

GREATER HAMILTON'S MOST RELIABLE NEWSPAPER

WHITES KILL MANY NEGROES

Nine Colored Men Hanged or Shot in East Texas.

Farmers Hunt Down Negroes Charged With Murder.

Militia Called Out and Whole Country Armed.

Houston, Texas, June 22.—Nine negroes and two white men are dead, a race riot is in progress between armed whites and blacks, the State Rangers and Militia have been called out, and the whole of East Texas is seething in the throes of hatred against the negro, as the result of the murder of two white men on Saturday, near Hemp-

At midnight on Sunday 150 armed men marched to the jail at Hemp Hill and after overpowering the jailer and guards took out six negroes. Five were immediately strung up to nearby trees, and the sixth, who attempted to escape, was shot down. These negroes were New Williams, Jerry Evans, Will Johnson, Mose Spellman, Cleve Williams and Will Manuel. The oldest was 27 and the youngest was 22. They had been jailed charged with complicity in the murder of Hugh A. Dean, a young white farmer.

This afternoon, Burg A. Singleton, Hard Evans and Harry Thomas, negroes, were found dead on the roadside between Hemp Hill and Geneva, riddled with bullets. They, too, were alleged to have had a hand in the plot to kill Dean.

Following the disclosures this morning the farmers of the vicinity armed themselves with rifles, shotguns and pistols, and started on a systematic hunt after every negro of known bad tendencies. At the same time pistols and weapons began to be seen in the hands of negroes, and the county peace officers found they were powerless to cope with the situation. Hurred appeals were made to the Governor and a squad of rangers were ordered to the scene. The House Life Guards of this city were advised to hold themselves in readiness to take a special train. They will leave to-night.

This was the condition when the news went broadcast that Aaron Johnson, another white farmer, had been shot down while sitting on his gallery with wife and baby. His brains and blood spattered over them. His wife screams attracted the attention of white men who were raiding the countryside for negroes. When they reached her she was sitting beside the body of her husband, insane. Soon the crack of pistols portended that he had been singled out someone. Later the bodies of Singleton, Evans and Thomas were found.

Johnson's death increased the tenacity of the situation. The three dead negroes were known to be pals of a fourth. This fourth man was searched for and not found. The officers had beat the avengers to him. Captured in a cornfield, the negro, Perry Price, was spirited to San Antonio after making a confession that he had been given $3 by Robert Wright, Johnson's brother-in-law, to kill Johnson. Wright was then arrested, and is now in jail at Center, Texas. The jail is guarded heavily, as the rumor has gone forth that a mob of white men have captured a Houston east and west train and is forcing the engineer to run to Center, in order that they might take Wright and hang him.

State Rangers Kamer and Lattie, stationed at Center, went to Hemp Hill when the first news of the shooting reached them. They attempted to take a hand, but were summarily shoved aside. The county officers found themselves similarly served when they assumed to uphold the law. Unable to curb the situation, they wired for reinforcements. The sheriff at Hemp Hill made an effort to wear in special officers, but none would serve.

Killed With Razor. The condition of frenzied hatred against the negro came as a result of the shooting of a white man by negroes a week ago. At a negro dance Saturday a week ago William Stinson, a white man, had a row which ended in his being killed with a razor. The negroes were arrested for the crime. Last Saturday night Hugh Dean, one of the best known young white farmers, was also shot at a negro dance. It is alleged that he was merely riding by when drunken negroes set at him and stabbed him to death. Six negroes were arrested and put in the Hemp Hill jail. These were the six lynched first, a seventh is still at large and a reward of $500 is out for him.

DEFIES EUROPE.

Venezuela's President Glories In Making Enemies.

Paris, June 23.—The Matin this morning prints an interview which its Caracas correspondent has had with Cipriano Castro, President of Venezuela, in which the President explained that his policy was to fight foreign companies which monopolized the economic life of the country. He added that this could not be separated from the political life. Venezuela, continued the President, was on bad terms with almost all the powers. It was his work in which he gloried. "I do not fear Europe," said President Castro, "all the powers can combine, but Venezuela will remain impregnable while I live."

According to the Matin's correspondent the Venezuelan postal censor secured a copy of the report of the United States military attaché which he made to Washington with reference to a recent trip from Caracas to Ciudad Bolivar.

