SPORTING MATTERS

FOOTBALL

MARATHONS VS. U. N. B.

A good game of football is scheduled for this afternoon. The U. N. B. team will meet the Marathons on the Victoria grounds at four o'clock. Both teams are in good condition and the game will be keenly contested. This is the first game with an outside team that has been played here this season and there should be a good turnout to witness it.

MATCHES ON SATURDAY

The local football league came to a close on Saturday afternoon. Both games resulted in a tie, the Carletons and St. Peter's both being unable to score; the Marathons and Beavers each scoring three points. The games were both fast, that between the Marathons and Beavers being the best game of any during the season.

MONCTON AND U. N. B.

MONCTON, N. B., Nov. 4.—Playing in a cold, drizzling rain on a field rendered soft and mushy by three days' rain, and its depressions filled in places with water to a depth of six inches, the football teams of U. N. B. and Moncton fought to a tie on Saturday afternoon, neither side scoring, but the collegians being forced to touch for safety several times. The game was hard fought, but the weather and other attending conditions made good football impossible.

HORTON ACADEMY DEFEAT ACADIA FRESHMEN.

WOLFVILLE, Nov. 1.—The annual football match between the freshmen of Acadia College and Horton Academy took place this afternoon. The ground was soft, but the game was fast from start to finish, with no scoring until the last ten minutes of the game, when E. Eaton by a clever rush took the ball over the line, scoring three points for the Freshmen. The game ended without further scoring.

HARD ON BOOKIES.

TORONTO, Nov. 4.—Bookmakers and others interested in the betting at Woodbine received an unpleasant surprise on Saturday when three out of five judges of the court of appeal upheld a conviction in the police court against J. S. Saunders and others for conducting common gaming houses at Woodbine race track. The decision will, of course, be taken to the Supreme court although had the court of appeal been unanimous, this resort would have been cut off and betting at Woodbine would have been declared dead.

"Questions submitted by the magistrate should be answered in the affirmative and conviction affirmed" is the judgment of Chief Justice Moss, and this is concurred in by Justice MacLaren and Oiler, Chief Justice Meredith and Justice Garraw dissent.

BISHOP MARCH, OF HARBOR GRACE, CONSECRATED

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., Nov. 4.—Rev. John March, aged 42, rector of the Catholic Cathedral at Harbor Grace, was consecrated today, Bishop of Harbor Grace diocese, succeeding Bishop McDonald, recently resigned, owing to ill health, after 25 years in the episcopate. Archbishop Howley, of St. John's, consecrated Rev. March, Bishop McDonald and Moncal of St. George's assisting. Bishop McDonald also received the insignia creating him titular Archbishop of Gortyna, an honorary dignity conferred by the Pope upon his retirement.

ANOTHER ITALIAN MURDER.

EVERETT, Mass., Nov. 4.—The police tonight were searching for Michael Peracore, an Italian living at 71 Wellington street, who was charged by witnesses with having fatally stabbed Juan Orilano, aged 22, at the home of the latter, 25 Cross street. According to the police, the two men quarrelled at night and Orilano slipped Peracore's face. After that knives were drawn and, when a physician arrived, about an hour later, Orilano was dead. The medical examiner expressed the opinion, after examining the body that had been kept in the police station, that the wounded man sooner, it might possibly have saved his life.

WILL COBALT ORE GO DOWN DEEP?

Dr. Robert Bell, the Geologist, Thinks It Likely There Will be Good Depth.

COBALT, Nov. 4.—Dr. Robert Bell, F. R. S., the distinguished chief geologist of Canada is at present in the Cobalt camp.

Dr. Robert Bell is one of the most able geologists of the day, and has travelled the belt of Huronian rocks, which stretches from the eastern limits of Lake Superior far beyond Abitibi. In the year 1895 this eminent student of mother earth travelled through the Cobalt area, or, practically so, and in the report of his investigations said in effect: "I have demonstrated that there exists in this region a belt of mineral-bearing Huronian rocks greater in extent than any other in Canada, and I propose to call it the Great Belt."

Had the hint thus given been taken thirty-one years ago the probabilities are that the Cobalt area would have been known a generation since but unfortunately for that generation this clue was not followed up, but its repetition has instead attended on the future of the present and not the past generation.

Being interviewed on the subject of Cobalt and its mineralization, the question was put to Dr. Bell as to the depth he thought the deposits would extend, or rather, whether he thought the veins of Cobalt would be permanent in the future.

"There are zones of assuring existing in the Cobalt area of such a character as to lead me to believe that they have deep-seated source."

