Two Members May Do So-Possibil of the Premier Securing Support the House Canvassed.

Two of the prominent figures in resent political situation returned the Mainland last night, namely, Me McBride and Wells. The mission of latter to the Chilliwack valley, while tensibly for the purpose of looking dyking works there, is believed to been undertaken chiefly for the pur of consulting C. W. Munro, M. P. and if possible securing his support.

Mr. McBride on the other hand to Westminster to assist in getting man in the field in opposition to the vincial secretary. The meeting in opera house there he states was lately devoid of enthusiasm, even front benches being empty. The ment there is very similar to that in toria, and the mere fact that Mr. B has been taken into the cabinet ha obscured the real issue, which is, ther or not Martinism is to receiv
