Porcupine Goldfield Attracts Much Attention

Further Advance in Kerr Lake The Feature of the Market

Firm in Most Instances.

World Office, Tuesday Evening, Dec. 28. Trading was about as tame as could Trading was about as tame as could be at the local mining exchanges to-day. A few of the listed issues, such as Kerr Lake and Beaver, were fairly active, but the general list was practically neglected. Despite the lack of dealing however, the whole market remained comparatively firm up to the close, with the evident inference that while buying orders were decidedly small, there was at no time stock forced for sale by outside interests.

Kerr Lake continued to monopolize the attention of speculators and traders. The stock made a new record price for this movement at $8.70, but eased off later, on realizing sales, closing at $8.55. The other higher priced Cobalts were decidedly quiet at quotations about unchanged from yesterday.

Beaver was the speculative favorite in the other section of the list. This issue moved in a narrow range around yesterday's close and in no case equalled the high figures realized during the previous session. Nova Scotia made a fractional advance to 44½, but closed lower. The general list was quiet and maintained at about steady figures. Rochester was in somewhat letter demand and made a fractional requalled the high figures realized during the previous session. Nova Scotla made a fractional advance to 44½, but closed lower. The general list was quiet and maintained at about steady figures. Rochester was in somewhat better demand and made a fractional advance of 18%.

The market closed with an apathetic feeling everywhere apparent. The firm tone which is generally displayed is taken as a good indication of a bullish movement early in the new year and should the buying power show any material increase this will in all probability be realized.

Have Stock in Your Own Name.

As all the mining companies with provincial charters have to report to the government at the end of the year with a complete list of their shareholders, The World would suggest that shareholders in any of the mining companies get their stock put in their own name, so that the list be as complete as possible.

Porcupine Lake Gold Field Offers Good Opportunities

Trading in Mining Securities Continues Tame, But Undertone is Conservative Engineers Are Enthusiastic Over Prospects For Newest Gold Camp of the North.

Own Special Commissioner.)-Porcu- laid. pine Lake goldfields have every indicapine Lake goldfields have every indication of a real gold mining country. So says the most conservative engineer in this northern country. This speaks volumes.

M. J. O'Brien, who paid $30,000 for a claim adjoining the famous Wilson ledge, is installing a diamond drill and proposes drilling to 50 feet to prove up his gold indications. The Timmins people are planning to develop their properties.

New Yorkers, at the head of whom is D. M. Steindler, are gambling $10,000 on a chance of rapidly proving that the gold is at Porcupine Lake in quantity

Quill, edited by Brother Law, is at hand. It is creditable and fills a longfelt want. Relative to Porcupine Lake Brother Law says:
