the opinion that the President's circular is needlessly severe. It was felt like a thunderbolt. Although prepared to refuse to book any more steerage passengers, the companies could not regard with complacence the order that the circular take immediate effect, the result being to throw three weeks' support of many emigrants upon them or to oblige them to return the unfortunate people whence they sailed.

Despite the circular, however, some vessels are certain to take their full complement of emigrants. Several steamship companies now refuse to book even first and second class passengers hailing from German and other continental ports, but the same companies, having thousands of steerage passengers already booked, are in a quandary how to discontinue this service, having contracted to provide for the booked emigrants until they are landed at their port of destination.

In the meantime the cholera in Great Britain seems to have been fairly mastered. The chief physician of the Local Government Board said to-day that the outlook was entirely satisfactory. He said that although about 30 cases of cholera at all the ports of Great Britain had been dealt with during the last 10 days, there was no single instance of the disease spreading beyond the person first attacked.

Absolute confidence prevails among the people that the perfect sanitary condition of England will secure the country against the ravages of baccilli bred in foreign filth. The noted cholera expert, Ernest Hart, speaking before a meeting of the health society last night, urged the adoption of precautions, which summed up are as follows: Careful medical inspection of ports, strict isolation, in chance cases of the disease, pure water and general cleanliness.

The physicians of this city will discuss the proposal of the establishment of an International Cholera Commission to report on the origin of the plague, its line of march through the different countries, where it has made its appearance and the various methods of treatment employed in the cases of persons stricken with the disease.

They May Be Missed at New Orleans.

NEW YORK, Sept. 2.—The City of Rome is due here to-morrow evening and will of course be held. Among other distinguished passengers on board the big steamer are Peter Jackson, the negro pugilist; "Parson" Davies, his manager; Joe Choynski, the Californian, and Warren Lewis. These sports are bound for the New Orleans fight, but the cholera regulations may interfere with their plans. It is said several English newspaper correspondents are also on board.

The steamer Island of the Thyngvalla Line has been passed by the doctor and allowed to go up to her dock this afternoon. She has no sickness on board, and the emigrants, 557 in number, are all Scandinavian and very clean.

The steamer City of Berlin arrived this morning with 203 first-class, 232 second cabin and 658 steerage passengers. The passengers aboard had not heard of the arrival of cholera in England or at New York and were very much excited over the news. The City of Berlin has 40 Russian steerage passengers. The cabin passengers will be landed this afternoon.

Heavy Death Rate in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Sept. 2.—The official cholera returns for the Empire for Aug. 30 are: New cases, 5273; deaths, 2722. It is estimated that 15,000 persons have already died of cholera in Russia. No one believes that the scourge will disappear through the efforts of the doctors, and when the disease shall have finally died out the death-list will be an appalling one.

Fifty Deaths at Havre.

HAVRE, Sept. 2.—Fifty new cases of cholera and 15 deaths occurred here yesterday.

A Death at Liverpool.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—Another of the Russians who were stricken with cholera while waiting at Liverpool for the steamer to New York died to-day.

Will Come by Way of Canada.

PARIS, Sept. 2.—The official cholera figures for yesterday show there were 15 cases and 3 deaths.

The Russian Jews who were exported from Odessa, who have been waiting for two weeks for the arrival of funds to permit of their proceeding to America, have been supplied with money and to-day they started for Dieppe, where they will board a vessel that will convey them to Canada. Their ultimate destination is the United States, and their object in sailing for Canada is simply to escape the quarantine regulations at United States seaports.

No Sickness on the City of Rome.

QUARANTINE, N.Y., Sept. 2.—The City of Rome, which arrived to-night, has no sickness whatever among her 560 passengers in the steerage.

THERE'S MUSIC IN THE AIR.

A Second Letter from Mr. Blake—Synopsis of Its Contents—Mr. Lynch Makes An Explanation.

Since the publication of Hon. Edward Blake's letter to President Frank Yeigh of the Young Men's Liberal Club, the breach between the latter and President Bryan Lynch of the local branch of the National League is widening. The champions of the respective factions are at daggers drawn, and there's music in the air, but it lacks harmony.

