

THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., FRIDAY, JANUARY 19, 1912

5

A Money Saving Sale!

Complete Collapse in Prices!

All Winter Footwear To Be Cleared Out To Make Room For Spring Exhibit.

Overshoes, Skating Boots, Felt Slippers, Felt Boots and Larrigans.

Every year in January we hold these Clearance Sales for the purpose of clearing out the season's stock, as, under no circumstances do we carry one season's goods into another.

MEN'S OVERSHOES 88c. and $1.18	WOMEN'S WARM LINED BOOTS In Kid and Calf. $1.38 and $1.48.	CHILDREN'S FELT SLIPPERS 28c. and 38c.
WOMEN'S OVERSHOES 88c. and $1.58	WOMEN'S FELT SLIPPERS Pretty and warm. 78c. and 88c., worth $1.35.	MEN'S FELT BOOTS $1.18 and $1.78. Bargains.
BOYS' OVERSHOES 88c. and 98c.	WOMEN'S RUBBER BOOTS 78c. and 88c.	MEN'S HOCKEY BOOTS $1.38, $1.68 and $1.98.
GIRLS' OVERSHOES $1.18		BOYS' HOCKEY BOOTS $1.28 and $1.48.
BOYS' RUBBER BOOTS $1.98		GIRLS' SKATING BOOTS 98c. and $1.08.

Waterbury & Rising Ltd.

Our Finest Chocolates in Handsome Packages
For Bridge Whist Parties At
AMUEL H. HAWKER'S DRUG STORE
Cor. Mill Street and Paradise Row

EMPIRE SAVING

Conservative Newspaper Presents
Some Salient Facts for Consideration in These Times

WORK NECESSARY.
A man or woman has ever believed that he will carry him along to the end of his life. But there will be a day when he will be asked to give up his work. The singer—deprived of the good which she loves and the society he craves—pays the price demanded by the gods. Art and if she does not pay this price she is not equal to her opportunity. If she fails she need blame no one but herself. Yet the chances are that if she does not come to you, you will have not had the chance.

Y LIVER, BILIOUSNESS, SICK HEADACHE, COATED TONGUE OR SOUR, GASSY STOMACH

Young men and women who somehow can't get feeling right—who have an ailing liver, coated tongue, sour stomach, gassy bowels, or feel all wrong out. You're keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passageway with cathartics. Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour undigested food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and off the decomposed waste matter and poisons from the intestines and bowels. Cascarets tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

Cascarets
REGULATE STOMACH, LIVER & BOWELS
TASTE GOOD—NEVER GRIPE OR SICKEN.
THEY WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP.

SNOW WILL SOON BE HERE!

OUR STOCK OF

SNOWSHOES

Is very complete, and contains the following kinds:—

CHILD'S	Price	$2.00
LADY'S		$2.40, 2.50
CLUB		3.25
GENT'S		$3.60, 4.00
LUMBERMAN'S		1.80
MOCCASINS		$1.00, $1.25, 1.50
SNOWSHOE TIES, (Leather),		60c. pair

W. H. THORNE & CO. LTD.

Market Square and King Street

Free Hemming and Sale of Slightly Defective Table Cloths in The Linen Room

Remnant Sale
Of Curtain Nets
And Drapery
Materials
Continued
Saturday

Again Saturday—
Sale of Knitted
Underwear and Flannellette
Wear for Ladies and Children

Specials in Ribbon
Department

Wide Taffeta Hair Ribbons, black and colors, 12 1/2 cts.
per yard.
Wide Taffeta Moire Ribbon,
regular 35c. quality, now
18 cts. per yard.
Wide Shot Moire with fancy
stripe, for Millinery, 25 cts.
per yard.
Wide Velvet Ribbons for Millinery, 15 cts. per yard.
New Dresden Ribbons, 5 inch,
28 cts. per yard.
Ribbon Bows and Violets with foliage, 25c., 50c., 75c., $1.00 each.

Sale of Ladies' Belts and Handbags

Samples and Odd Lots
These Belts are Leather,
Elastic and Silk, in black,
brown, tan, navy green and fancies. Two prices, each 15c.
and 25c.
The Bags are Leather and
Suede in black, brown, tan, grey, etc. Two prices, each
50c. and $1.00.
FRONT STORE.

