In Five Times Up.

It had only rained in the eighth inning at Tecumseh Park yesterday all would have been well. Old Jupiter Pluvius didn't turn on the hose until afterward, though, and as a consequence the homebrews were nosed out in the ninth by the gamy Yankees, who won by 7 to 6. It was Payne's first defeat since casting his lot in London, and it was the sorriest kind of a touch.

Bates, who twirled for the followers of Murray, or Payne, for two innings, was roughly treated in session one, when five singles and a brace of misplays gave the Londons six points. It looked safe enough after that, but when it was the outcome, but then that was because no one gave the Yankees credit for being 33rd-degree stayers.

The feature of the game was Joy's three-bagger in the ninth, with two men on base. Joy, who has made three doubles, a triple and four singles out of eight consecutive times at bat in the last two games, besides drawing a pass.

In the eighth the Yankees connected for a double and a single, and then, with an elevated hoist to first by popular "Toots" Jeffries, netted them a tally.

Both sides then sparred for wind until the eighth, when the sons of Uncle Sam smote the Yankees for two singles and a like number of sacrifices, which with a ride and a misplay by the venerable Abby Johnson, made the score read 6 to 3.

The fatal ninth was a nightmare to the small crowd of fans present, but rumor hath it that Bill Murray giggled twice without stopping after the ball had ceased traveling around the lot and the Yankees had quit rambling over the cushions.

Wagner shoved a fast one down to Abby Johnson and got a life, when the venerable one became tangled up in the dust created by the flying ball. Smith singled to left, and "Tiny" Doremus did likewise, Wag cantering in.

Joy smashed Payne's first offering for a triple to deep left, and two more runs resulted. Doremus scored on McCabe's out from Bird to Klineck.

Foersch and Laughlin went down from short to first, and third to first, respectively.

Bert O'Rourke played third for London, but had little to do. He got a hit, though, and departed himself in a satisfactory manner all round. "Cy" Doremus pulled off a nice assortment of catches in center, and "Toots" was given a reception on a catch of a difficult foul fly near the grandstand.

CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

REPORTS FROM HAMILTON state that unless the Niagara Falls franchise can be unloaded upon a stock company shortly it will be transferred to Woodstock.

WE ARE GLAD TO HEAR that Mike Carney, once the "greatest of them all" among local southpaws in the days of the old international League, only fell twelve feet into a cellar last night. When one is down and out there is no telling how far one may drop when they hit the chute.

SPEAKING OF CHUTES reminds us that Eddie Sliver, the Canadian twirler who renounced his own country when asked if he was a Canadian in a Detroit hotel some time ago, is slated for the minors. Sliver once said, "Call me anything but a Canadian." Nobody on this side of the border is wearing black over his downfall.

IT IS SAID that since the Agnew-Hart bill went through in New York over three thousand tickets have been sold for Montreal and Windsor. The bookies are determined to make a living somewhere, and Canadians have generally proved easy in the past.

JIM JEFFRIES is another great admirer of Stanley Ketchel, the new middle-weight champion. A few days ago an argument arose in "Jeff's" cafe in Los Angeles, Cal., as to whether Ketchel would be able to defeat Tommy Burns, the champion heavyweight, with another year's experience in the ring. Jeff, when asked for his opinion, replied: "I have seen Ketchel fight, and I think he is one of the greatest fighters of his weight and aggressive, and as he is an Indian, I really believe that if he keeps right for another year he will come very near defeating Burns." Jim Corbett, Billy Delaney, Jim Corbith and other good judges of fighters have expressed the same opinion.

NIAGARA FALLS GAZETTE: Unpainted Smith is not as big as he's been painted, it seems. He worked well here recently, dispensing decisions with a great deal of accuracy for one "ball-tup" was a source of much merriment with the crowd.

SO JO JO KEENAN, the great and only, has been canned by Manager Wreath, of the London team. Wreath claims to have unearthed a conspiracy against him, which makes us wonder if Addie Richardson was in on it. Addie and Jo Jo would make fine running mates on a team—Hamilton Spectator.

FROM EVERY STANDPOINT the two games played for the local school baseball championship must be looked upon as great contests for mere school boys. London kids are as fast as they make 'em.

AT ASCOT
Crocker's Filly Rhodora Winner of the Triennial Stakes.
London, June 13.—Richard Crocker's filly Rhodora won the Triennial stakes at Ascot today. She was ridden by Lucien Lyne, and finished three-quarters of a length in front of Wheat Ear. Indian Runner was third. Six horses ran. With the exception of the winner the starters were an indifferent lot. The betting on Rhodora was 2 to 1 against.

FOOTBALL
Frederick McLaughlin, of the W. C. A. Stratford, phoned The Advertiser today to state that Dundas would play off with London on Tuesday, June 23. The game will probably be played at Tecumseh Park.
The secretary of the London team is requested to communicate with Mr. McLaughlin for particulars.

C. A. A. U. STANDS
UP FOR INDIANDeclares Longboat Must Run
In Marathon—Marsh Goes
To England.

Toronto, June 20.—Mr. J. G. Merrick, of the C.A.A.U., is today writing Pres. Stark of the C.A.A.U. at London, England, conveying to him the information that Canadians interested in athletics and the work of the Canadian Olympic team at London are feeling very strongly over the attempt of Sullivan and his American Union to block Longboat from running there next month.

Must Run.
He is also informing him that "Longboat must run," is the war cry here, and must also be with the Canadians on the team. If he is beaten fairly on the road, Canada will be satisfied, but if he is defeated in the committee room then the thing for Canada to do is to turn around and come home, every man jack of them, without starting in a single event.

