Easy & Practical Home Dress Making Lessons

Prepared Especially For This Newspaper by Pictorial Review

FOR A SUMMER MULL

The softness and grace of this frock are its distinguishing features. The skirt looks especially well trimmed with frills of soft mull or silk muslin and may be of any soft silk or mercerized cotton fabric. It is made with high waist-line, and the lower parts of the front and back gores may be made straight or rounded.

The waist is of the same material as the frills.

To make the dress requires:
1 yard of 36-inch material at 25 cents a yard ..... 25
1 yard narrow lace for collar ..... 15
1 yard 4-inch lace for sleeves ..... 40

5568

The skirt is of a model used frequently for independent wear with thin waists. The piecing for the puff and piecing for ruffles will have to be cut on an open width of the material. The goods should be folded, however, for the puff (C), ruffle (D), front gore (A) and back gore (B). For the lower front parts of front and back gores in rounded line cut out on small "o" perforations.

Then pleat the back gore, creasing on slot perforations; bring folded edge to line of small "o" perforations and stitch. Slash down fold at center-back from upper edge to large "o" perforation; finish edge for opening. Join gores as notched. Pleat extensions, creasing on double "o" perforations; bring folded edge to single small "o" perforations and press.

Close back seam of puff from large "o" perforation to lower edge; finish edges above for placket. Gather upper and lower edges between double "o" perforations; bring together, bringing small "o" perforation in puff to side seam.

CIGARETTE-CASE "REST" LATEST FEMININE CRAZE

The jeweled cigarette-case rest promises to be a popular present for fashionable women who fancy their smoking habit.

Its object is to prevent the appearance on the finger of unsightly nicotine stains, which are difficult to remove. The "rest" is in the form of a ring and is worn on the top of the first finger. From the hand springs a little wire clip large enough to take an ordinary cigarette, which is held poised above the finger, which it never touches.

A MILK QUESTION

St. John, May 21, 1914.

Editor Times:—

Sir—A month or two ago there was a good deal of correspondence in the papers respecting the milk question and at that time an old farmer from twenty miles up country suggested to me that there was a movement on foot to corner the milk supply of St. John. The thing seemed so ridiculous at first glance that I thought he was joking. His theory was that the local farmers within driving distance of the city would be placed under such restrictions that they would not be able to continue in business, or in other words, they would be inspected out of business.

I did not think a great deal about it until the other day when an inspector was appointed to look after the milk question and I have nothing to say against him as I would not know him if I fell over him. On the same day or day following there was a little notice in the papers questioning the use of brewers' grains for milking cows. As these grains are used only by the farmers within reasonable distance of the city, it began to look as though the plan was progressing and that my old friend's surmise might be correct after all.

On Thursday, the 21st inst., you reported an interview with the secretary of the board of trade by the "Manager of one of our new industries" respecting the matter of sanitation and flint dwelling on the carelessly kept and filthy strewn back yards he dives right into milk originating on some of the farms near the city. He wonders this and wonders that that one is led to wonder if the new industry in which he is engaged is that of getting milk from the farmers up country at three and one half to four cents per quart and turning it over at eight cents per quart or 100 per cent, just for the handling. He does not say anything

Hints for the Cook

Chocolate Filling

Three squares chocolate, 1-8 cup granulated sugar, 2 large cups milk. Cut chocolate up in pieces and let all come to a boil. Thicken with cornstarch which has been mixed in 1/2 cup of cold water. Use about a scant tablespoonful of cornstarch, then stir in butter size of a walnut, and after it has melted take off stove and add 1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla. You can judge better about quantity of cornstarch after you have made it once. It should not be too thick, but thick enough not to run off cake.

Oatmeal Cookies

Mix well together a cup each of butter and sugar, 7 tablespoons of sweet milk, 2 cups of flour sifted with a teaspoon of baking soda, 2 cups of dry oatmeal, a cup each of seeded raisins and chopped pecans or walnuts or peanuts. This makes a stiff dough and must be kneaded by hand to mix the nuts and raisins well. Do not roll out, but drop by the spoonful on buttered tins and press round and thin. Bake in a rather quick oven, and when cold spread a thin coat of icing over the cookies.

WINDSOR SALT

IS THE SALT FOR THE TABLE

WINDSOR SALT

An English Miller

—a hundred years ago—thought he would gain trade and a name if he could give people WHITE BREAD instead of dark, the only kind anybody had ever known before that.

So he removed the bran from flour! This made the flour white and pretty, and people took to WHITE BREAD.

But what really happened when the miller threw out the bran-coat? The flour was robbed of practically all the MINERAL SALTS of the grain—the particular elements of most vital need for preserving normal balance of nerve and brain.

Scientists now know that this lack in white flour and products made from it is responsible to a great degree for a host of present day ills, such as nervous prostration, constipation, kidney trouble, brain fog, and so on.

Grape-Nuts

Food

made from prime whole wheat and barley, retains ALL the mineral salts just as Nature grows them in the grain, together with ALL the nutriment of these rich food cereals. Grape-Nuts is a perfect food, long baked, easy of digestion, appetizing, and builds sturdy bodies, keen brains and steady nerves.

Comes ready to eat from the package, fresh and crisp.

A ration of Grape-Nuts with other food supplies perfectly what is lacking in white flour products.

CLINGS TO THE LONG LINE.

Point still clings to his long line and boyish effects, and looking at the illustrated one can not say they are not graceful; perhaps more so than the fussy frocks that so many are wearing at present.

Point is using this season much very light cream gaberdine trimmed with brown taffeta.

The straight skirt of this costume has its side pockets, hoes braided with white, and its brown taffeta belt crossed in the back and fastened low in front with a pearl buckle. The coat is the loose affair that Point always affects

DOES MONTREAL NOT GIVE BRITISHERS EQUAL CHANCE?

(Times Special Correspondence)

London, May 11—A communication addressed to the London Chamber of Commerce by La Chambre de Commerce of Montreal, in which the lack of enterprise of British firms was deplored has brought the following comment from "The Commercial Motor," which says: "We have had occasion before this, for example, in respect of certain calls for fire-engine tenders, to protest against the inadequacy of the interval allowed to British manufacturers by the City of Montreal authorities in respect of offers for business about to be placed. The latest case which also concerns the City of Montreal, has reference to the purchase of commercial motors for ordinary municipal purposes.

"No fair chance was afforded to British manufacturers under the original specification of dates, but, on the lodging of a protest by the Canadian agents of certain British makers, the time was extended by six weeks. Why is this kind of procedure repeated on the part of a city which should be willing to place
