LEAD soil pipes are unsafe, as they are so readily acted upon by the sewer gases.

Pressence's branze is recommended to be used for entrichte cases. It is one-fifth lighter than bruss and after being freed for forty or fifty times, the phos-phorus bronze remains undestroyed.

The irritating fumes that arise from burning sul-phur may be readily absorbed by peroxide of man-sunese: persons working in these vapors, however dilated, should wear respirators containing this subdumes stance.

ABSENCE IS CARPETS.—It has been found that not only green but also the red coloured carpetings fre-quently contain arsenic. It is particularly asserted that the brilliant dark red colours, now so greatly in demand, contain enormous quantitles of this poison-ous substance. The goods burned with the blue flame of arsenic, and gave its characteristic garlie odour. odour.

New Ain BALLOON.—M. Dupuy de Lôme has re-cently made an aerial journey, in company with fif-teen others, in a newly constructed air balloon. The machine somewhat resembles an egge in shape, and by mechanical means can be made, at is reported, to be able to travel in any direction, irrespective of the wind; a speed of 30 miles an hour can be readily obtained.

LALD.—It is stated that the white hue on appo-rently good lard is perfectly fallacious: for it is said to be a common practice among dealers to mix from 2 to 5 per ceut. of milk of line with the melted lard. A superneceus compound results, which has the double advantage of being beautifully white and allowing 25 per cent. of water to be stirred in. during cooling. A good test of the suppested article is to mix with it an onthous of whitrate of mercury, which will turn the white into a slate colour.

Antipiciality PheraRen Factr-Synces,—It ap-pears that a considerable trado is earried on in so-called fruit-syrups, which contain no fruit whatever, but are artificially prepared from solutions of sugar havored with other and colored with anilino dye. There are fortunately various tosts for this disgrace-fol imposture—such as nitric acid, which, when mixed in equal volume with the real fruit-syrup-causes us change, but turns the initiation yellow. With solution of earbonate of soln, the artificial re-mains unchanged, and the real becomes line or green. reen.

From Towns, --- A scheme is mooted for the adop-on of steam towing, on the Larmaniat system, on the continuous lines of canals and rivers [ving be-tween the Straits of bover and the Guif of Lyons, so as to unite the Mediterranean and the English Channel by a navigable roate of modium speed. A single the of rait, weighing [bb, per foot lineal, its to be haid, says the Vechanics' Meanine, along the barks, with four wheeled functions, and towing a single heat of 150 to 160 tons' weight (with eargo) at a speed of about three nulls per hour, working in redges and exchanging boats i the return journey, when empty, being marke at bobbe speed. Successful rials are said to have been made of this system on the Marte Canal.

La vineg Betris AND MACHINERY.—Experiments mode in the United States with a view to discover the best way of transmitting pawer by means of learner belts have led to the conclusion that the most enormal way to prevent the slipping of the betts is to cover the policy, with leather. From that it would ap, our that beather on let there offers a certain steadi-ness, and with a further, advantage that the belt does not dy off, and wears ont less rapidly than when it rans on iron or wood. It is found in practice, in a spinning factory, that a belt running on leather will produce a thread free from knots and of much groater length, within a given time, than when running, and steam mill, with five run of millstones, each set evered with leather, being from three to four bush-els more each than before. In paper mills and subar mills each any soluble tory y-anthesise when obtained; and we may conclude the publicy evered with leather are best under all circumstates, even when the arbit a studied and a sub-set when obtained; and we may conclude that publicy evered when a runds one are used. This preme is of a dark, tarry-brown colour, and of an abnominable colour. By various processes it is more or less defended, bleached, and deodorised, and is econated into two or three different qualities, the most inferior of which goes to the formation of rail-brown scap, still, bowever, retaining an unpleasant smell. If any are to be shut up and kept for state occasions, or for the reception of rare visitors, let them be the darkest rooms of the house, the north and cast rooms, rulter than the south and work. Let the sumy roams be those which are the most constantly used. In the third place, have such finish of the house in walls, coiling, furniture, or absorb and destroy the light. As far as possible, let the brightnoss that comes note the house be met and repeated by the brightness that stays in the house. The Courses or THE GREAT.—The embalming of	own close, and remembers that he daily needs God's and his bother's charity, will not be apt to rage at the faults of another, as being greater than those which he feels that he is frequently and inexcusably guilty of. A SERMON CONDENSED.— <sup>4</sup> . When my mother says 'No.' there is no 'Yes' in It." Here is a sermon in a nutshell. Multitudes of parents say "No." but after a deal of teasing and debate it finally becomes "Yes." Love and kindness are essential elements in the suc- cessful management of children : but firmass, deci- cision, inflexibility, and uniformity of treatment are no less important. Mazzini's lasty recalls the singular fare which has intended the remains of so many distinguished men. In fact, an extremely interesting volume might be made of the posthumous adventures of the boales of those whose memory the world ins sought to keep afive. There is but little doubt that the tombs in the Panthéon at Paris which are shown as contain- ing the remains of Voltaire and Roussenu are in fact empty, having been rifled during one of the periods of conservative reaction in France. Milton's head is said to be in the possession of a private collector in London. So is Gronwell's, Jorgay Benthany's body, by his direction, was stuffed, find, dressed in his hand, and seated in his chair, is now preserved in a fass case.