May be Killed

Paris, June 23.—It is persistently rumored in the parliamentary lobbies that Abd El Aziz, the Sultan of Morocco, has been assassinated at Rabat. There is no confirmation of this rumor at the Foreign Office, and the Ministry of Interior regards the report as absolutely untrue.

Inquiry, which has been made by the Government officials, has failed to elicit anything to justify the rumor.

IN DANGER OF BEING EATEN.

Natives of Portuguese Guiana Driven to Revolt.

Sergeant and Seven Portuguese Troopers Decapitated.

Troops Surrounded by Natives—Protecting French Subjects.

Lisbon, June 23.—News has been received here of a serious state of affairs in Portuguese Guiana. The natives everywhere are reported to be in revolt. Even on the island of Timor several interior posts have been driven in, settlements have been destroyed and Europeans have been killed or carried off into captivity. The Portuguese troops have taken refuge at Bisau, where they are surrounded. A French warship has arrived for the protection of French subjects.

The newspapers here attribute the revolt to the cruelties practiced by the troops while collecting the "hut" tax. It is their custom frequently to levy heavy sums, and if payment is refused to flog the natives, burn the villages, and sometimes capture the wives and children of rich chiefs and hold them for ransom. A chief of the Coulaige tribe started the revolt by seizing a sergeant and seven Portuguese troopers, decapitating them, and displaying their heads on poles.

KILTIES OFF.

Start on a Long Western Tour This Evening.

The Ninety-First Regimental Band, 33 strong, start on their tour west to-night at 5 o'clock, via the C. P. R. They will arrive in Port Arthur on Wednesday morning and will give afternoon and evening concerts there. They will also give afternoon and evening concerts in Port William on Friday, after which they go to Kemora, where afternoon and evening concerts will be given on Saturday. At Regina they play under the auspices of the Hamilton Old Boys' Club. They will fill a nine days' engagement at Calgary during the exhibition. On their return trip they will play at Medicine Hat and then more on to Winnipeg for a week's engagement.

AUTO OUTING

To be Given to the Orphans of Hamilton.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the Hamilton Automobile Club, held last evening, it was decided to hold an orphans' day on July 28, when the children of the Boys' and Girls' Homes will be taken for an afternoon's outing. Arrangements for the run have not yet been completed, but it is proposed to have the cars assemble at the Gore in the afternoon and then take the children for a drive to some convenient point, where they will be entertained with games and refreshments.

HUMANITY MARTIN.

Portrait Presented to Pennsylvania Women's S. P. C. A.

The Times is in receipt of a copy of the thirty-ninth annual report of the Women's Pennsylvania Society for the prevention of cruelty to animals, which is of special interest because it contains a portrait of "Humanity Martin," and a brief sketch of life of that gentleman, who is known in history as the originator in the British parliament of the first modern enactments for the protection of animals. Richard Martin, to whom the nickname of "Humanity Martin" was given by King George the Fourth, was grandfather of the late Mr. Edward Martin, K. C. of this city, and the half-tone picture reproduced in the Pennsylvania Woman's annual report is from a copy of a picture in the Biographical Dictionary of Eminent Men in the British Museum. It was presented to the society by Mrs. Edward Martin, who spent last winter in Philadelphia and was made almost heartily welcome at the society's meetings. The portrait has been framed and placed in the committee rooms of the society. Mrs. Martin is now visiting in Atlantic City.

JEAN REID MARRIED.

King Edward and Queen Alexandra and Other Royalties

Attend Wedding of Daughter of U.S. Ambassador Reid.

Becomes Wife of Brother of Earl of Dudley.

London, Jun e23.—With King Edward and Queen Alexandra smiling approval from their private gallery, Jean Reid, daughter of Whitelaw Reid, the United States Ambassador to Great Britain, was married this afternoon in the Chapel Royal of St. James' Palace to the Hon. John Hubert Ward, brother of the Earl of Dudley, and querry-in-waiting to the King. The ancient chapel, one of the few remains of the old palace of the Tudors in which Queen Victoria and several of her daughters were married, was prettily decorated with flowers for this, the most fashionable of recent weddings in London.

