

SERIOUS FIRE AT CHATHAM

Northumberland Garage and Other Buildings Burned.

Chatham, Aug. 9.—Fire which broke out shortly before 8 o'clock this morning, on the premises of the Northumberland garage, Duke street, in one hour, immediately demolished that building, a two-story blacksmith shop next door, occupied by A. K. Cole, the barn of the Kerr property on the other side while the Kerr house is gutted and several barns and out-buildings in the centre of the block were more or less damaged. The fire started in an auto on the garage premises, about which the men were working, and before it could be moved to safety had caught the building and almost in a minute the whole front was a mass of flames. In three minutes time the flames had eaten their way into the Cole shop next door and all that Mr. Cole could save was his books.

The loss to the Northumberland garage included stock and equipment and the second hand cars amounted to between $5,000 and $10,000. The building belongs to G. H. Lennestrom of Moncton. In the garage at the time were several cars. Dr. McKenzie, of Loggieville, lost his runabout with no insurance on it. Martin W. Lamagan, a practically new Ford car, with no insurance, while the car belonging to the Orlando Cigar Company also went into the flames. The fireman made a splendid fight, the total damage will reach about $25,000, partly covered by insurance.

THE EXHIBITION ASSURED SUCCESS

Manager Charles Robinson, of the Exhibition Association is surely on the job, and might have been seen about the city getting in line work in advertising. The team he was driving was discarded, and while certain parts of the city are not decorated with the advertising it is not the manager's fault. Out of town districts and in fact every village in the province throughout New Brunswick and Nova Scotia is well billed.

There will undoubtedly be an overflow of travel to St. John for Exhibition week, and to look after these visitors Manager Robinson requests all householders who can look after boarders to communicate with him. Rooms with and without board are desirable.

Police Court Cases Yesterday

The police court took on a decidedly pre-referendum-like appearance yesterday, when eleven prisoners faced the magistrate on the weekly opening of his court.

Eight drunks pleaded guilty and were all fined $5 to two months in jail. Thomas Hayes, arrested on the double charge of being drunk and having liquor in his possession, was fined $5 on the first charge, while the second charge was allowed to stand pending investigation.

Cyril Kane and Robert McEachern were arrested by Police Constable Gibb and Sergeant Journey at 1:45 Sunday morning, charged with lying and lurking in a yard off Portland street. Kane was also charged with having liquor in his possession at the time of his arrest, to which he pleaded not guilty. When asked about the bottle, he said it did not have liquor in it, but cylinder oil.

John Sharkey, aged forty-one years, who said he came from Quebec, was arrested in the morning by Sergeant Hamilton, charged with violating the provisions of the Beer and Wine Act and not being able to give a satisfactory account of himself.

Hyman Taylor was also arrested by Detectives Donahue and Bidiscombe on a warrant charging him with receiving stolen goods, knowing them to be stolen. His case is adjourned till Wednesday at 12 o'clock.

BOSTON TRAIN LATE.
The Boston express was forty minutes late in arriving in the city this morning.

What Kind of Blood Have You?

Thin, Pale and Watery—Keeping You Weak, Nervous and Run-Down or Rich, Red, Healthy Blood With Plenty of Iron In It To Give You Strength, Energy, Power and Endurance

Physician says Iron is Red Blood Food Explains How Nuxated Iron Helps Give Renewed Vim and Energy to Men and Puts Roses Into the Cheeks of Women

If you are weak, if you look pale, haggard and worn, if you feel generally weak, nervous and run-down, if you would probably stand by to look at a drop of your own blood under a powerful microscope and compare it with a drop of pure, healthy blood—rich in iron. Actual blood tests show that a tremendously large number of people who are weak and ill lack iron in their blood and that they are ill for no other reason than lack of iron. Iron deficiency paralyzes healthy, energetic action, pulls down the whole organism and weakens the entire system.

There are thousands whose bodies are ageing and breaking down at a time when they should be enjoying that perfect bodily health which eradicates disease simply because they are not awake to the condition of their blood. By allowing it to remain thin, pale and watery they are not giving the natural life forces of the body a chance to do their work. Yet others go through life apparently possessing, year after year, the elasticity, the strength and the energy of earlier years, for through their bodies courses the energy and power that comes from their blood. By allowing it to remain thin, pale and watery they are not giving the natural life forces of the body a chance to do their work.

Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength and blood-builder by over four million people annually, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.), New York, and the Westchester County Hospital, said: "Modern methods of cooking and the rapid pace at which people of this country live has made such an alarming increase in iron deficiency in the blood of American men and women that I have often marvelled at the large number of people who lack iron in the blood—and who never suspect the cause of their weak, nervous, run-down state. Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that vital force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life. It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anemic, run-down patients. 'Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real cause of their ailment. Notwithstanding all that has been said and written on this subject by well-known physicians, thousands of people still insist in dosing themselves with metallic iron, simply because it costs a few cents less. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble, then purchase only Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name (Nuxated Iron) appears on the package.'

Dr. H. B. Vail, formerly Physician in the Baltimore Hospital and a Medical Examiner, says: "Throughout my experience on Hospital staffs and as a Medical Examiner, I have been astonished at the number of patients who have vainly doctored for various diseases, when in reality their illness was simply the result of iron deficiency. Time and again I have prescribed organic iron—Nuxated Iron—and surprised patients at the rapidity with which the weakness and general debility was replaced by a renewed feeling of strength and vitality. I took Nuxated Iron myself to build me up after a serious case of nervous exhaustion. The effects were apparent after a few days and within three weeks I had virtually revitalized my whole system and put me in a superb physical condition."