Yesterday President Lynch received another epistle from Hon. Edward Blake, but when one of The World's young men endeavored to learn its contents Mr. Lynch quietly and guardedly remarked:

"The correspondence that has already been published about this affair has stirred up too much ill-feeling, and I have therefore concluded it is best not to publish this letter. Our committee will meet Monday next. The correspondence will be produced, and you can get all you want about it then.

"I have been maligned a good deal during the last few days," continued Mr. Lynch. "Some people are industriously circulating the report that Mr. Yeigh did consult the league. But I say he did not. Neither did he consult even the Executive Committee of the Young Men's Liberal Club. I am a member of that executive and I know that I was not consulted. And besides there are two other members of the league that are on the executive and they were not consulted. This talk of Mr. Yeigh's about his being willing to co-operate with the league is all very fine now that he finds that the league has the inside track. If he wanted a joint reception why did he not consult the officers of the league before he cabled to Mr. Blake, or before he sent off a telegram to intercept him at Quebec? No, we are going to give Mr. Blake a reception independent of the Young Liberals.

"What the league proposes is to give Mr. Blake a right royal reception—not a banquet, which would be attended by only those in good circumstances—but of a character that will allow every freedom-loving man, whether rich or poor, to attend. After we get through with this reception we are willing to lend a willing hand to make the Young Liberals' banquet a success. And I'll bet that no class will be better represented than the members of the National League.

"Then they talk of a want of unanimity on our part," added Mr. Lynch. "Why, we are as united as can be, and as for money, it is being offered in all directions," concluded Mr. Lynch, as he rushed away to wait on a throng of customers that had congregated.

What the Letter Contained.

The World's Young Man subsequently learned from a gentleman who had read Mr. Blake's letter that enclosed in the envelope containing it were also copies of all the interesting correspondence which had not only passed between Mr. Blake and Mr. Lynch, but also that which had passed between the member for South Longford and Mr. Yeigh.

"Well, what did the letter to Mr. Lynch say?" queried the reporter.

"Well, as far as I can remember what Mr. Blake said was in substance that, considering the importance of the cause in which he has been engaged, he would be willing to sacrifice his own feelings in order to promote the battle for Home Rule, particularly as such demonstration would help the leaders in the Old Country. He also hoped that whatever took place there would be perfect harmony between all sections. You can see that if Mr. Blake studied his own feelings," added The World's informant, "he would refuse a reception, but that, in order to advance the good cause, he is willing to be anything or nothing in the hands of the local Land Leaguers."

Secretary Lee of the National League states that there is no hitch in affairs, that the Young Liberals and National League understand each other and are working in perfect harmony.

THE LABOUCHERE NONSENSE.

Lord Rosebery Adds an Important Denial to Gladstone's.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—As Mr. Labouchere has brought Lord Rosebery into his discussion with Mr. Gladstone to support his allegations that the Queen interfered with the Cabinet's appointments, Lord Rosebery was asked to confirm or deny the truth of the reports. He authorized the statement that the report that the Queen wrote urging him to accept the Foreign Office is utterly unfounded. This explicit denial settles the worst insinuation against the Queen, that blaming her for overruling Mr. Gladstone's foreign policy. Mr. Labouchere has gone to Italy, but his clique at the National Liberal Club proclaim their determination to raise in Parliament the question of the Queen's right to influence the selection of ministers, but they seem likely to be deprived of all ground for protest.

The court is now at Balmoral to remain three months.

ENGLISH CHURCHMEN AROUSED.

The Recent Ritualistic Victory Threatens to Disrupt the Church.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The agitation among English churchmen over the effects of the judgment in the case of the ritualistic Bishop of Lincoln grows apace. At a demonstration representative of the Evangelical section of the church at which the decision of the Privy Council was denounced the speakers even predicted the disruption of the church.

Failure of a London Bank.