A great crowd assembled in St. James' square to watch the arrival of the bridal party and the King and the Queen and other members of the royal family, who, by their attendance at the chapel and the subsequent reception at Dorchester House, the city residence of Ambassador Reid, paid a compliment to the American ambassador and his daughter seldom accorded even to members of English nobility. The invitations, which were limited to less than one hundred on account of the smallness of the church, set the time of arrival at 2.45 p. m., and by that hour all the guests had found their seats.

A few minutes before 3 o'clock King Edward and Queen Alexandra, accompanied by their suites, drove up from Buckingham Palace and proceeded at once to the royal gallery, where the Duke and Duchess of Connaught and Princess Patricia alighted and arrived.

As is customary in the Church of England service, the officiating clergyman, accompanied by a surpliced choir, met the bridal procession at the door, and preceded it up the chapel, the choir singing "Lead Us, Heavenly Father, Lead Us."

The Rev. Edgar Sheppard, canon of St. George's chapel, Windsor, where the King and Queen attend service when in residence at Windsor Castle, officiated. He was assisted by Rev. Wm. Grosvenor, rector of the Church of the Incarnation, New York.

The bride wore but three pieces of jewelry, and these all were old-fashioned brooches, the wedding presents of King Edward, Queen Alexandra and Mr. Ward.

SHERMAN SICK.

Vice-Presidential Candidate Seriously Ill in Hospital.

Utica, N. Y., June 23.—Word was sent to the family of Hon. Jas. S. Sherman, in this city, this morning that the Republican candidate for the Vice-Presidency had been compelled to go to a hospital in Cleveland, and that Dr. Phinney, of Baltimore, who attended Mr. Sherman during an attack of the same trouble in Washington last year, had been summoned by special train. Mrs. Sherman and one of her sons left for Cleveland by the first train.

The news received here is very disquieting, and it is said that Mr. Sherman is in a serious condition. Extensive arrangements have been made to give him a great reception on his return this evening.

May Operate.

Cleveland, O., June 23.—James S. Sherman, the Republican Vice-Presidential candidate, who has been ill here for the past two or three days, was taken with a severe chill at 4.30 o'clock this morning. The physicians were immediately called, and found that Mr. Sherman was suffering from gall stones. It was decided to remove Mr. Sherman from the home of ex-Governor Herlick to a hospital at once, and it is possible that an operation will be performed during the day. At 9 o'clock it was stated that Mr. Sherman was resting very comfortably, and that his temperature had fallen to normal.

Resting Easily.

Cleveland, O., June 23.—At noon Mr. Sherman was resting easily in the hospital. He was suffering comparatively little pain, and, in fact, his condition was said to be better than at any time during the past 24 hours. It is now believed that an operation will not be necessary unless the patient suffers another attack.

KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Wrocton, Ont., June 23.—During a heavy electrical storm here last evening Mr. Daniel McTavish, who resides about two miles north of this place, had his horse killed while driving home, and was also slightly burned himself.

ABD EL AZIZ, Sultan of Morocco, reported to have been assassinated.

THE MAN IN OVERALLS

Did you read the long list of drownings in last evening's paper? None of the names would be on the list. Warnings are seemingly useless. Who will be next?

You will please John Brick if you will buy your dog a tag without delay. The dog days will soon be here.

Does your boy smoke cigarettes? You don't know? Well, you're a nice sort of a father. Have you a guardian?

If you're doubtful as to the state of your lungs see Dr. Holbrook. It won't cost you anything, and may save you a lot of worry later on.

But then that other favorite son, Mr. Bryan, may give Taft a run for his money.

The strawberry festival and the Sunday school picnic are now rivals for public popularity.

If the Con. Club really has the picking out of the Principal for the Normal School, the Education Department has certainly been improved downwards.

Now that Whitney has scared the British capitalists it will be all the harder to get money to build railroads or anything else with.

The Herald has no apology to offer Dr. Shearer for its insulting remarks to him. It grudgingly retracts one of its false charges, and with such a bad grace that it almost amounts to a fresh insult. I suppose that is another example of respectable journalism.

With Beck away in the old country, the Hydro-Electric scheme seems to have little or no official backing.

A great lot of nervous people would like to be told what they should do and what they shouldn't do during a thunderstorm. Can anybody tell them?

