OUR RETAIL ESTABLISHMENTS. THE EXTENSIVE CLOTHING HOUSE OF

J. G. KENNEDY & CO. It has been the aim of the Commercial Review, in the exhibits we have made of the various branches of industry with which our city abounds, to mention only those establishment that can be fairly called representatives of their trade. And while as a general rule we have taken only those which do a wholsale business, we have not overlooked those in the retail trade which, from the magnitude of their operations, deserve especial mention. Within the last few years a great change has taken place in the clothing trade. Ready made goods are now produced in as fine fabrics and as good styles and make as are the most of custom-made suits. In fact there are many of our best citizens who buy ready-made clothing entirely, and none of their acquaintances are aware that their stylish suit do not come from a fashionable tailor. Especially has this feature of the grade been apparent during the hard times and when economy was a necessity. The most extensive retail clothing house in this city is that of Messrs, J. G. Kennedy & Co, No. 31 St. Lawrence st. We had the pleasure of visiting this establishment a few days since, and we can safely assert that a larger finer or more stylish stock of clothing would be hard to find. The building occupied by them is four stories in height and is filled to repletion with every class of goods in the clothing line, comprising men's boys', and youths' ready-made clothing nevery variety, Canadian and Scotch tweeds, cas-simeres, doeskins, &c. On the first floor is the stock of over coats, suits, &c., in the latest styles and makes, and sold at prices to suit the most exacting. Indeed it would be difficult to find a customer who could not be suited in his department. The measuring and culting department is also on this floor. Here the finest custom-made dothing can be obtained at minimum prices. The 3rd and 4th floors are devoted to clothing of every description. They carry at all times a fine stock of tweeds, broadcloths, &c, &c., in bales. Their cloth ing for excellence of quality and first class work manship and finish cannot be surpassed. We commend any of our readers who really want superior, well fitting, stylish, and durable custom or ready-made garments at bottom prices to pay this house a visit they are sure to be suited by going to this fine establishment.—Advl.

AGRICULTURE.

THE PLANTING SBASON.

If this weather continues, will be short, and the work must be pressed.

INSECTS.

Where the "Canker-worm" is troublesome, look to the barriers to prevent its ascent, and renew the tar or printer's ink upon the bands. Dead insects will often make a bridge over which the living may cross; a daily inspection is needed.

ROOTS.

No other crop is more profitable than a good root crop. Mangolds and augar-beets are the most valuable of these crops. For these the ground

SPRING WHEAT. In spring wheat sections this is the first crop to be put into the ground. Where it will grow, it will succeed all the better for the best culture. Unless more than 10 bushels of grain per acre can be hatvested it is labor lost to grow this crop, and it would be better to raise oats. OVERHEATING IN BOX OR BUNDLE.

should be prepared this month.

causing the buds to push. We have received trees, long on the journey, the shoots of which had pushed two or three inches. It will be found that it is always the upper buds on the branches which start first, and the only remedy is to cut every branch back to a dormant bud-one that has not startedno matter if it leaves the tree a mere stick with stubs upon it. This is severe treatment, but is the BAfest.

WHAT VARIETIES TO PLANT

is a question often asked of us, and is one of the most difficult to answer. If the fruit is for home use, a succession from the earliest to the latest will be needed. If fruit is to be grown for market, then it is necessary to know what the market requires. In all these cases, the fruit growers in the neighborhood can give better advice than anyone else, and we have never yet met a successful fruit-grower who was not willing to tell what he knew for the benefit of others. It is only quacks who have

HOME NURSERY.

Those who propose, in a year or two, to set out orchards, can well prepare for it now. They can buy from the nurseries root-grafts, or nursery stocks "in bud," i.e., stocks budded last year, on which the buds have "taken" and which will start into growth this year, from which the stock above the bud, must of course be cut back. These, the very beginnings of trees, can be bought very cheaply, and if set 18 to 24 inches apart, in rows wide enough apart to be well cultivated, will, at the end of two years, give excellent young trees to set in the orchard, at a small cost.

POTATOES.

While the potato beetle is about, most farmers will plant early potatoes. They are cut of the way before the great army arrives. But we look for a great dimunition of this pest if potato growers will fight them at all times for a year of two. The open winter may have destroyed a great many, but enough will remain. Yet we would plant potatoes. There is no more profitable crop when planted on good soil, and well cultivated. The Early Rose is still the best for general crop.

TOP-DRESSING SOD FOR CORN.

We doubt if any better disposal of manure could be made at this season than to top-dress at once the sod to be plowed by and by for corn. It is easy to grow 100 bushels of corn to the acre if we set about it. Many farmers are doing it. It only needs 2 good ears to each bill 3 feet apart each way that is all. Having a corn that yields four or five ears to a stalk, it is as easy to grow 100 bushels per acre of corn as 22 bushels of wheat, with the manure and

ARTIFICIAL FERTILIZERS,

The ground should be made rich enough to grow the largest possible crops; else we are laboring with our hands and not with our heads, and unprofitably. Now that we have the most useful artificial fertilizer specially prepared for all crops, honest and responsible dealers, there is no excuse for poor crops, unless the farmer is too poor to procure these fertilizers. In that case he should cultivate less land and learn to grow the largest crops, by better work and more liberal tertilizing.