Sale of Winter Overcoats

If your winter overcoat has become worn and it is desirable to replace it with a new one, now is a good time to make the change. Every one of our overcoats have been much reduced in price to close them out. These overcoats are our regular dependable kinds—fashionably correct in style for next year's wear. Come and see the great values—you'll surely be interested.

There are the favorite Prussian and Convertible collar Overcoats in both single and double breasted models. Also the regular Overcoats with velvet and self collars; and for those who prefer them we have the 44 inch long "Chesterfield" style Overcoats. A wide range of choice in stripe and check Saxons, Meltons, Cheviots, also Mixed Tweeds.

Sale prices from $6.50 to $22.25.

CLOTHING DEPARTMENT.

Remnant Sale For Saturday

VELOURS for Bath Robes, Kimonos, etc.

WOOL WAISTINGS, FLANNELLETTE WAISTINGS, WHITE LAWNS, WHITE WAISTINGS.

As usual these remnants will be sold at very low prices to clear the lot.

WASH GOODS DEPARTMENT.

MANCHESTER ROBERTSON ALLISON, LTD.

They need no guinea collections on their behalf.

THE LIQUOR LICENSES

At a meeting of the Liquor License Commission in the office of Inspector J. B. Jones yesterday, there were present Commissioners Baskin and Kitchin, with Chairman Baskin, who presided, their legal advisers, J. A. Sinclair, C. F. Hughes, on behalf of certain applicants, P. M. O'Sullivan for the Licensed Victuallers' Association, and Rev. H. E. Thomas and Joseph Leg, on behalf of the temperance people. There was no opposition to any particular applicant, and the commissioners had a private meeting to decide on granting licenses. They adjourned until Monday.

Rev. Mr. Thomas made a few remarks relative to the way in which he alleged the law was being violated through obstructions being placed in the windows of certain saloons. He also said the provision allowing the hotel-keepers to have their bars unseen from the street but visible from their lobbies was not in keeping with the law. He said there might soon be another test case in connection with some features of the liquor license commission of the county four licenses were granted in the parish of Simonds, as follows:

Mrs. Sadie McCormack, Three Mile House; W. E. Newcombe, Claimant House; Chas. W. Mayall, Coronation House, Loch Lomond Road; and Mrs. Nellie Barker, New Ben Lomond House. There were no licenses granted in the parish of Lancaster.

At the meeting of the Liquor License Commission yesterday, the following were present: Mr. J. B. Jones, Chairman; J. A. Sinclair, C. F. Hughes, P. M. O'Sullivan, Rev. H. E. Thomas, Joseph Leg, and J. B. Jones.

At this time for a whole century, elasticity was encouraged, and the empire grew and the imports became stronger. It was just about one hundred years after the independence of the United States had been acknowledged that imperial federation was forced to the front by some of its over-zealous friends. In the latter '80s for a man to say he thought it premature to talk of such a federation was to have his loyalty questioned by the fervid people, who proposed to substitute an act of parliament for the traditions and sentiments which had grown up in centuries. At a time these gentlemen recognized their own prematureness and their energies were given a rest.

Then Mr. Joseph Chamberlain came to the front with his advice to the British people to "think imperial." It was excellent and timely advice. He realized that to the great majority of the people of the United Kingdom the empire was only a name, and not a great living potential reality. His advice was taken by many people quite in a different sense from what he intended, and they began to pray for the salvation of Britain beyond seas, unmindful of the fact that it was their own need of it that Mr. Chamberlain was pointing out.

Since then the process of saving the empire by collecting guineas, adopting constitutions and by-laws and passing resolutions has been going on apace, and we have had self-constituted apostles, some of them have not yet achieved British citizenship, coming to us to tell us our duty and what we must do to be saved.

The men in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, who "to keep the flag a'flyin' have been doin' and a dyin'" for a century or more, do not need any imperial gospel preached to them. They, as their fathers before them, understand that the way to build up the empire is to keep intact the principles of self-government upon which the whole British fabric rests.

