OTHONE.—A good story is told of two prominent candidates for county positions. One of them, Mr. W., owns some corn fields in a certain valley, and the other day, having occasion to visit them, he invited a certain well-known politician of the locality to ride with him. On arriving at the spot it is said that W. drove up on a hill overlooking a splendid field of growing wheat which belonged to. After bragging about it for some time he turned to his political companion and said: "You see what a splendid field of wheat this is. Now, if you will exert your influence in my behalf, I will give you the best acre of it in the field." His political companion turned abruptly around and viewed him for a few seconds with mute astonishment. He then warmly exclaimed: "You must be a stupid! I—has agreed to give me the flour in this sack!"

A farmer near Nashua, N. H., recently bargained his farm to another for $2,000, but when the day and purchaser arrived, informed him that his wife was in hysterics about the trade, and guessed he would be walled back out. "But," said the purchaser, "I have come a long distance, want the farm, and must have it. How much more would induce you to sell it?" "Well," replied the agriculturist, "give me $250 more and let her cry."
