This line is truly named. It is Select because each title in it has been selected with great care from among hundreds of books by well-known authors.

A glance over the following list will show the names of Mary J. Holmes, Marie Corelli, Rider Haggard, "The Duchess," R. D. Blackmore, and translations of some of the more famous French authors like Victor Hugo, and Alphonse Daudet.

If you are looking for books which will add to your knowledge of literature, a complete set of the Select Library which is so reasonably priced will do more for you than a like amount expended on ordinary fiction between cloth covers.
