Massey Hall is in no sense the property of the city, but is in the hands of private interests, and as such is not entitled to tax exemption This was the situation as the civic legislation committee viewed it yesterday on hearing from Assistant Solicitor F. R. Mackelcan, that while in 1893, when the late Hart A. Massey proposed to dedicate the hall the apparent intention was to give the city a deed of gift, that this proposal was subsequently altered, Mr. Massey instead appointing a board of trustees.

Massey Hall is assessed as follows: Realty, $55,000; business, $13,750; caretaker's quarters, $2080; total taxes, including $162.05, are $147,301.
