BIG LIST OF ENTRIES
FOR CHATHAM HORSE RACES

Chatham, N. B., Sept. 12.—The entries for the Chatham horse races have all come in and a fine field of horses is due to take part in the speed contests on the Maritime's fastest track, Wednesday and Thursday, Sept. 24 and 25. The entry list is the biggest that the association has secured for years, and prospects are bright for a return of the old time racing enthusiasm that has made the Chatham track a famous one in the Maritime Provinces. In one event, the 223 trot, and pace, there are twelve entries, and in two others, there are ten to eight entries respectively. CRACK PLAYERS WHO WILL TAKE PART IN NATIONAL GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP

MR. F. HERKESHOFF.

Only slightly short of the number of players that started at Apawamis two years ago, the field entered for the national amateur golf championship at Garden City, L. I., is large enough to justify the action of the Executive Committee in reverting to the old conditions of play.

For the third consecutive year there

Stanley Ketchel, one of the greatest middleweights in ring history, was born on a farm near Grand Rapids, Mich., twenty-six years ago Sunday, Sept. 14, 1887. A magnificent memorial now marks his last resting place in the Polish cemetery near his birthplace. The monument, which cost in the neighborhood of $5,000, is built of Vermont marble and granite and stands over twelve feet in height, with a base six by eight feet. The shaft was erected by Col. R. P. Dickerson of Springfield, Mo., on whose ranch the middleweight king was shot and killed. Dickerson and Ketchel's mother were playmates in their childhood, when the pugilist's family were tenants on a farm owned by Dickerson's father. The Missouri ranchman was an enthusiastic admirer of the son of his boyhood playmate and, it is said, has spent over $15,000 in straightening out Ketchel's affairs, erecting the monument and avenging the fighter's death.

MADE IN 1870 STILL GOING STRONG IN 1912

"Extract from letter 1-7-12.
"This gun was bought by my grandfather in 1870, and has been in my family for three generations, and I hope it may start the training of another generation. It has been used all over the world on all kinds of game with Shot and Ball, a great part of its life has been spent Wildfowling, and you know what that means.
"It has been seized as contraband of War, and through all this, it has been a never failing good servant."
The quality of a GREENER GUN is remembered long after its price is forgotten.

JOE PAGE
FINDS EXTRA
GOOD PITCHER

(Montreal Herald.)
Canada possesses a great many promising young ball players. Players who, with a little more experience, will be capable of making good in the major leagues within a very short time. Such is the opinion of Joe Page, a well known local baseball promoter, who at the present time is engaged as a scout for the Chicago American League club. Page has been looking over the ground in the west. In fact, he has just returned home to the city from an extended tour out west, and states that he was greatly surprised at the class of ball played in many of the western cities. "They have quite a number of promising players out west," said Page, "and I expect that the west will very shortly prove a regular hunting ground for the big leagues."

"Yes, I saw a few games of baseball out west," said Page, "and was surprised at the class of ball the teams out there are putting up. They have several fast men, who, with a little more experience, I expect to see in the major leagues within a very short time."

"The most promising ball player I saw was a young fellow who was playing for the Revelstoke club team. I journeyed to the game and sat in the grand stand to see just what kind of ball the teams played. This young fellow was selected to do the twirling for the Revelstoke team, and after the game had gone five innings I was greatly impressed by his work. His name is George Webb, and during the contest he fanned no less than eleven of the opposing swatters. He had speed and very fine curves, and looked a good prospect for the big leagues.
"When the game was over I immediately got into touch with the young twirler and have secured his signature to a contract for the Chicago American League Club. He has accepted my terms and will take part in the spring practice next season."

The mare has had three starts this season, winning first money in the 214 class, Houlton, Me., on July 4th; winning the same class at Houlton on July 12, and bringing first money to St. John in the 215 class at Halifax exhibition last week. The mare starts again at Fredericton exhibition on Tuesday next in the 214 pace and no doubt will give a good account of herself. It is understood after her start at Fredericton she is to be offered for sale and it is hoped that the St. John horsemen will not let the mare leave the province, as her particular quality for gameness and racing are at present few and far between.

LAURA MERRILL TO BE SOLD

It has been learned with much regret that the dean of horse racing in this vicinity is about to retire from the game after many years of active service in the person of Fred Duncan of Fairville. Fred has been the most prominent representative of St. John on the race tracks far and near for many years, and has during past years owned many of the very fast pace and no doubt will give a good account of himself. It is understood after her start at Fredericton she is to be offered for sale and it is hoped that the St. John horsemen will not let the mare leave the province, as her particular quality for gameness and racing are at present few and far between.

"Well I hope we do not stay country so long that I will vote." The speaker stood about in his low shoes and spoke thin treble voice. He was a fashionable clothed with a soft crush hat on his little head, a light bamboo cane. The Standard man, to whom mark was addressed, gasped, took a second look at the visitor, said "Where do you vote?" "In New Jersey" was the reply.

"Oh, then you come from the state as President Wilson," the reporter.
"Yes," answered the little man. "I don't think so much about for I don't believe he can del goods, and besides, I am a can."

What do you know about a three foot high Republican, a sure bet, that his weekly hope would make more six John men look like the champion thirty cents, when they come to the ability with the mild had just spoken.

It was on Tuesday afternoon present week that Manager of the Opera House came into office and asked if he might be old West around to meet the young gentlemen who thought members of the Pink Lady party how to play baseball.

"Yes, bring him along," the sporting editor, "all Harold is to me." And Harold came to result as stated above.

Harold West is the long stage of mothering for he is to the official statistician of the House on the occasion of the tations of "The Newyeds, a Baby"—for Harold was the baby it is on record that so cute was more than one impressionable woman expressed a desire to him.

The date on Tuesday was four o'clock, but at that time Kelly appeared with the intent that he could not find the man went to a picture show and the last I saw of him," said the manager. Just then the door opened and the curio ped out followed by a host of men from the Standard eleven.

"Where have you been," Kelly, "I could not find you, I sent to the Nickel but you been there."

"Oh, we had a little game said the "baby" and the quicker than we thought." "You know what Jerome playing poker," said one of "Yes, and I hope he gets it I don't like that man" was er.

Pressed to talk about him West said he had been seven the stage. "When I was fifty picked out from a number cents to play Buster Brown same people I am with now, and I must have made good they staged the Newyeds, me for the kid," and I've ever since."
