H. R. STEVERS, EONTON:
About nine and a half years ago I had a fever;
the doctor gave me some poisonous medicine, drove the disease into my leg, and it broke out, and has been from two to termined agrees ever aince. I could not sleep a fourthoff a night once in six months, and a great many right of the county pelled to get up and take opium, a piece as large as a pea-to deaden the pain. I have tried everything I could hear of, in fact, I have paid out hundreds of dellars, and found no relief until 1 commenced taking Vegetine, and now I can go to bed at eight o' lock at night and sleep until seven o'clock in the morning, and no occasion to waken from pain. I was usad up, perfectly dead inwardly, and frequently when I would get up would be dizzy, and have to put my hand on something to keep from falling; but since I commenced taking Vegetine it has all disappeared, and I feel like a sew man. My honest conviction is that it will cure my leg entirely, from the present looks and reelings. I shall continue taking Vegetine, and recommend it to all whom I come across; and I hope the man who introduced Vegetine into the United States will have a home in the Celestial City.

Dear, Old Wood-Side Farm.

Ties of affection bind my heart,
To my home and the fond ones there,
With whom I spent many pleasant hours,
So free from sorrow and care,
Around-that home we used to wander,
In childhood free from harm,

The summer's breeze, in tenderest mood,

There my wishes all made known,
There I find the deep, true meaning Of thoses weet words "Mother," "Home There loving sisters and brothers dear,
With hearts so true and warm,

Are always ready to welcome me back To dear, old Wood-Side Farm. My dear, old home, my dear, old home,
For you never shall lose my love Until to the fond ones I bid "Adieu,"
And go to my Home above,
There is no spot on this wide earth,
For me has such a charm,
Or fills my soul with longing love,
Like dear, old Wood-Side Farm.

God pity the poor, the homeless ones,
Who wander sad and lone Who have no friends to welcome them,
No dear place to call "Home," God bless each member of my home,
And protect them from all harm,
Let Thy rich blessing ever rest

The Temperance Question. [From the Church Guardian.]
This question of intemperance is a religious one. When the demon takes posapply: "This kind goeth not out but by Prayer and Fasting." It must be dealt with as a sin, and the sinner must be shewn the remedy for sin, and taught to value the means which God has appointed to strengthen and restore the infirm and fallen. We maintain that the Church ought to despise no means of extending her legitimate work, the salvation of souls; and if she sees a gigantic form of sin growing up in her midst she is bound to provide against it. Now, no one denies that intemperance is a body and soul-destroying the Secretary were present and consented evil; no one denies its effects on the body; to it being done. The only Trustee preeffect on the soul. We claim then, that there is a demand, in view of the increase of all forms of intemperance, for a special agency beyond the ordinary agency of her rervices, an agency that will bring out her remedial powers. We want an organization, as the Bishop of Northern Texas says, "Which shall have a churchly that Mr. Newman told him he hauled a stamp, a churchly character. and a churchly name; such an agency as may by sound advice, by solid principle, by wisely directed effort, and in varied ways, employ such means as shall be productive of the such means as shall be productive of the selves from the taxation necessary to prodesired result." But the charge is repeatedly made, (though the answer has been given over and over again by Arch. bishops and Bishops, to say nothing of out of the school funds for cutting and others), that if you have a special society for this purpose you were the function of LYMAN'S Quinine Wine and Emulsion of Cod for this purpose you usurp the function of liver Oil.

