

2nd house pre-signifies a great prevalence of fraud and robbery, and a declining revenue. Venus and Jupiter in the 3rd house should benefit the railways.

At SAN FRANCISCO, the ingress takes place at 6h. 55.m., p. m., of the 21st. Saturn is in the ascendant, and both Mars and Uranus are near the 4th angle, which positions are indicative of a stormy and trying winter; much sickness and many sudden deaths. Trade will be far from good in the winter quarter. The birth-rate will be high, as Jupiter is in the 5th house and Venus hastening thereto.

Total Eclipse of the Moon January 28th. (Visible in the British Isles.)

There will be many deaths among the great; and in France "great and noble men will be slain," for Saturn is elevated above the Moon and Jupiter.

Mars rising, and less than 7° separated from Uranus, foreshadows danger of foreign war, and of mob violence at home. Precautions should be taken against the dynamitards who are very likely to do mischief at this period.

This figure is very threatening as to earthquakes, which are very likely to cause serious damage to the Riviera, and will be felt in Rome, Sicily, and the south of France. The south of England, Portsmouth and Bristol, are very likely to experience some vibration.

The Sun enters Aries March 20th, at 3h. 55m., a. m.

Jupiter approaching the meridian, and being in his chief dignity, the sign Sagittarius, and within orbs of the trine (120°) aspect with the Sun, promises some beneficial legislation, reform, and some measure of prosperity. It can hardly be expected, however, that fortune will come to us "with both hands full," inasmuch as Saturn is in the 7th house and in square aspect with Mars, and the ascending degree is afflicted by both these malefic planets, from which we may judge that there will be much sickness and a high death-rate during the spring quarter; also many disasters at sea, destructive storms, and weather adverse to the crops and fruits.