HOLY NAME SOCIETY PROCESSION IN TORONTO

Procession of the Holy Name Society in Toronto on Sunday last. Formerly these church processions were followed by much bloodshed, it being only a few years since baracades were erected in the streets and pitched battles fought when a Catholic surplice appeared. Things are now changed, more than 3,000 men were in Sunday's procession.

At the meeting of the Holy Name Society in Toronto on Sunday last, the following were present: Mr. J. B. Jones, Chairman; J. A. Sinclair, C. F. Hughes, P. M. O'Sullivan, Rev. H. E. Thomas, Joseph Leg, and J. B. Jones.

At this time for a whole century, elasticity was encouraged, and the empire grew and the imports became stronger. It was just about one hundred years after the independence of the United States had been acknowledged that imperial federation was forced to the front by some of its over-zealous friends. In the latter '80s for a man to say he thought it premature to talk of such a federation was to have his loyalty questioned by the fervid people, who proposed to substitute an act of parliament for the traditions and sentiments which had grown up in centuries. At a time these gentlemen recognized their own prematureness and their energies were given a rest.

Then Mr. Joseph Chamberlain came to the front with his advice to the British people to "think imperial." It was excellent and timely advice. He realized that to the great majority of the people of the United Kingdom the empire was only a name, and not a great living potential reality. His advice was taken by many people quite in a different sense from what he intended, and they began to pray for the salvation of Britain beyond seas, unmindful of the fact that it was their own need of it that Mr. Chamberlain was pointing out.

Since then the process of saving the empire by collecting guineas, adopting constitutions and by-laws and passing resolutions has been going on apace, and we have had self-constituted apostles, some of them have not yet achieved British citizenship, coming to us to tell us our duty and what we must do to be saved.

The men in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, who "to keep the flag a'flyin' have been doin' and a dyin'" for a century or more, do not need any imperial gospel preached to them. They, as their fathers before them, understand that the way to build up the empire is to keep intact the principles of self-government upon which the whole British fabric rests.

At the meeting of the Holy Name Society in Toronto on Sunday last, the following were present: Mr. J. B. Jones, Chairman; J. A. Sinclair, C. F. Hughes, P. M. O'Sullivan, Rev. H. E. Thomas, Joseph Leg, and J. B. Jones.

At this time for a whole century, elasticity was encouraged, and the empire grew and the imports became stronger. It was just about one hundred years after the independence of the United States had been acknowledged that imperial federation was forced to the front by some of its over-zealous friends. In the latter '80s for a man to say he thought it premature to talk of such a federation was to have his loyalty questioned by the fervid people, who proposed to substitute an act of parliament for the traditions and sentiments which had grown up in centuries. At a time these gentlemen recognized their own prematureness and their energies were given a rest.

Then Mr. Joseph Chamberlain came to the front with his advice to the British people to "think imperial." It was excellent and timely advice. He realized that to the great majority of the people of the United Kingdom the empire was only a name, and not a great living potential reality. His advice was taken by many people quite in a different sense from what he intended, and they began to pray for the salvation of Britain beyond seas, unmindful of the fact that it was their own need of it that Mr. Chamberlain was pointing out.

Since then the process of saving the empire by collecting guineas, adopting constitutions and by-laws and passing resolutions has been going on apace, and we have had self-constituted apostles, some of them have not yet achieved British citizenship, coming to us to tell us our duty and what we must do to be saved.

The men in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, who "to keep the flag a'flyin' have been doin' and a dyin'" for a century or more, do not need any imperial gospel preached to them. They, as their fathers before them, understand that the way to build up the empire is to keep intact the principles of self-government upon which the whole British fabric rests.

At the meeting of the Holy Name Society in Toronto on Sunday last, the following were present: Mr. J. B. Jones, Chairman; J. A. Sinclair, C. F. Hughes, P. M. O'Sullivan, Rev. H. E. Thomas, Joseph Leg, and J. B. Jones.

