WEDDINGS.
 Moore-Osbourn.
 Penobscot, Aug. 8.—A wedding of much local interest took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. W. Osbourn on Wednesday afternoon of this week when their eldest daughter, Miss Christiana, became the bride of Stewart Edward Moore, Mechanic's Settlement, lately returned from overseas where he has been serving with the 24th N. B. Battalion. The bride, who was dressed in her travelling suit of navy blue serge, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Prof. Oliver of New-town and stood beneath an arch of ported plants, sweet peas and nasturtiums. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Geo. B. McDonald of Sussex. After the ceremony a dainty supper was served to about 30 invited

Exercising Her New Woman's Right

Mrs. Hiram Hornbeam, Has Returned from Ottawa—Attended the Liberal Convention and Tells What She Thinks of it.

"I have been exercising my new woman's right, thanks to Hon. Mr. Foster," said Mrs. Hiram Hornbeam, who returned from Ottawa on Saturday. "And I'm mighty glad the convention selected a young leader. I don't want to attend another Liberal convention in this world, and I'm sure there'll be no Liberal gatherings in the next—tany rate where I'm going."

"What did I think of the convention? Well, now, I don't mind telling you, I never saw a finer looking lot of four-fushers gathered together in one place. The grand old Liberal party may not run very much to my brains, but it has plenty of good looks. I'm not referring to the fact that I was there, or a few hundred other handsome ladies I'm talking about the equality of rights and opportunities for women. There were good looking fellows. But the dearest and cutest looking lad of the lot was Mackenzie King. All the time I was rooted for him and you couldn't blame them. Every time I watched him putting himself on exhibition I was that tickled I could have taken him over my knee and used my slipper on his anatomy."

"But I reckon that boy King is not so quiet as he looks, and I tell you he's got a fine bunch of four-fushers around him. That convention manufactured a lot of not air, and that's one line of manufacturing for which I'm sure we don't need a protection tariff. Not on your life. They gave us some talk about the equality of rights and opportunities for women. But there wasn't a single smoking room for ladies, though there was plenty for men. What do you know about that? Another thing. The candidates were all mighty Liberal handling out cigars to the mere male delegates, but not one of them offered me a cigarette."

"But I must say the convention was a great victory for prohibition. We ladies got a resolution through with colors flying, and then most of the delegates went to Hull. Tany rate when it came to voting for the leadership half of them were missing. Some say Mr. Rowell kidnapped them and others say he took the lid off Ottawa for the occasion. I don't know. The intricacies of high politics are beyond me. But I'm pretty sure most of the delegates didn't mind voting for prohibition. It being hot, I used to faint away about every half hour, and I'm proud to say there was always a Liberal handy with a silver flask to revive me."

"Howsoever it was an experience. I never heard so much fine talk about what might happen since they had that there campaign for commission form of government in St. John which was hatched by my Liberal friends in St. John, and shows how grand a cape city they don't have for government."

She Was Worried About Her Daughter

Mrs. Belyea Almost Despaired of Saving Marjorie—"It Hardly Seems Possible for a Medicine To Do What Tanlac Has Done for Her."

"The change I have seen take place in our little twelve year old daughter's condition during the past few weeks certainly seems wonderful and makes me want to tell everybody about Tanlac," said Mrs. Spafford B. Belyea, who resides at 173 Millidge Avenue, St. John, when the Tanlac representative, who had heard of the remarkable case, called recently to ascertain the facts.

"We really feel," continued Mrs. Belyea, "that Tanlac has saved Marjorie's life. What it has done for her seems almost like a miracle. For more than a year she had suffered from stomach trouble and was in such terrible pain at times that she would just scream. She had no appetite and could not eat anything without just suffering agony from the gas on her stomach. She would have such acute pains in her stomach at times that she would almost go into convulsions. When these spells came on I would just have to take her in my arms and it looked like she would die. Really, it was awful to see her suffer like she did and I was worried about her so I just could not sleep. She was under treatment four different times and we gave her every kind of medicine we could think of—even had an X-ray picture of her stomach—but she got worse in spite of every means we tried and we just felt like she couldn't live much longer."