REEF, IRON and WINE, Iron and Quinine, the Church, which is the great Temperance Society. The Church is a great Temperance Society, and were she ideally pure, such a Society would not be required. This objection, however, would be against looks very much like a quibble. The great Missionary Society, yet we multiply ministers of the glad tidings, yet how wheat, it might be done. But it is absurd to think that the Church in this work can do her full duty without having resort to special organizations in order to carry on departments of her work. Let the Church then, as a Church, wisely and boldly take hold of this question. Let whatever ganization she has, while not ignoring approved moral and intellectual and legislative helps, be distinctly a religious work, instructing those who are pledged as to their christian duty, and the right use of the means of grace, by which alone they on two occasions he failed to do his duty, may hope to cast out the demon which is etc.

miles from Newcastle, situate on the South West branch of the Miramichi River. At that time there was no regular religious service held with the people of the place, no prayer and conference meeting, no Sabath school. Since that time we have had regular preaching there and God has blessed our efforts to do good. We now have a weekly prayer meeting and splendid Sabbath school organized, with hopeful prospects. All these services were held in a large school house, as there was no other place suitable, in the community, to hold meetings in. This school house is unfinished inside, that is, it is not desked properly nor seated, only with rude benches so there was nothing to be displaced or damaged in the least by the congregation. The Trustees of this school and house, two of them, with a very few others, being opposed to Baptist preaching and by the aid of the Inspector of schoesfor this district, have succeeded in effectually closing the door against us, in consequence of which we are obliged to suspend Sabbath operations and to preach as best we can in the small rooms of dwelling houses till we can do better. Our congregations are large for the place and are increasing and everything was marching on in good order and with encouraging prospects. This was too much for those who hate the truth, so a little of the old time spirit has manifested itself in closing a door that had previously been opened to admit humble worshippers; but we take comfort out of the words of Christ, our Master, who has said "Blessed are ye when men shall presecute you and shall say all manner of evil against you, falsely for my name sake."

What we intend to do now is to build a commodious little church in the name of the Baptist denomination. The people have already commenced the work. Brother Joseph Amos gives the land and by the aid of friends in this county who sympathize with us in our trouble, we shall erect a building fit to worship in for a few months till we can finish it. That is we shall never a respectable place of worship in th

He ought to be sorry for sending such misrepresentations of Derby abroad in a paper which does not circulate to any extent here being denominational-having, I think, but one subscriber in Derby. not propose to go over the whole of Mr. Munro's letter published in your last issue, but will take a few specimen statements by which nearly all the others may be judged.

His ideas of cleanliness, which the good Book says is next to godliness, may be inferred from his assertion that he held services in the School House only eight or ten evenings, and he states this as a contradiction of my assertion that they fouled the School house. Perhaps Mr. Munro will let us know how many Baptist meetings it takes to render a small school house sufficiently fouled to need cleaning. Another statement of Mr. Munro's is that when the lock was broken a Trustee and sent was Mr. Eldred Robinson who informs me that he did not consent to the breaking of the lock or the opening of the School house, in any way. Mr. Munro says that the "Christian that Mr. Newman told him he hauled a cord more "which run into the second year." The facts are that at a school disthe same as other ratepayers until the following fall and the district had to pay extra for cutting and splitting what Mr. Newman hauled-not for the meetings, fact is Mr. Munro the " persocuted "-Home and Foreign Missionary organizations. The Church is bound to provide that was procured for the school for the and his congregation burned the wood cutting of which the trustees paid and the many societies are there to provide these?

She is bound to provide for the Widows and Orphans of her clergy, yet she delegates this duty to a Society. We never hear objections raised to the congregation did not pay a cent.

Mr. Munro tries to wriggle out of his mistatement that the new Baptist Meeting House was being erected on land given by Mr. hear objections raised to these, yet they hear objections raised to these, yet they stand on the same footing as a Temperance Society. A man might say with equal truth that these Societies are usurping the functions of the Church in practice, unless our whole system were revolutionized, and all our people become perfect in duty and practice. If this were a millennial period, and there were no tares with the wheat, it might be done. But it is absurd to think that the Church is this sale.

Murro says, "the truth must be defended under any circumstances." Here is what the boy says about it:—

I hereby state that I was never engaged by any religious body to light the fires in, or take care of the School in District No. 1\(\frac{1}{2}\) Derby. I never was paid for any services connected with said school except by the Trustees. WM. MURPHY.