HIGH FARMING. High Farming is simply making the most of our resources. It is simply putting our work where it will do the most gaod and suffering no wastes to exist. It requires skill more than money, and good management rather than costly tools, fine stock, and showy buildings. It is not altogether in burying miles of tiles in the ground, but in bringing our fields under such a degree of cultivation, according to our means, as will produce crops with the greatest profit. The farmer who gains the most from the least outlay, is a" high farmer.' TREES FROM THE NURSERY.

If transported a long distance may be injured in warm weather in two ways. 1st. They may be dried out. This will be shown by the shrivelling of the bark on the twigs. For trees in this condition, open a trench in light, mellow soil, large enough to contain them, root and branch. Then, first seeing | Hundreds of subtle maladies are floating around us that the labels are all right, bury them entirely in moist, but not wet soil, putting a stake at the roots, as a guide in taking them out. Let them remain well fortified with pure blood and a properly buried five days or a week, and, when taken out nourished frame."—Civil Service Gazette. Sold only they will be found perfectly restored. MILK, CHEESE, SUGAR.

The above three arttcles are of prime necessity and are also products of Agriculture. The first two are now produced largely by co-operate effort among the farmers; and the last can be as well, if the cheese factories now organized would add the requisite machinery for grating and pressing the Sugar Beets. Such as is now used for making cider and pans such as are used for evaporating Sorghum juice will answer the purpose as well as those more costly. The farmers would raise the Sugar Beets, the pulp and leaves of which are good for stock, particularly milch cows, improving the quality as well as increasing the quantity of the milk produced. The patrons of the cheese factory would be benefited pecuniarily, and, as choose is an article of large export demand and sugar principally imported, if these interests were united, as suggested above, it would benefit the whole country and the dairy interest in particular. The cost of the necessary apparatus is but little and the product large. It adds another remunerative crop to those now grown; and, as all the mineral elements are again returned to the soil, its capacity for larger crops is increased without any extra expense, which enables the farmers to carry more stock, and consequently increases his profits from the sale of its products.— N. Y. Independant.

MANAGING POULTRY.

If it is desired to obtain a stock of heas for laying eggs to sell when they bring the highest price, I like the hatching to take place the first week in May, if of the Black Spanish, White or Brown Leghorn breed. They will lay as soon as the tenth of October. From that time until the first by which she can make up for lost time, any more than I can tell how a farmer can make up the loss of two days' time per week in a grocery store dis-cussing his neighbor's business. As to a hen not being profitable to keep for eggs after she is two years old, I cannot endorse it, as I have hens that are four years old, and still continue to deposit one dozen per month; still I prefer young hens. In selecting eggs to set, select eggs from those hens in your flock that you know are continually laying. Black Spanish, White and Brown Leghorns are not of much account for the table; to kill them for the market is folly .- Cor. Maasackusetts Ploughmon.

A REMARKABLE JERSEY COW.

Authentic records of the performances of good cows are valuable. They not only show what may be aimed at by preeders, and farmers, who should keep only the best animals, and breed from these with the greatest care, but such records show very clearly the vast difference there is between good cows and the common ones generally kept, and how much more profitable the best cows are than others. There have been recorded from time to time, the products of a number of more than usually good cows, and we have seen these records gathered carefully by agricultural writers as evidence of the value to farmers of such excellent animals. These records, therefore, have a certain value, and as from time to time we are authentically informed of the performances of extra good cows, we gladly publish them as information of both present and future interest. The record of this Jersey cow "Abbie," from April 17th, 1876, to March, 1877, during which time she yielded 10,070 lbs. of milk is as follows: April 17th to 30th, 417 lbs. ; May, 1,365 lbs. ; June, April 17th to 30th, 41710s.; May, 1,365 10s.; June, 1,406 lbs; July, 1,247 lbs. Aug., 1,155 lbs.; Sept, 991 lbs.; Oct., 907 lbs.; Nov., 754 lbs.; Dec., 788 lbs.; Jan., 1877, 707 lbs.; Feb., 551 lbs.; March, 371 lbs. Total, 10,790 lbs. On April 15, 1877, she calved again. The butter produced within the year was 486 lbs.; besides which, milk and cream were supplied for family use .- American Agricul-

GEESE RAISING IN ENGLAND.

The diligent and careful attention that has been paid of late years in England to the improvement of poultry has resulted in a great increase in the size and weight of geese. At the Birmingham show, a few years since, the heaviest pair exhibited were the old gray geese, the first prize pair of which weighed sixty pounds, the first-prize old white geess being fifty-six pounds. The first-prize young white birds of that year weighed forty-eight pounds white the gray ones weighed forty-seven pounds. A few years previous the raising of a pair of geese, of any age or variety, that would weigh like these specimens would have been regarded almost an impossibility -N. I. Independent.