"We finally decided to try Tanlac, having read how it had helped others, although we had little faith in it to help her. But we got a bottle any way, being so anxious to do everything possible, and to our great surprise and delight she soon began to get better. Before she finished the first bottle she was eating heartily and seemed to digest her food perfectly. She never complains of the least pain in her stomach now and while she has just finished her second bottle of Tanlac she seems to be as well as she ever was in her life. She runs and plays with the other children, something she hasn't done in more than a year, and she eats just anything she wants and enjoys it. It hardly seems possible that a medicine could do so much for one in so short a time. We never let an opportunity to tell what Tanlac has done for Marjorie go by. We think it is the greatest medicine in the world and ought to be in every home."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by Ross Drug Co., 17 W. Main under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative.—Adv.

WOODSTOCK BOY Scouts Here Today

Five Boys Who Have Hiked from Woodstock Are Expected to Arrive in the City This Morning—Coming to Meet the Prince.

After walking about one hundred and fifty miles to see the Prince, five boys from Woodstock are expected to arrive in the city this morning and will remain here until after the celebration on Friday and Saturday of this week. These boys, Randolph K. Jones, aged 17, leader; Jack Whitehead, 17; Turley Whitehead, 14; Alan Turney, 14 and John Manzer, 14, all members of No. 1 troop of Boy Scouts, Woodstock, wanting to be in St. John during the celebration for the soldiers and visit of the Prince, and also desirous of taking a hike, decided to combine the two and walk from their homes to this city.

They left home on Saturday, August 2, and that evening made Meductic, a distance of thirteen miles; on Sunday they reached the Barony, a walk of sixteen miles; they stayed there until Wednesday afternoon and from that until bedtime made about fifteen miles, stopping near Oromocto. Yesterday proved to be wet and they had to stay in the barn in which they spent the night, all day, leaving bright and early Friday morning. That day they made their big walk reaching Queenstown, a distance of twenty-seven miles; the next day, Saturday, they made Brown's Plains, covering twenty-two miles that day. Yesterday evening about seven o'clock they passed through Hillside, and expected to make South Bay for the night, making their day's hike about eighteen miles, and this morning they expect to finish the journey into the city.

The boys are dressed in the regulation scout costume and carry blankets and cooking outfit with them. They have been sleeping in barns along the road and purchasing their grub from farmhouses on the way. They look in the best of health and say they are having the time of their lives.

Angry Attack On The Highway Policy

Made on Veniot-Foster Government by the St. Croix Courier — Unsatisfactory Highway Between Border and N. B. Metropolis.

An angry attack on the highway policy of the Veniot-Foster government-by-chance is made by the St. Croix Courier, which accuses that policy of ignoring the rights of the people's elected representatives and being responsible for the unsatisfactory highway between the border and the N. B. metropolis. It says: "Charlotte county roads continue to occupy considerable attention in the press of the province and perhaps rightly so, for mostly we haven't any roads. In the many years when the 'county members' had something to say concerning the expenditure of the money of the people, the roads of the county received attention at the expense of the government and the people had some idea of where the money was expended. But not so now. Charlotte county expressed no confidence in the present rulers of the province, and the present rulers of the province, mostly from the 'North Shore,' take pains to express no confidence in the people of Charlotte county. That is why the expenditure of their money is placed in the hands of a few people in whom the people have no confidence at least in no real sense. A man who is the people who pay the money have had to sit by and watch their money being frittered away on political favorites and on a few miles of highway, while many other miles of road have no reason to believe that there is anybody to contribute or to expend money for roads."

Road to St. John.

"That is why a highway between the border and the metropolis of the province remains a thing just talked about and in no way realized. A good highway should exist between the border town where tourists have entrance to the province, and the important shire town, and this was recognized in the construction of a splendid and extended section of road out from St. Stephen by the old government. The new government continued this but made its first mistake when, to cater to political friends in the shire town it undertook to continue that road as the highway between St. Stephen and St. John. Ever since the Veniot-Foster government-by-chance has been pouring out its dollars, or the dollars of the people through the hands of its imaginary highway experts without at any time consulting the chosen representatives of the people, and the result is only confusion and more confusion. Now Brunswick suffers because those placed in authority by chance will not consult those elected by the people who have their habitation in Charlotte county."
