

JUST PUBLISHED, THE PROVINCIAL WESLEYAN ALMANACK, 1860.

ing, and cold enough to make pedestrian exercises agreeable. It appears, however, to have been colder in the United States. Ice of considerable thickness was formed in New York City on the night of the 29th, and on the day following two feet of snow fell at Chateaugay, N. Y., where it was still snowing and drifting. It is about time we were looking for our perils from the north.

New Brunswick. An American vessel, which had just loaded with coal at Hillsborough, was discovered, on Friday morning last, to be on fire, and was scuttled. She keeled over, causing part of her cargo to fall out, and which would have been drifting about Hillsborough. It is supposed that the fire originated from the ignition of Carbonated Hydrogen Gas generated in the vessel's hold.

Mr. Jardine, Esq., Commissioner, in responding to a toast given at the late anti-slavery demonstration, said, 'he hoped to have the road opened all the way to the commencement of next summer, and he was sanguine that it would do more good, inasmuch as from what had already been done, and the whole of the road—the prospect was that in a few years it would yield enough to pay off the debt of the road.'

The St. John Church of October 25th, reports two very distinct shocks of an earthquake in the city that morning. They were of much longer duration than usual; and it is thought that they will have been felt over a greater extent. The same paper states that there was lightning in Fredericton on Sunday, the 22nd ult.

United States. A riot has occurred at Harper's Ferry, Va. A body of men, composed of whites and negroes took possession of the whole town, seized the United States arms and pay office, and undertook to arrest the business men, and to pass the bridge to the north, and to prevent the passage, and did various other extraordinary things. The cause of this riot is not known, but a suggestion is telegraphed that the rioters had absconded, leaving the workmen largely in arrears with their pay, and that in revenge they had formed themselves into an organized force to plunder the U. S. office of the money thought to be there. About one hundred negroes participated in the affair, according to one account, by compulsion. The rioters were armed with rifles and other weapons, and the U. S. Arsenal, obeyed a leader named S. C. Anderson, expected reinforcements, and were well disciplined. Great excitement prevailed at Richmond on account of the news, and the Governor of Virginia had made military preparation to subdue the tumult. The War Department at Washington had sent three companies of troops from Fort Monroe, and a detachment of Marines to quell the riot.

The telegraph and daily press have borne into every corner of the land the tidings of the death of David C. Broderick, United States Senator from California, by the hand of Judge Terry, of the Supreme Court, of the same state. It is the most unfortunate in this case, however, is the strong probability that Broderick was the victim of a conspiracy. He had been a political opponent of his state, and they determined that he must die. It is said that Terry, Gwin and Denver were to call him on in succession until he fell. We have not the means of ascertaining whether this was the case, but Broderick went to California some ten years since, and early entered political life. He bitterly resented the schemes of proslavery men, and we fear, sometimes employed means, not altogether indefensible. He at length secured a seat in the United States Senate as an anti-Leonard democrat, and acquired some celebrity from his reply to the celebrated speech of the proslavery Hamden. He fell at the first fire in a duel with Judge Terry, on the 13th of September, and died on the 16th of the same month.

Latest from Europe. THE ANGLICAN AT QUEBEC. By the steamer Anglo-Saxon, which arrived at Quebec on Sunday last, four days later news from Europe has been received. In England a slight advance in all descriptions of bread stuffs had taken place. In London markets wheat advanced 1s. per Quarter. Corn 9s 3d to 9s 4d.

The Great Eastern was steering great crowds of excursionists to Holyhead, and was to visit her during her voyage in the night of the 17th. Nothing definite is known to the ultimate movements of the ship. The London Times editorially criticizes her performance between Portland and Holyhead, and draws unfavorable deductions from the speed then attained. It thinks that unless the Great Eastern presents more decided superiority to smaller vessels than she at present seems to do, she will hardly be taken for a model. The London Times states that the ship will not sail for America this year. In respect to the probable objection of the Board of Trade to grant her an extended sailing certificate, there are reasons of policy which render it desirable she should not leave England at present.

The statements in regard to the position of affairs about the Zurich Conference are conflicting. A telegram dated Zurich 13th, says the conference do not draw to a close. Austria refuses to determine the amount of debt of Lombardy to be borne by Sardinia. The demands of Austria are not only rejected by Sardinia, but do not receive the approval of France, who has proposed that the disputed point be submitted to the arbitration of another power. No answer has been received to this proposition. The French Government wishes the Pope to renounce his claims of Napoleon and an indemnity for the cost of the late war to be included in the settlement of the debt which will have to be paid by Austria and Piedmont.

A variety of rumors to the effect that Austria positively declines to sign the treaty of peace if it is not in accordance with the preliminaries of Villafranca, that Austria desires to protect negotiations till the spring, when she will recommence the war; that Austria has undertaken to sign the treaty of peace if the Pope renounces his claims, and if the temporal power is restored, and must be taken for what they are worth.

On the other hand, there are statements that the signing of the treaty of Zurich was hourly expected, and that the representatives of the Powers would afterwards meet in Congress. A report was current that Prince Napoleon was about to pay a visit of five days' duration to London. The French troops assembled for operations against Morocco are estimated at about 22,000 men. The advance was to take place on the 15th inst.

The Paris correspondent of the Le Nord is informed that the French troops are to evacuate the territory of the treaty of Zurich, and that the Archbishops of Vienna had addressed to all the Bishops of his diocese a pastoral letter, in which he exhorted the clergy to be disinterested to offer up prayers for the integral preservation, without separation, of the temporal power transmitted to the Sovereign Pontiff by his predecessors.

THE SABBATH IN FRANCE.—Extract from a private letter, dated Paris, August 24: 'Nothing ever so appalling me as the late tribulation of the French army into Paris on the Sabbath, when the holy day was trampled upon by Emperor, army, citizens, and by all the city in general. It is more than probable that the arrangements cost many millions—some say thirty—for the army entrance and for the next day.'

The first want of France is a Christian Sabbath; and she never will rise any higher than she is, in her moral or form of government, till she has a Sunday—at least among the Protestants she consider it to be an inflexible duty. I know not, if the government and people were agreed in violating systematically all the other ways this sacred day, and thus preventing Christianity from securing any stable foundation.'

A copy of the PROVINCIAL WESLEYAN ALMANACK for 1860 has already been placed upon the Editor's table, but rather late to admit of our noticing it as fully as its merits require. It is a decided improvement upon the Almanack of the previous year,—much greater fulness and accuracy in the departments of general information have been attained, and the arrangement leaves nothing to be desired. The tabular form and alphabetical order which has been adopted in presenting all that kind of information which should be of any reference will constitute this manual a sine qua non in every family and business establishment. The edition last year was quickly exhausted—that of the present, we think, will be still greater demand.

Harper's Magazine. We have received the November number from Mr. Fuller. This is the concluding number of the nineteenth volume. Harper's Magazine has now attained an unequalled position as an illustrated periodical, and its literary contents are always judiciously varied, adapting it to the diversified taste of the thousands to whose intellectual appetite it is the business of its editor to minister.

We reluctantly yield to the necessity of deterring for a week the publication of an interesting article, but received from our attentive Newfoundland correspondent. With our communications by the same mail it will appear in our next number.

THE PRESIDENT OF THE CONFERENCE will preach (D.V.) on Sunday evening next, in the Brunswick Street Church, a discourse suggested by the late lamented decease of the Rev. WILLIAM CROSBY.

LETTERS AND NOTES RECEIVED SINCE OUR LAST. The current volume is from No. 52 to 57.