LONDON, Sept. 2.—The London & General Bank (limited) of No. 20, Budge Row, Canon-street, E.C., suspended payment to-day. The bank was founded in 1882, with a capital of £1,000,000. To Sept. 30, 1891, the sum of £417,770 had been subscribed to the capital. In 1891, the bank paid a dividend of three per cent. The failure has created no exitement here. J. Spencer Balfour, M.P., is chairman of the Board of Directors.

The directors of the bank anticipate that the depositors will receive 15 shillings to the pound.

The cause of death was heart disease.

LIZZIE BORDEN DETAINED.

HER CASE TO GO ON TO THE GRAND JURY.

Tears in Court When the Commitment Was Announced—She is "Probably Guilty," Says the Court—The Accused Breaks Into Tears—Her Removal to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 2.—Lizzie Borden stood up before a crowded court room yesterday afternoon and received her commitment to jail to await trial for the murder of her father and stepmother. The venerable Judge Blaisdell was weeping, every person in the judicial chamber was straining his ears to catch His Honor's broken sentences. Women's eyes were suffused with tears. Lizzie Borden alone was calm. Gray-bearded Clerk Leonard read the sentence of the court to the prisoner, who was told to stand up.

"Having been charged with homicide in the killing of Andrew J. Borden on Aug. 4 last, and having entered a plea of not guilty the decision of the court is that you are probably guilty, and that you be confined in the county jail at Taunton until the first Monday in November."

Those were the words of the clerk. Lizzi looked him steadily in the face as he delivered them. Her face was as impassive as marble. It was a little pale, but not blanched. The co or tht h ad mantled her cheek earlier in the day had receded and her complexion was again its natural pallid hue. There was no heaving of the breast. The woman was absolutely emotionless.

Her wonderful nerve was never better shown than as she stood there before that crowded and curious court-room and realized that she must be tried for her life for two of the foulest murders ever committed.

Lizzie Sheds Tears in Court.

That nerve had failed her before to-day, however. For the first time in a week of the most trying situations, she broke down this morning. Lizzie Borden, the sphinx, positively cried in the court-room. There was nothing hysterical about it, and the emotion was soon suppressed.

The tears dried on eyelids, the lips stopped twitching and this marvel of womanhood was her cold, passive self. It was when her counsel, Andrew J. Jennings, was pleading for her release and exculpation from the horrible accusation lodged against her. She gave three distinct evidences of deep emotion, but only once did the tears well up in the eyes and trickle down her cheeks.

The first exhibition was when the lawyer said the murderer must have been insane or a criminal with a heart black as hell. The accused daughter's lips parted, she gasped and fought to master her feelings. She had barely succeeded when the lawyer described the wounds upon her father.

"These wounds speak for themselves," he said.

Lizzie's head fell on her bosom, a sob shook her frame and she placed her handkerchief on her eyes. Her other counsel, Mr. Adams, took a seat by her side and she became composed again with an effort.

Both Men and Women Wept.

When the tears finally came at the peroration of her lawyer, Mr. Adams' eyes were also suffused and many of the women in the court room cried at the close of his speech. Mr. Jennings also shed tears that he had kept back with difficulty when he was pleading.

Mr. Jennings made his strongest points on the absence of a blood-stained weapon and bloody clothes.

Emma Borden did not attend court in the forenoon, but she appeared after recess. She did not sit with Lizzie. Only the Rev. Mr. Buck sat by the prisoner.

Removed to Prison.

FALL RIVER, Mass., Sept. 2.—Lizzie Borden was taken from the central station to the Taunton jail this afternoon. She will remain there until the sitting of the grand jury in November. She was accompanied by Marshal Hilliard, Detective Seaver and Rev. Mr. Buck. She was not disturbed in the least by the gaze of a curious crowd, and, if anything, she looked firmer and more contented than she has appeared since the hearing was opened.

SIR DONALD SMITH TALKS.

Canadian Affairs, He Says, Are Attracting More Attention in England — Every Confidence is Felt in the Dominion.

MONTREAL, Sept. 2.—"Absurd" was Sir Donald Smith's comment on being informed this morning by a reporter that gossip mentioned his name as successor of Sir John Abbott as Premier of Canada, and then he laughed heartily. "I am too old a man to undertake any such responsibility as that, and I am not at all ambitious in that direction."