"Is it not true, Dr. Bell, that the high-grade silver ores in the camp being found in the greenstone would indicate that the cobalt veins have a tendency to increase in value with depth rather than to diminish?"

"I scarcely think we know enough yet to decide that. It is not a fact, doctor, that the level of the earth's surface previous to the glacial period was higher than at present time, and that in consequence these outcroppings at the surface have been eroded by this great agency to a considerable depth."

"Probably that was so."

"Then, would it not seem strange that these veins had been ground down for an area covering about sixteen square miles, and that this erosion had taken place at the point of these veins?"

"I should think that such would be highly probable."

"Then you think that it is reasonable to suppose that Cobalt has a great future before it?"

"From the evidence to date it would appear so."

Trouble further conversation with Dr. Bell your correspondent learned that he is deeply impressed with the potentialities of this wonderfully mineralized area, and takes no little pride in it from the fact that this great area—that is the whole area stretching north from Lake Superior to Hudson's Bay—was his special study for many years, a district in which he has always taken great interest, and at this date has the satisfaction of seeing his views appreciated.

FIRE RAGING IN SPRINGHILL MINE

The Company Decides to Abandon No. 3 and Seal It Up.

SPRINGHILL, N. S., Nov. 4.—The condition of the Springhill collieries has turned out to be more serious than was feared. The fire area in No. 3 mine is found to be so far advanced that the management and the government inspectors of mines have decided that it can only be completely isolated, and the mine rendered safe by sealing up the whole of the 2,600 foot level and all the workings places of the 3,000 foot level.

The haulage plant, rails, tools and everything in this part of the mine have had to be abandoned. It means also the loss of a very large body of coal. The company will replace all lost tools and they also announce their intention within a few days, of placing every man at work in other sections of the mine.

It will take about two weeks to completely seal up the fire sections by completely building solid brick walls. In the meantime the isolation has been made as complete as possible by use of boards and canvas.

The area that will be thus sealed and abandoned are very considerable. On the 2,600 foot level, a section half a mile long by 600 feet wide, is gone; on the 3,000 foot level a section three-quarters of a mile long by 400 feet wide, is sealed, and the two districts comprise very valuable producing portions of the colliery.

The company will keep the men at work night and day in the remaining portions of the mine, both in the raising of coal and the development of new sections, and in course of a comparatively short time the colliery will likely be producing as much coal as ever.

The total number of employees, men and boys, at the Springhill collieries, is 1,700, and the pay-roll amounts to between $35,000 and $40,000 every fortnight. The fire in the No. 3 mine, which was sealed, and while the fire is diminishing, it is still in existence in that portion of the mine.

FOOTBALL PLAYERS AT THE YORK.

The Pollard Co. presented "In Town" to a large and appreciative audience on Saturday night. The entertainment given by the juveniles was indeed pleasing.

As an impromptu celebration of the closing of the football league season, in which the Marathons won the cup, a number of the members of the club attended the performance. Headed by the president, Frank White, and the honorary president, Mayor Sears, the members walked in a body and occupied the first three rows of seats in the theatre. The colors of the Marathons—red and grey, were much in evidence.

During the evening bouquets were presented to Eva, Ivy and Daphne Pollard. The bouquets bore red and grey streamers.

The company was probably inspired by the presence of the athletic organization, and gave one of the finest performances yet seen.

MONCTON INDIAN KILLED BY LIQUOR

Thomas Superie Got Full on Thursday and Died in a Clump of Bushes Beside the Railway.

An Indian, named Thomas Abraham Superie, was found dead in a clump of bushes at Humphrey's, near Moncton, on November 3rd. The coroner's inquest resulted in a verdict of death from exposure while drunk. Superie and several other Indians were in Moncton last Thursday and drank plenty of the fire water. Superie and another Indian, named Peters, stayed in Moncton, drinking all day. In the evening they started to walk back to their camp, near Humphrey's. When they got to Humphrey's they were directed to their camp by a man who was passing. After going as far as the crossing of the Buctouche and I. C. R. Superie sat down on the track and would not go any further. His companion then proceeded by himself and reached camp all right. Some Indians went out to look for Superie, when he did not return within a reasonable time, but did not find him. They thought he might have gone back to Moncton but enquires there failed to find him. A search was then made along the track, which resulted in the finding of the Indian's body in a clump of bushes.

The Indian was sixty years old and belonged to Richmond Bay, P. E. I. At the inquest it came out in the evidence that the Indians could procure liquor anywhere as long as they had the price.

The verdict of the jury strongly censured those people from whom the Indians had procured the liquor.
