James W. Montgomery. St. Stephen, May 19. (Special)—James W. Montgomery, dry goods merchant, Water street, passed away at 5 o'clock this afternoon at the Andrews Hotel, Calais (Me.), where he had been suffering for several days from an attack of acute indigestion.

Mr. Montgomery was born in Baltimore (Md.) 78 years ago, and from there he went to St. John (N. B.), where he went upwards of fifty years. He was successfully engaged in the clothing and dry goods business, and amassed considerable property. A few years ago Mr. Montgomery sold his brick block in St. John to W. H. Thorne Co., and retired from business for a time, but the call to return to active work was so strong that he decided to locate in this town, and three years ago he opened up a store on Water street.

Some idea of the extent of his business in St. John may be learned from the fact that in buying his European merchandise he made more than 100 trips across the Atlantic.

His wife survives him. Mr. Montgomery's only daughter died some years ago and was buried at Dipper Harbor, and the body of the late Mr. Montgomery will be taken on the N. B. Southern tomorrow afternoon to Dipper Harbor, and will be held there on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Theodore H. Rand. News of the death of Mrs. Theodore H. Rand, which occurred at Wolfville yesterday, will be learned with deep regret by her many friends in St. John. Although she had reached the advanced age of twenty years, Mrs. Rand enjoyed excellent health until recently and her times as a traveling representative, had been up to his home in Kings county on Monday and returned to Moncton on Tuesday. He intended to leave for the country districts, and had intended about 7:30 called at the residence of J. E. Wetmore, proprietor of the Globe Laundry, who was shortly after entering Mr. Wetmore's house, Mr. Ganong complained of a distressed feeling, saying he had had a hearty supper, and was feeling so much that he laid down to rest. After the doctor had been summoned, after the doctor had prescribed for him, Mr. Ganong felt considerably better. About 8:30 however, Mr. Ganong, after having remained to Mr. Wetmore, who was feeling much better, suddenly took a weak spell and collapsed. Doctor MacNaughton was again hastily summoned and the stricken man was still alive when he arrived, but he passed away quietly in a few moments.

Mr. Ganong was about fifty-one years old and born at Long Point, Kings county. He was married to Miss Kierstead, May 24, 1886 and is survived by his wife, one daughter, Jean, at home, and one son, Carey, Western Union operator at Charlottetown.

Dr. Wetmore, an ordained Baptist minister and during his long ministry he held pastorates in many sections of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. On the death of his wife he resigned his ministry and afterwards engaged in traveling representative of several newspapers, among them the Telegraph and Times. The deceased had suffered with his illness for years, but of late he had apparently been feeling much better than for some time past. He was well known throughout the counties of Kings, Westmorland and Albert and many friends will deeply regret the loss of his sudden death, which comes as a severe blow to his family.

Last night the remains were taken in charge by Funeral Director Tuttle, and will be buried in St. Luke's church, at home at Long Point, Kings County, where interment will take place, probably on Thursday.

Monday, May 20.—After a funeral service conducted this afternoon by Rev. G. A. Vincent, pastor of the First Baptist church, the body of the late Rev. E. K. FEAR HIGHWAY BILL WILL BE AN ELECTION CLUB

Liberal Senators Want Government to Amend it So That Money Will be Spent in Provinces According to Population and Not as the Minister of Railways Sees Where it Will Do the Party the Most Good.

Ottawa, May 21.—At the evening sitting of the senate Senator Dandaraud resumed the debate upon the government's measure to grant financial aid toward the construction of highways. He could not understand why the government had not embodied in the bill its promise to have the money divided among the provinces according to population. The promise of the government to so divide could hardly be sufficient to the senate. If this or any other government should fail to carry out the promise the commons might have the remedy of amending the supply bill. The senate could not do that. The only remedy it could have would be to reject the supply bill. There was no construction requirement that the agricultural aid bill should have a provision that the money should be divided between the provinces according to population, because agriculture was a subject with which the Liberal government could deal. The senate could not do that. The only remedy it could have would be to reject the supply bill.