Mr. Jackson has been a resident of Newcastle for the past six years, and during the war was in charge of the Wireless Station here. He is a competent electrician, and previous to coming to Newcastle from his home in Montreal, he was with the Canadian General Electric Co. Mr. Jackson has taken a keen interest in every good movement that was for the interest of Newcastle during his sojourn here, and will be much missed in musical and social circles. His large circle of friends on the Miramichi wish him a long career in the new position he has accepted as superintendent of our sister town's important department.

INTERNATIONAL CHAMBER OF COMMERCE GETS GOOD

Organization is Expected to Have Beneficial Make for Beter and More Cordial Relations Business Men of Various Nations.

(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic News Service.)

By HENRY W. FRANCIS.

Paris, August 9.—Many obstacles stand in the way of American-European trade-will vanish, American business men here believe, and for the first time in the history of American export trade a broad, comprehensive understanding between buyer and seller will be brought about as a result of formation here of the International Chamber of Commerce. Men of prominence in the trade and finance of five countries, including a group of American capitalists and industrial leaders devoted their thought to the many ways to the formation of the new body.

Boston business men played an important part in the work of the reformed allied business congress and in the reworking organization of the Chamber. Among Bostonians who contributed to the discussions were E. A. Filena, representing the Boston Chamber of Commerce; Joseph P. Touchette, a Boston manufacturer; F. A. Calnan, who represented the American Chamber of Commerce at Milan, Italy, and John H. Folsom, representing the Boston Chamber of Commerce, formerly President of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

One of the most active participants in the organizing of the new body was U. L. Alexander of the National Council Association, of Washington. Others who participated in the discussions were L. B. Gillette, President of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States; Albert D. Graham, President of the Baltimore Chamber of Commerce; J. E. Crane, of the Wilmington (Del.) Chamber of Commerce; Albert Herbert, of the World Metric Standardization Council of Washington; George R. Humphreys, of the Merchants' and Manufacturers' Association of Baltimore.

One of the most active participants in the work of organizing the new body was F. W. Clifford, representing the City and Commerce Association of Minneapolis; others were John E. Vanderlip, of Minneapolis, W. L. Tedford, of the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce; Clarence H. Howard, of St. Louis; Paul W. Brown, St. Louis; D. B. Farabee, St. Louis; William F. Faby, St. Louis; Theodore Gary, of Kansas City Chamber of Commerce.

The constitution of the International Chamber states that the organization's purpose is to facilitate the commercial intercourse of nations, to secure harmony of action on all international questions affecting commerce and industry and to promote peace, progress and cordial relations among countries and their citizens by the cooperation of business men and their organizations devoted to the development of commerce and industry.

The new body is described in the constitution as "a confederation of the main economic forces of the countries included in its membership, united in each country by a national organization." It will have national and international headquarters, will be governed by an elected Board of Directors, each director to serve one, two or three years. The directorate will consist of three persons chosen from each of the five foundation countries, Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy and the United States, and of directors who may later be chosen from other countries whose contribution shall have been admitted to membership.

As to membership qualifications the constitution provides: (1) "National and local commercial, financial and industrial organizations which are representative of the interests they embrace, which are not constructed for individual profit or partisan purposes, and which are established in countries which may from time to time be designated by the Board of Directors are eligible for organizational membership." (2) "Individuals, firms and corporations engaged in business activities to conduct the organizations of which are eligible to membership are eligible for associate membership. Daily elected associate members in good standing shall be entitled to attend the general meetings and, subject to the rules of such meetings shall have the privileges of the floor, but may not vote. They may receive publications issued by the International Chamber of Commerce." (3) "Organization or associate members of each national organization may be elected organization or associate members of the International Chamber if they fulfil the following conditions: (a) To be proposed for election by the national organization of the country. (b) To be accepted by the Board of Directors of the International Chamber.

In countries where no single recognized business organization exists, it is provided that a national committee, truly representative of the economic forces of the country, be organized. Such committee will be regarded as the national organization and shall elect directors to the board of the International Chamber. In the case of new countries the same system is to be pursued. The Board of Directors have power to determine what countries shall be eligible to membership; to determine the number of directors to which each country shall be entitled; to determine any question as to eligibility of applicant for associate membership, subject to appeal to the next general meeting; to receive suggestions for subjects for consideration and investigation; to fix the date, time and place of the general meetings; to choose an officer; to fix the compensation for the general secretary; to adopt rules and regulations and decide all routine questions not warranted in general meeting. Upon request of six or more members from at least three countries the chairman will be required to call a meeting of the board.

The Board of Directors will be selected from a list of names proposed by the national organizations of the countries. The Board will be composed of representatives of the five foundation countries, Belgium, France, Great Britain, Italy and the United States, and of representatives of other countries whose contribution shall have been admitted to membership. The Board will be elected for a period of two years and not more than two-thirds of the members shall be eligible for re-election. A general meeting shall be held at least once a year and the president shall be elected for a period of two years and not more than two-thirds of the members shall be eligible for re-election.