In the Parks Board or the Board of Health inoculating the mosquito breeding ponds with coal oil? Now is the time to get busy.

Certainly the temperance people who voted for Whitney voted for the three-fifths clause, and that is no more evidence that there is no such thing as a temperance vote.

I can see already that the working-man's home is going to get soaked in this Hydro-Electric power scheme. His little place will be so mortgaged that he will hardly be able to call it his own. It's too bad.

Perhaps Mr. Hendrie could get a private bill put through the House making the City Hall officials ex officio aldermen. It would legalize a present illegality.

Perhaps Mr. Studholme wouldn't mind giving us an outline of what he proposes doing next session. An old age pension or out-of-work pay proposition coming up?

The only kind of immigrants the Dominion Government encourages is farm laborers and domestic servants. By filling up the Northwest, work is provided for the mechanics in this Province. The more people that go into the Northwest the more work for our foundries and factories.

This year's overdraft is beginning to look as if it would beat last year's. The Board of Works is over-feeding it.

A contemporary points out that the change in rates to the members of long standing, made at the recent Supreme Court of the I. O. F. will mean an average increase of $8 per year per member. One Hamilton man asks me to say that the change means to him an increase of over $40, or 142 per cent.

MAYOR ISSUES STATEMENT

In Regard to the Cataract Company's Offer.

Opinions Differ as to Its Probable Effect.

Power Committee to Have Special Meeting To-morrow.

Among city officials the opinion prevailed to-day that notwithstanding the remarkable offer made last night by the Cataract Power Company to supply power for pumping and street lighting, permitting the city to fix the price and submit the tariff for incandescent lighting to an independent tribunal, the aldermen would vote to send the by-laws to the people and that the prospects are all in favor of a Hydro-Electric proposition being endorsed. Probably half the members of the council would take a different view of it. Some of them say that the Cataract's offer is so fair on its face that the city should close with it without submitting a by-law. They urge that under this proposition Hamilton assumes absolutely no risk, and it is in a position now to dictate its own terms. It is believed that a majority of the council are of the opinion that it is in the city's best interest to accept the company's proposition. This is not the case, however, with Mayor Stewart. He is still of the opinion that Hamilton should sign the Hydro-Electric contract, and he undertakes to justify his stand in the following statement issued to the press to-day:

"The latest proposition of the Cataract Power Company was certainly a great surprise to me, although I can well understand that the company can afford to give the city its power for street lighting and pumping purposes for nothing if they were assured of an exclusive franchise even for five years. There are several points to be considered in connection with the company's offer. It has been clearly pointed out that if the city does not now join the other municipalities in the Hydro-Electric plan, considerable difficulty will be encountered and much additional expense incurred if the city should desire to join at a future date. The chief difficulty would be the opposition of the other municipalities, parties of the contract, who would naturally say 'Hamilton refused to join us in the first instance; she refused to take a common risk with the other municipalities and is therefore not entitled to any consideration from us,' and in ordinary parlance they would say 'Hamilton can fry in her own fat.'

"If Hamilton can be prevented from joining the other cities and towns for one year it will be just as effective as a great disaster, as the damage will be done and the object of the opponents of the Hydro-Electric plan would have been accomplished.

"The additional expense to be incurred would be the building of a transformer station at a cost of $52,000; the purchase of new pumps consequent upon the difference in the water levels of the Cataract. (Continued on page 5.)

CRICKET FETE.

To-morrow's Event Will be an Interesting One.

The members of the Ladies' Tea Club in connection with the Hamilton Cricket Club promise an afternoon of exceptional interest at the fete to be held at the cricket grounds to-morrow. Various forms of entertainment have been arranged for, among which will be a cricket match between the Tea Club and the H. C. C., with the following teams: Ladies—Mrs. J. H. Colinson, Misses Eugenie Gibson, Violet Watson, Mary R. Glasco, Lily Briestel, Edna Greening, Alice MacDonald, Muriel Cartwright, Emma Vallance, Frances Peploe, Ethel MacPherson, Constance Turnbull.

ARTHUR BALFOUR

Looks to Science as the Great Ameliorator of the Race.