Longboat, who sails a week from tomorrow, will carry the same message.

Racing Commission Favors
Only Pari-Mutuel Machines
On Southern Courses.

Lexington, Ky., June 19.—The state racing commission today unanimously refused to allow the re-establishment of bookmakers on Kentucky race tracks. They decided in favor of the pari-mutuel machines as being the best thing for racing.

The resolution affecting bookmakers is as follows:
"The commission believes the best interests of the turf demand that pari-mutuel machines be used on all race courses licensed by the commission. All racing associations licensed by the commission are hereby instructed to permit only the mutual system of betting and auction pools on the grounds. Any violation of this resolution will be punished by the revocation of the offender's license."

Permission was granted the Lexington Jockey Club to reduce purses from $500 to $400, as Harvey Meyers, who represented the club, claimed that the track was losing $200 daily and had been since the meeting began, including derby day.

New York Police Officers Have Returned From Old London
With the Crooks.

New York, June 19.—Lieuts. Wm. Browne and Henry G. Farnese, of police headquarters, have returned on the Zealand from London with Claude J. Heritier and William S. O'Connell, who stole about $7,000 worth of jewelry from the home of Mrs. David P. Morgan, of 70 Park avenue, in March last.

Heritier had been a valet in the house and had connived with O'Connell to steal the jewels.

Scotland Yard, on a tip from this city, found Heritier in the house of his sister in London. The address had been pencilled on a square in a checkbook used by Heritier in his room in the Morgan home.

Immediately after his arrest Heritier confessed, declaring that some of the pearls were "phony" and that he had thrown them into the Harlem River, while he was on his way to the Bronx. He said he and his confederate had lived for a while on the money they got by selling diamonds and pearls singly.

They lived for two weeks in a room they had rented two blocks away from the Morgan home—having an idea that the nearer they could get to the money they were—and subsequently they had traveled in many places in the United States. They might never have been found if Heritier had not left his address in London.

They went to England from Antwerp, where they arrived in the middle of April, aboard the steamship Marquette.

O'Connell was arrested in Liverpool while trying to dispose of some of the loot. Both expressed regret that they had not stuck to this neighborhood and taken chances.

Nobody among the passengers of the Zealand knew that the robbers were other than plain voyagers. They had a good time all the way across and when they boarded the liner at Dover, acknowledged the address of their relatives, who came down to see them off, as if they were taking the trip for their health instead of that of the community.

Some of the passengers were much surprised to see the pair going down the gangplank handcuffed to the detectives.

Lieut. Browne also brought over six sleuth dogs which he bought in Brussels for the department. They are just like the trained dogs in use here.

FRIDAY'S SCORES

Jupiter Pluvius Prevents Tiger Victory—Chicago Trims Boston.

Detroit, June 19.—A downpour of rain, just when the Tigers had struck their stride and were hitting Cates, the Washington offering, hard, prevented what might have been a Tiger victory. The score stood 3 to 2 at the opening of the fifth, when Umpire O'Loughlin called play owing to the storm. As five innings were not completed, the play does not count. Mullin was working at his best, pitching green ball, and as the champions were hitting Cates hard, it hiked only a matter of time before they finished him. Smith had opened the game for Washington, but as he had little control Cran-fillon jerked him out. The score:

WIDOW'S MILLION
TIED UP TIGHT

Jewelry Company Take Action
To Secure Their Claim for $10,000.

Chicago, June 19.—An action to tie up the property of Mrs. Maude A. Chance, the widow of the late millionaire, has been started in the municipal court.

Attorney Brode B. Davis, representing C. D. Peacock Company, jewelers, filed an attachment suit for $10,555 against Mrs. Chance, asserting jewelry to this amount had been purchased and not paid for by the woman who broke the will of her former aged husband and secured $1,000,000 which he had intended to be used in building an old men's home.

Simultaneously with the filing of the attachment, garnishee action was started against the Northern Trust Company, Merchants' Loan and Trust Company, and Attorney A. B. Melville, restraining them from disposing of the property of Mrs. Chance now in their possession.

The suit involves purchases of jewelry amounting to nearly $40,000, including the buying of a diamond necklace for which the jewelry firm asks $7,000. Rings, with ruby and diamond settings, valued at from $1,000 to $2,000, will be included in the declaration, which is yet to be filed.

Her Million.
This immense amount of jewelry was purchased by the young widow between the time of her husband's death and her departure for Europe after her will contest had been decided in her favor and she was given $400,000 in cash and $600,000 in stocks and bonds.

A. B. Melville, attorney for Mrs. Chance, said the suit was the outcome of the refusal of his client to pay what she believed were exorbitant prices for jewelry she had purchased.

"After Mr. King's death his widow made extensive purchases of diamonds, necklaces, rings—as a matter of fact, all kinds of jewelry," he said. "This cost her over $30,000. The greater part of the bill has been paid, only $10,000 remaining due, according to the firm's claims. Mrs. Chance acknowledges she owes a portion of this remainder, but refuses to pay in full, claiming she never agreed to pay the prices asked by the jeweler for certain articles."

"What was the most expensive item she purchased," he was asked. "A diamond necklace," replied Attorney Melville. "All the other things she bought were mostly jewels, and each cost over $1,000."

"The suit was brought to collect a balance due," said Attorney Davis.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES GARGET IN COWS.
John Coe, who described himself as a clerk-out of employment, applied at Bellevue Hospital, New York, Tuesday to be "sterilized" by the chloroform method. He is under observation as to his sanity.

The contract has been let for the building of the La Salle Hotel in Chicago to cost $3,500,000. It will contain 1,172 rooms.