He had never sought to enter politics of his own free will. There were good men in the Government, such as Sir John Thompson, who would make a far better premier than ever he could.

Canadian affairs, he said, were coming to the front in England and there was every confidence evinced in the future of the country. As evidence of this Sir Donald referred to the avidity with which the recent C.P.R. loan of two millions was taken up. The experiment of transporting troops to and from the East had been acknowledged a grand success in England, and would no doubt be taken full advantage of in the future. Sir Donald regards the canal retaliation as anything but serious. He says it seems to be pretty well understood in the United States what the action of the President is intended for.

Sir Donald will remain in the city for some time, devoting his time to business affairs, of which, as he states, he has still a lot. Lady Smith will remain in Europe for the present.

A Judge Accused of Theft.

BRUNSWICK, Ga., Sept. 2.—Judge William R. Blaine, the ordinary of Glynn County and one of the most popular men in this State, is in a prison cell to-night on a charge of robbery. He was caught stealing money from the safe of Grocer M. J. Michelson to-day. The merchant was absent from the store at the time. He has lost nearly $2000 during the past six months and he set a trap for the thief. A policeman was secreted in the store. The merchant went out, leaving the outer door open. Judge Blaine walked in soon after Michelson left. He went to the safe and took a handful of silver from the cash drawer. He was at once taken into custody by the policeman on watch.

The Sunday World.

To-morrow's issue of The Sunday World will contain a full account of all local sports and an account of the Hamilton Citizens Regatta at Hamilton Beach. Full local and telegraphic news and Lorna Doone's account of the week's doings in society will be leading features of a capital issue. Belle Weaver writes a unique and forcible article on domestic inconveniences and makes some original remarks on visiting. The dramatic column of The Sunday World is one of the newsiest and most reliable in America. The space devoted to it is considerable, and a feuilleton of dramatic doings is compressed into three columns which gives more interesting news than any dramatic paper in America. Ebor is still engaged with the hymn-writers. He will supplement his articles on Charles Wesley and Isaac Watts by one on "Philip Doddridge and his hymns." The Idler's Etching of Prof. Goldwin Smith will be unique and interesting. It will give a picture or aspect of the great Oxonian that is utterly unfamiliar to the average reader and will be an entirely non-political treatment of him. The fashions of the week and several short stories complete a most interesting number.

The Dunlaps at Dineen's.

Of course,
People who are posted, know
That the famous Dunlap Hats are sold in Toronto exclusively by W. & D. Dineen, the fashionable hatters, corner King and Yonge-streets. They are Dunlap's sole agents, and the introduction of his correct styles for fall wear at Dineen's fall opening to-day is timed exactly with the first appearance of these exquisite styles to-day in the States. There is also another parallel. The prices at Dineens' for the new Dunlap Hats are precisely the same as asked in Dunlop's own fashionable establishment in New York.

But to-day's opening at Dineen's is not confined to the display of the new Dunlaps. Visitors will also see the newest creations of all the other great hat fashioners of the age: Heath, Christie, Youman, Woodrow, Tress, Lincoln, Bennett & Co. It's a World's Fair of all the new fall hat styles of the world's best makers.

And the hatteris, corner King and Yonge-streets, remains open until 10.30 to-night.

No. 1043.

This is the instrument used by the J. E. Ellis Company, Ltd., and which enables them to regulate the timepieces of their patrons to the greatest possible degree of accuracy. Chronomer No. 1043 has a history, having been used on the Chicora when running the blockade during the American War. We should like to hear of another chronometer which will give the same remarkable results.

Scampering to the Country.

During the last few years there has been an immense multiplication of the country vacations which city people enjoy, and the late hot weather can be held responsible for an exodus unparalleled in the history of the city. One good result of this scampering to the country has been a broadcast scattering of quinn's fifteen and twenty cent summer neckties, actually worth three times the price.

A METER CLERK'S DOWNFALL

USED CITY ACCOUNTS AS AN OFFSET TO HIS BOARD BILL

And Uttered False Receipts From the Waterworks Department—The Auditors Will Go Over the Books of Aubrey Winslow, Who Meantime Is Out of the City—The Facts in the Case.

Aubrey Winslow, late meter clerk at the Waterworks Department, has left town. He is said to be at Buffalo and he probably will stay across the line.

Winslow is an Englishman about 40 years of age and a great cricketer. His friends in Toronto were confined almost solely to cricket circles, and about noon yesterday the rumor began to be circulated among them that Winslow had left town for no very clear reason. Rumors were rife, and it was generally stated in the small circle of his immediate acquaintances that he had been guilty of some species of dishonesty.

Enquiry in the afternoon, when Supt. Hamilton of the Waterworks Department was at Grimsby, revealed only the fact that Winslow had come down to the City Hall at 10 o'clock on Wednesday morning, had signed the register and at 10.30 had received a telephone message from Superintendent Hamilton asking him to meet him at the pumping station. Since then the employes of the Waterworks Department had not seen him and he had discontinued his duties; although until late Thursday night he was seen in the city.

On his return from Grimsby last evening Superintendent Hamilton was seen at his Sherbourne-street residence. He stated at the interview on Wednesday morning he had suspended Winslow for an indefinite period, that of late Winslow had been rather too fond of cricket for his own good, a carelessness had crept into his entries as meter clerk, and he had made many mistakes in them. He thought Winslow needed a lesson.

"You know nothing, then, of any warrant issued for his arrest."

"No; no warrant has been issued for his arrest; I am positively certain about it. His conduct does not warrant it. I am very sorry if Winslow has taken my action so much to heart as to leave the city. The reason his period of suspension was made indefinite was that I wanted to see the extent of his carelessness. Our special auditor will examine his accounts and books on Monday."

The World subsequently learned the reason for the suspension. Winslow had been paying no board for some time, but the quarterly water bills had been allowed as an offset. Every quarter Mr. Winslow had handed in a receipted bill for water rates, and it was supposed that his salary was paid in part in this way. Two days ago the matter had leaked out and Superintendent Hamilton came down on Mr. Hurst for something near $250 back water rates. Yesterday Mr. Hurst paid over $189.

As Winslow in his position as meter clerk handled no money whatever and had no right to receive moneys for the department, any receipts issued by him must have been false.

Whether Winslow was in the habit of paying any of his other creditors in like manner it was impossible to ascertain. Certain it is that he became frightened, perhaps heard the false rumor of a warrant being issued for his arrest and skipped between the hours of 9 p.m. Thursday and 9 a.m. Friday.

It was pretty generally known among his friends that he was in the habit of speculating in bucket shops. Before he joined the staff of Mr. Hamilton, some 5½ years ago, he was in the brokerage business in Scott-street.

The Constable's Clock.

"A policeman's life is not a happy one," says the song-writer; but notwithstanding this, it is safe to say there is at least one happy policeman in the city. P.C. David Findlay of No. 1 division, who has just returned from his wedding trip, was last night presented with a very handsome marble clock by Sergeant Barton on behalf of his comrades of No. 1 division.

HAMILTON, Sept. 2.—The bylaw to grant $275,000 to the Toronto, Hamilton and Buffalo Railway Company, for the purchase of right of way through the city, was voted on to-day and carried. In order that the bylaw be carried it was necessary that at least one-third of the total number of freeholders should vote for it and also that it should have a majority of all the votes cast. The total number of votes necessary to carry was 1964 and the figures for and against the bylaw were 2168 for and 1655 against; majority for the bylaw 513, majority of votes over the necessary number 204. The bylaw requires that not one cent of the bonus be paid to the company until the road is built and in operation. The friends of the bylaw worked very hard to-day and are jubilating to-night over the result.

FOR GOD AND THE CHURCH.

The Good Work Which Christian Endeavor Societies Are Doing in Many Lands.

The York county convention of the Young People's Society of Christian Endeavor opened in Cooke's Church yesterday. The afternoon session was held in the basement of the church. Some 220 delegates attended. The room was tastefully decorated for the occasion; ferns and flowers appeared in profusion on the platform, while the United States flag and the Union Jack were displayed side by side in front of the reading desk.