London, June 22.—The delegates to the Pan-Anglican congress filled Albert Hall last night to hear ex-Premier Balfour in a discussion on "Christian Truth and Other Intellectual Forces."

Mr. Balfour said that he could not conceive of human society being permanently deprived of the religious element, but he looked for science more than to anything else as the great ameliorator of the human lot in the future. If he had to believe that the two great powers, religion and science, were in antagonism it would be impossible for him to believe that hopeless despair which deprives labor of all its fruits and make efforts for the betterment of mankind impossible.

At Horse Show

London, June 23.—King Edward and Queen Alexandra visited the International Horse Show at Olympia yesterday, and all fashionable London seemed to have turned out to greet the royal party. The immense Olympia was packed, and even standing room was difficult to obtain. Winners of first prizes included the trotters Miss Banhan and Miss West-Scott, owned by W. J. Butterfield, of Plainfield, N. J. King Edward has promised to open the Olympic games on July 13.

DEAD GIRL LIVED HERE.

Was a Waitress and is Highly Spoken Of.

Operation Did Not Disclose Cause of Death.

She Had Been Employed in Several Places Here.

It has been learned that Lottie Holmes, the girl who died in a Detroit hospital on Sunday, and whose relatives have not yet been located, left Hamilton about April 1. She went from here to Port Dover and from that town to Windsor. In Windsor she was employed as waitress in the British American Hotel for a short time, before going across the river to Detroit to work. Miss Holmes lived in Hamilton for a number of years, being employed in the Vancouver, Volunteer and other hotels as a waitress. She was well behaved and well liked. She kept company for some months with Ernest Devine, a bartender in the Strand Hotel, and to him she said her father was dead and that her mother married a second time years ago, causing her to leave home. She never told Mr. Devine where her home was, but from papers she showed him he is satisfied that Holmes is her right name. When Mr. Devine received a telegram on Sunday from the Detroit corner, announcing her death, he made enquiries as to the identity of the girl, and in doing so got much information about her past, how long she had been in the city, and how she had been employed in several places here.

Mr. Devine received several letters from Miss Holmes after she arrived in Detroit, the last being received about two weeks ago. In this letter she said she was very ill and thin, and weighed only half as much as when she was in Hamilton. According to a letter found in Miss Holmes' trunk, Devine begged her to return to Hamilton. It is supposed that she was too ill to come to the city, as she was taken to Grace Hospital in a dying condition last Wednesday. A Detroit despatch says she died. "She rallied well after an operation, but soon collapsed, and died Saturday. The physicians were unable exactly to diagnose the case and, for that reason, sought to have a post-mortem examination made, and it was then that the girl's lonely condition was first learned. It was necessary to get the consent of relatives for the performing of an autopsy, but no relatives could be found."

The deceased was about 22 years of age, and was looked upon as a good girl.

Temperance Women Close Their Congress at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., June 23.—The World's Centennial Temperance congress closed here to-day with programmes in charge of the National Woman's Christian Temperance Union, of which Mrs. Lillian M. N. Stevens, of Portland, Me., is president.

The annual meeting of the Young People's Prohibition League was held in the morning and at the same time a programme was given under the direction of the twentieth century pledge signing crusade of Boston, Mass.

SPECTACLES FOUND.

LOST—A PAIR OF SPECTACLES IN case Friday afternoon. Apply Times Office.

The Times is the reliable medium to bring buyer and seller together, as well as to restore lost articles to their respective owners. Its small want ads. do the work.

To-day another lady, Miss Dunlop, of Guelph, who is visiting at the home of Mr. David Dunlop, 175 Charlton avenue east, was made happy by having her reading glasses, which were lost on Mary street, returned to her by Mr. W. R. Brock, through the medium of a small want ad. Naturally Miss Dunlop was delighted to have her glasses restored to her, and she has the highest opinion of the Times and the honesty of its readers.

Anshe Sholem, Hughson street south of the house of Hebrew worship, was sued by Ray Atkin for $4.50 wages for work done on the place. The case was settled out of court.

Margaret Reeves, no address, was arrested for being drunk last night. She started to tell about being sick, but was fined $2 and hustled below.

James Henderson, of Toronto, admitted his sin and asked for leniency all in the same breath. The magistrate was a little too quick for him, however, and fined him $2.

