

Medical Care Programme

All provinces and territories of Canada are now covered by a federal medicare programme which began operation on July 1, 1968. Under this programme, comprehensive protection against medical expenses is available to all residents of Canada.