The convention opened with a praise service, led by Mr. H. English of this city. Mr. McConnell, secretary of the Toronto Executive Union, presided.

The address of welcome was delivered by Mr. G. T. Ferguson, president of the Toronto Union.

Amongst those who were present during the afternoon were: Bishop Campbell of Toronto, Rev. Grant, Parliament-street Baptist Church; Rev. W. W. Smith of Newmarket, Dr. McTavish, Toronto; Revs. C. E. and T. Manning, Rev. Locke of Weston, Rev. Real, Aurora; Rev. P. Nichol, Rev. J. W. Bell, Elder Garbutt, Sharon, and Dr. McCullogh of Toronto.

Evening Session.

This was one long to be remembered by all interested in the work. The body of the church was filled to its utmost capacity, and by 8 o'clock there was not an empty seat in the galleries or anywhere else. Flowers and ferns decorated the pulpit platform, over which the artificial daylight of the Toronto Electric Light Company shed its rays.

Amongst those who occupied seats on the platform were Hon. John Dryden, Tozo Ohno of Tokyo, Japan, Rev. W. Patterson, pastor of Cooke's Church, ex-Lieut. Burrows. Mr. W. H. Kestin presided.

After devotional services the chairman made a short address, after which Mr. Tozo Ohno was intoduced to the audience. His address was listened to with marked attention, and while very interesting was at the same time instructive. He told of Japan and its teeming millions, of the progress the country is making and of the desire of many thousands for Christian missionaries and a better knowledge of the arts and sciences as practised in Christian countries.

Hon. John Dryden followed with a half hour's instructive and encouraging address.

Then came the pastor, Rev. Mr. Patterson, who spoke on "Side-tracking the Pledge." His address was particularly good, while his comparison between the side-tracking of trains and of the pledge was full of instruction.

Ontario this year carried the banner from New York for the greatest actual increase in societies in one year, having added 372 societies since July, 1891. Manitoba also got a banner for the greatest proportionate increase. The Presbyterians lead with 4806 societies, the Congregationalists come next with 4495, while the Baptists hold the third place with 2736.

Thirty-two societies have reported from India, 20 from Turkey, 19 from Mexico, 12 from the West Indies, 9 from Samoa, 9 from Africa, 9 from China, 6 from Japan; and there are societies in Bermuda, Brazil, Chili, Norway, Spain, Persia, the Hawaiian Islands and in almost every land.

THE G.T.R.'S PRESIDENT.

He Arrived at Little York, Where He Spent the Night.

Sir Henry Tyler, President of the Grand Trunk Railway Company, reached Little York yesterday. He remained there all night in his private car, preferring the quiet of the eastern suburb to the noise and bustle of the city.

Sir Henry will arrive in the city about 10 a.m., and at noon will take a trip over the Belt Line Railway.

The Belt Line Trip.

The Belt Line, running as it does through the picturesque hills and valleys immediately surrounding Toronto, is an exceedingly pleasant road to travel over. Perhaps there are many citizens who do not know all the beauties of the country with which we are surrounded. The woods and the streams along the line are unusually beautiful at this time of year, and to many it will recall the old days to see the turkeys and young pigs in the stubble of the harvest fields on the northwestern portion of the line. The views to be obtained at different points are magnificent, and for him who wants to get a breath of country air for an hour there is no finer trip. Tickets for the Belt Line trip may be obtained from P. J. Slatter, corner King and Yonge-streets.

UNDER AN ELECTRIC CAR.

A WOMAN GROUND TO DEATH IN CHURCH-STREET.

Eye-Witnesses Differ as to Whether She Was Struck by the Car or Fell While Attempting to Board the Front Platform—An Inquest to Be Held by Coroner Johnson To-Day.

A Church-street electric car at 2.30 yesterday afternoon ran over and fatally injured Miss Hannah Heron, aged 40, daughter of Charles Heron of Scarboro. The accident occurred at the Isabella and Church-street crossing, and diagonally across from the house of the victim's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Heron, which she had just left in order to catch the car.