At this time for a whole century, elasticity was encouraged, and the empire grew and the imports became stronger. It was just about one hundred years after the independence of the United States had been acknowledged that imperial federation was forced to the front by some of its over-zealous friends. In the latter '80s for a man to say he thought it premature to talk of such a federation was to have his loyalty questioned by the fervid people, who proposed to substitute an act of parliament for the traditions and sentiments which had grown up in centuries. At a time these gentlemen recognized their own prematureness and their energies were given a rest.

Then Mr. Joseph Chamberlain came to the front with his advice to the British people to "think imperial." It was excellent and timely advice. He realized that to the great majority of the people of the United Kingdom the empire was only a name, and not a great living potential reality. His advice was taken by many people quite in a different sense from what he intended, and they began to pray for the salvation of Britain beyond seas, unmindful of the fact that it was their own need of it that Mr. Chamberlain was pointing out.

Since then the process of saving the empire by collecting guineas, adopting constitutions and by-laws and passing resolutions has been going on apace, and we have had self-constituted apostles, some of them have not yet achieved British citizenship, coming to us to tell us our duty and what we must do to be saved.

The men in Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, who "to keep the flag a'flyin' have been doin' and a dyin'" for a century or more, do not need any imperial gospel preached to them. They, as their fathers before them, understand that the way to build up the empire is to keep intact the principles of self-government upon which the whole British fabric rests.

HARD RAPS GIVEN IN COMMONS, YESTERDAY

The Ultra Loyalists and Their Treatment of the Flag During the Election

Ottawa, Jan. 18.—The introduction of a measure, by Mr. Bradbury, respecting the use of the British flag, in the House of Commons yesterday gave the opposition the opportunity to administer a well-merited rebuke to the government benches. Mr. Bradbury proposed against the use of the flag for commercial purposes and Hon. H. R. Emmerson followed with even stronger condemnation for those who used it for political purposes.

Hon. Wm. Pugsley spoke effectively on the same subject. He has rejoiced in hearing the members of the administration approving the proposal to take steps to secure respect and loyalty to the Union Jack. Particularly was this the case owing to the fact that during the election campaign certain of the government supporters had declared that, in order to breathe the air of freedom, it had been necessary to "bore holes in the British flag," and that for respecting this insult both to the flag and to the empire a public official had been promptly dismissed from the civil service, as soon as the new government took office.

Through the efforts of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Hon. Mr. Pugsley the government has conceded to officials facing charges in the coming inquiry the right to be represented by counsel.

WHAT HE ATE

Two little boys had put away in the larder overnight two small cakes for consumption in the morning. When, however, one of them went the next morning to secure his cake he found only one there, and that had a large piece bitten out of it. Full of wrath he went in search of his brother. "I say," he demanded, "I want to know who took that big bite out of my cake?" "I did," answered his brother. "What did you do it for?" "Well, when I tasted it I found it was your cake and so I ate the other one!"

Our Mid-Winter Clearance Sale of Fine Quality BOOTS, SHOES, SLIPPERS and RUBBERS

Opened on Wednesday and is now in full swing. Crowds here secured bargains and you can do likewise.

Here are some of the bargains we are offering:

MEN'S RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale price, 88c.	WOMEN'S RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale prices, 42c. and 53c.	GIRLS' PATENT BUTTON BOOTS—Black Suede Type—Sizes, 11, 12, 13, 14, $3.00 reduced to $1.75.
MEN'S HEAVY RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale price, 68c.	GIRLS' RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale prices, 35c. and 45c.	GIRLS' KID, ONE STRAP SLIPPERS—Sizes 1 and 2, $1.25, reduced to 75c.
BOYS' RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale price, 48c.	CHILD'S RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale prices, 28c. and 38c.	WOMEN'S TWO BUCKLE OVERSHOES—Sizes 3, 5, 7, $1.50, reduced to $1.15.
BOYS' HEAVY RUBBERS—All sizes. Sale price, 58c.	CHILD'S TWO BUCKLE OVERSHOES—Sizes 6, 8, 10. Sale price, 75c.	BOYS' ONE BUCKLE OVERSHOES—Sizes 11, 12, 13, 14, $1.50, reduced to $1.00.

SALE GOODS CASH, NO APPROBATION.

FOOT
FITTERS

McROBBIE

KING STREET