R. L. Collinson did not appear to defend two suits for wages brought against him by H. Williams and Dave Hurrey for $12.75 and $40, respectively. Judgment was entered against him for the full amount of the two claims.

The trouble with knives and foils is that they haven't sense enough to keep from being found out.

OBJECTED TO CUTTING UP

When He Was to be the Subject For Dissection.

Drink Landed Several People In Police Court

And Dog Cases Were Responsible For More.

William T. Peterson, Johnstown, New York, is a bad man, or so he himself claims. Peterson has no legs below the knees, having lost his pedal extremities in an accident some years ago, and to see a big healthy man in such a condition in the Police Court is sad indeed, but it has been seen twice in the last week Peterson arrived in the city on Friday and put up at Wolfe's hotel. He was there only a short time when he wanted to borrow two sharp swords from Mr. Wolfe. When asked what he wanted them for he told Wolfe fiercely that he wanted to kill him. Wolfe didn't feel any overwhelming desire to get showed off this old globe with a pair of swords sticking in him as skewers so he did not grant the request. Peterson then developed unmistakable signs of the "blues." He asked Wolfe for a sharp knife and when asked why he wanted it he said he desired to tap himself and let some of the dope out. He kept on this strain till last evening when a constable was notified and in charity arrested the legless Yankee and took him to the cells. Peterson was charged with being drunk. He pleaded guilty to this at the police court and was fined $2. Peterson jumped off his seat in the dock on his stamps, produced a roll of $17 and paid his fine.

It was all caused by a dog, a common ordinary little mongrel that wagged his tail in the ordinary way and was classed by dog men as the garden variety. James Young owned this little poodle once and he sold it to a neighbor. The dog insisted on coming into the yard and James back yard and Young is alleged to have said that James was trying to keep the dog. James, it was said, retaliated by saying that Young sold the dog twice and that he neglected to buy it back from the man he sold it to in the first place. The two met yesterday and there was a row between them that would make the Burns-Squires bout of a few weeks ago look like a pink tea. Young had various humps where there should have been hollows and James' face looked like a checker board. The magistrate advised the two to go home and live like neighbors should, and he dismissed the case over the top of a few weeks ago look like a pink tea. Robert McFarlane, 29 Stuart Street west, is a "Heelmann." For the last two nights he has been "out," and he was arrested last night for an act of vagrancy, sleeping in the barn of a man named Scott, on Cannon Street. He pleaded guilty and was fined $10 or two months.

William Allan, up yesterday for trespassing on his mother's property, was bound over this morning in the sum of $100 to stay away from her house, as she told the magistrate she wished it.

William Boughner, 13 Bristol street, and his story of the dog were two of the best that ever struck the police court. Boughner was charged with failing to register his dog, and he walked up from his seat, fell over a heater on the floor and after placing his glasses on straight fixed John Brick and the magistrate with a piercing stare over the top of his head, and said he had no dog. Inspector Brick said he had a dog when he had called some time ago, but Boughner said this dog was in Freeman's honeyard, and had been for some time. "He was with you when I was over the summer yesterday," said Constable Harry Smith. "Well, he just came back for the day—er, I mean that was another dog. He doesn't belong to me, but just hangs around," said Boughner. "Fined $2," was what the magistrate told him.

Joseph Bayley, 254 Glasgow avenue, said he did not own a dog, when he faced a similar charge, and the case was allowed to stand till Inspector Brick makes further inquiries.

Charles Jenkins, 470 Ferguson avenue north, was willing to get his tag at once, and was turned towards the treasurer's office, where the jewelry is on sale.

John Lawrence said his father owned the dog he was accused of neglecting to supply the proper shiner for, and the case was dismissed.

John Nelson, of the Inland Navigation Co.'s fleet, was summoned to appear at the police court on a charge of assault. William Betts, the deck-hand who was alleged to have been mauled, was the only one to appear this morning, and it was discovered that the Glenelagh had dropped down on the morning tide with Colewell on board. The case stands till he can make it convenient to call on Magistrate Jelfs at one of his regular morning sittings.

Anshe Sholem, Hughson street south of the house of Hebrew worship, was sued by Ray Atkin for $4.50 wages for work done on the place. The case was settled out of court.