There were several eye-witnesses of the tragedy.

Mr. S. H. Wheeler, line inspector for the Toronto Electric Light Company, says: "I was coming up the west side of Church-street, south of Isabella, when I saw a lady on the southeast corner start to come across. She walked slowly as if unwell or frightened. Indeed so apparent was this that I noticed it, though I was quite a distance down the street. She had an eye on a south-bound trolley car, and I concluded she wished to board it. She cleared the tracks before the car reached her, but the driver had been ringing the alarm vigorously, and I believe had lessened speed. As soon as the lady got over the last rail she halted as if bewildered or frightened and fell, her feet alighting across the west rail of the track. Before the driver could reverse the car and bring it to a standstill the wheels passed over her."

From another eye-witness it was learned that the woman was not standing on the track, but at the side of it, and as the car passed her she evidently tried to board, not knowing that there was a gate on the front end of the car, and missing her hold fell under the wheels.

Terribly Crushed.

The unfortunate woman was found under the centre of the car, only one wheel having passed over her. Both legs were crushed to a pulp, and terribly cut and torn. Dr. Atherton was summoned, and Miss Heron, who was conscious, was removed to her aunt's house, where she died at 8.15 o'clock, six hours after the accident. Dr. Atherton stated that the fact that Miss Heron was in delicate health at the time of the accident precluded the possibility of her recovery from her terrible injuries.

An inquest will be held by Dr. Johnson, coroner, to-day.

Ran Away With Two Women.

About 4.45 yesterday a team of horses belonging to a Mrs. Jackson of Weston ran away with two ladies in the buggy.

The team was going east in Adelaide-street, and as they were crossing Church-street the lady who was driving became nervous at the proximity of a trolley car going north and started her horses up. The team became frightened at the same time and tore east nearly to Jarvis, when they collided with a delivery wagon and were stopped.

Both ladies were thrown out, but neither was injured in any way. One of the horses had his throat ripped open in the collision, and the wound may possibly prove fatal.

THE NEW ORLEANS FIGHTS.

The Betting on the Contests—Sullivan a Favorite.

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 2.—The morning trains to-day brought many visitors from the north and east to witness the big prize fights next week, and from now on every train will be crowded. A party of sports came in this morning from Duluth and another train from Albany, N. Y. Steady betting continues at the pool rooms and the two institutions of the kind stand to lose a good deal on the result of the fight. For instance they are ready to pay out $8640 on the Corbett, Skelly and McAuliffe combination, $5000 on the Corbett, Skelly and Meyer combination and $4200 on the Sullivan, Dixon and Meyer combination, which seems to be the favorite. Corbett, Dixon and Meyer will probably go to the post at 4 to 1.

At Lamothe's pool room this morning a new system of betting was started. It was $2 mutuals, which many people are playing. The odds posted at the start at 11 o'clock were 4 to 1 Meyers, 3 to 1 McAuliffe, 5 to 1 Dixon, 6 to 1 Skelly, and even money Sullivan and 2 to 1 Corbett.

Died in Jail.

BRAMPTON, Sept. 2.—William Campbell, who may be described as a traveling tailor, died in jail here this morning. He informed Jailer Modeland that he conducted a tailoring business in Brampton 40 years ago. He is fairly well known in these parts, having worked with Mr. William Sims at Meadowvale and Norval at different times in the past 15 years. He is described as an honest and inoffensive man, whose only fault was a too frequent indulgence in strong drink, which was the cause of his ruin. He leaves a family of well-to-do sons, who would have provided for him had he been contented to allow them to do so. He was admitted to jail here 15 days ago on account of illness, from the effects of which he never recovered. He was 68 years of age.

A Great Mistake.

A number are under the impression that Millichamp & Co., 234 Yonge-street, cater only to the high-class trade in mantels, etc. This idea no doubt originated from the fact of their extensive sales to many of the best houses in the city, but on ascending to the second flat in this extensive establishment will be seen Tiles, Grates and Mantels in the builders' department ranging from $30 and upwards complete. Terms and prices right. Millichamp's. Tel. 855. 246

Business Change.
