

THESE legends were told by a friend, the late Mr. J. H. H. whom I had met in London in 1906. He received at Buckingham Palace from King Edward VII.

To the fact that he was in the Chinook country thousands of miles from the confederacy, I came to reside in the country. He told me from his experience that he had never seen a speaking person.

E. PAUL