

The initiation of the University, also, must be said to be due to the Alumni Association of Huron College, a College from which have graduated more than eighty clergymen, now living in various parts of the Dominion, equally with the energy of our former Bishop.

In view of this I would beg to say that the object of its founder and promoters was the establishment of a University and College for Western Ontario, and that the scheme is being successfully and disinterestedly accomplished. While some of your statements were mere matter of opinion, others were representations of facts which could not be so well understood by one at a distance as here.

I am, yours very truly,
F. W. KERR.
