Will Press Cause of Suffrage In House

Woman Suffrage Association Prepares Bill and Petition Endorsed by W. C. T. U.—4000 Signatures Secured.

The Women's Suffrage Association have made arrangements to bring their bill to give women the right to vote before the local legislature at its approaching session. The Woman Suffrage Bill was sent to the legislature some years ago, accompanied by the signatures of 2,000 women of the city of St. John, who believe that the fair sex could exercise the franchise as well as, if not better, than the men. Since that time the suffrage movement has been gaining strength throughout the province, and when the bill is brought up again it will be supported by a petition signed by over 4,000 women in different parts of the province. An impetus to the movement in Canada has been given by the action of the Women's Christian Temperance Union of Canada, which at its last annual convention in Sherbrooke passed a resolution urging the various branches of the union to take up the question, and work for the passage of an act giving the ladies the right to vote. At the quarterly meeting of the St. John County W. C. T. U. held yesterday afternoon, a resolution was adopted unanimously endorsing the bill for woman suffrage, which is to be brought up in the legislature again this year. The meeting was largely attended, and Mrs. Fiske, superintendent of the Equal Rights Department of the organization delivered an interesting address on the question of woman's right to vote.

She pointed out that owing to the change in economic conditions women were now entering the labor market, and that as the political power shaped to a large extent the conditions of labor, it was absolutely necessary for women to have the franchise in order to exercise some influence upon the conditions under which they earned a livelihood. She pointed out the good results which have followed the granting of the vote to women in Australia, New Zealand, and other countries, not only in the way of improving the conditions under which women labored, but in serving the cause of temperance and promoting other reforms in which men and women were jointly interested. She called attention to the good results in Colorado, where the women on receiving the franchise immediately addressed the legislature, giving an interesting account of the progress of the temperance movement, referring to the bill providing for provincial prohibition recently presented to the local government, and urging the union to use their best endeavors to assist in securing the adoption of the bill. A resolution endorsing the Prohibition Bill was adopted unanimously.

She also pointed out how much the women voters of New Zealand had done to promote the cause of temperance in that advanced country. She urged her hearers to give their undivided support to the bill to be sent to the legislature, and write to the representatives of the city and county asking them to vote for the passage of the bill. C. Fraser McTavish, of the St. John County Temperance Federation, also addressed the meeting, giving an interesting account of the progress of the temperance movement, referring to the bill providing for provincial prohibition recently presented to the local government, and urging the union to use their best endeavors to assist in securing the adoption of the bill. A resolution endorsing the Prohibition Bill was adopted unanimously.

CLOSING OF SUNDAY SCHOOL INSTITUTE

Last Night's Meetings in Centenary and Douglas Ave. Churches Addressed by Local Pastors.

The Sunday School Institutes being held throughout the week in the city came to a close last evening when meetings were held in Centenary Methodist church and in Douglas Avenue Christian church. In Centenary church Rev. H. Porter presided and the speakers were Rev. J. H. A. Anderson, who spoke of "Jesus as Teacher"; Rev. W. A. Ross, whose subject was "Some essentials of teaching"; and Rev. W. Camp, who gave the closing address on the teacher's spiritual preparation. In his address on essentials in teaching, Mr. Ross laid the emphasis upon three essentials, viz suggestion, expression and graded instruction. Good teaching is suggestive and stimulates the thought, the will the emotions. Suggestion came through the personality of the teacher, through the surroundings of the pupil, the hymns and program, as well as through the truth taught. The idea seeks expression in conduct. An impression unexpressed dies out of the life. To translate thought into character and conduct is the great aim. Goodness in action is the only goodness. The instruction must be adapted to the pupil. Give the boy the Bible for boys. Rev. Mr. Camp based his remarks upon the words of Mark speaking of Jesus—"And he ordained twelve that they should be with Him and that He might send them forth to preach." With the Master, the disciples learned how to live, how to pray, how to present the word of life, how to approach and win souls. These are the essentials in the teacher's spiritual preparation today and they are to be gained in the same way—in fellowship with the Master. In Douglas Avenue Christian church Rev. Gordon Dickie spoke upon The Religious Background of the Gospels. He said in part: "People get the impression that the Jews of Jesus' day were not religious. They crucified our Lord. Against their religious leaders Jesus hurled some of His strongest denunciations. But as a matter of fact they were a very religious people according to this, our tradition. The religious life of the time of the Gospels embraced two elements, the ritualistic and the legalistic, the former represented by the Sadducees, the latter more the Pharisees, the former aristocratic, the latter more theocratic; the former with strong faith in temporal, the latter in spiritual powers. In the time of Herod, the Pharisees prospered, which meant that legalism replaced ritualism, the teaching of the law superseded sacrifice. Against both legalism and ritualism Jesus set His face. He opposed the closed religious organization, established no church, gave no ritual, taught men that God is Spirit. Dr. Hutchinson speaking of the spiritual preparation of the Sunday school teacher set forth that a sincere love for the Saviour must lie behind all genuine interest and love for the work. It is the Christian worker's privilege to be filled with the Holy Spirit by whose power alone the word spoken becomes a life message. The teacher should wait on God in prayer after all other preparations until he gets his message in the lesson. Above all else, he needs to have, like his Master, a "passion for souls."

POSSIBILITIES FOR THE COMMISSION

Labor Men Busy Looking for a Suitable Candidate—New Names May Appear in Contest.

George N. Breen, formerly secretary of the Carpenters' Union, and one of the best known men in the local labor movement, is mentioned as a possible candidate for the commission on the labor party ticket. An influential section of the labor party favor the nomination of Herman Campbell of the Typographical Union, but it said Mr. Campbell will not accept a nomination. W. W. Allingham is also mentioned as a probable candidate in the labor interests. While the only candidates who have definitely announced that they will be in the fight are members of the present council, street rumors mention the names of quite a number who are said to be sizing up the situation with a view to connecting with the $3,000 job. Dr. J. Manning's friends have been urging him to run, and street gossip says that the doctor has been conducting a canvass with a view to sizing up his chances. John Thornton of the North End announced some time ago that he might run, and Arthur Adams was mentioned as a candidate a while back. One of the men the commission would like to put in the field is W. F. Burditt. There is little doubt that Mr. Burditt would be elected, as he is possessed of abilities of the kind needed by a civic administrator, and is a man of large vision and high ideals, but it is said he will not consider the offer of a nomination.

It is the intention of the executive to use part of this season's drill pay to procure a woodboat so that the members of the club can go sailing without getting drowned.

You can forget all about them. If they are not right, they are continually reminding you, they need attention. Slight headaches, eyes tiring quickly when reading, or sewing, weak eyes, these are some of the gentle hints you would do well to heed. If you neglect these, more insistent demands are made for relief from eyestrain and there is greater difficulty in relieving the trouble. Better attend to the matter at once.
