, Saturday, July 10.-Business on cen-tral market this morning was brisk, and the prices realized were good. It was expected that raspberries would have been offered last Thursday, but none could be had until this morning, and they brought good prices, selling as high as 25 cents a box. Gooseberries and vegetable marrow also made their ap-pearance, and good prices in both lines were obtained. Meats were a little easier in some lines. Very little wheat was offered and prices remained un-changed. offered last Thursday, but none

HAYING.

HAYING. Haying is in progress throughout On-tario, and ideal weather has so far at-tended the farmer in his work of har-vesting the first erop. In the vicinity of Toronto the quality of timothy that is being cut is said to be good, and the yield will be fairly heavy. The first load of new hay was soid on the St. Law-rence market on Thursday at $8.50 per ton, but, judging from the reports of the province, prices should be very much higher than this first quotation when the time comes for taking the cattle and Seattle is in itself an impressive ex-ibit of the progress and possibilities of the Northwest. It has to day a popula-tion of about 275,000, and yet the first white boy born in the city is only 56 years of age and is still a resident of the nigher than this first quotation when the time comes for taking the cattle and horses from the pasture to the stables. The extremely dry weather of the last three weeks has ripened the field of timothy too quickly, and made the crop in many districts, where the soil is light and sandy, thin and unmatured. CRAIN CEODE

GRAIN CROPS

The present drouth has also cast the The present drouth has also cast the first shadow upon the country's optim-istic view of the future grain crops. Fall wheat will fare better than the oats and barley, which are being severely stunted from a lack of moisture. The acreage sown in wheat is small in Ontario com-pared with that given up to coarser grains, and poor returns from these crops will be embarrassing to the farmer who will have stock to feed later in the year. On the live stock markets in this city towards the week end the number of poor cattle in the runs was unusually makes something of a sensation and may even cause a thrill. This new motor driven tender is big-tion of about 275,000, and yet the first white boy born in the city is only 56 years of age and is still a resident of the place. He has seen it grow from a collection of woodsheds to a municipality con-taining fifty-five square miles, with 600 miles of paved streets. 26,000 pupils in its public schools, building operations reaching $14,000,000 a year, an export business of over $20,000,000 and an im-port business which has grown in ten ($18,000,000]. Its harbor and docks are ready to take care of the enormous commerce now passing through its doors. It would an almost endless task, says the Review of Reviews, to enumerate the steamship lines that make Seattle and Puget Sound their terminue. These lines have ever sound their terminue. These lines have ever sound their terminue. These lines have ever two more. This is the city that was able not only

East of that line all pedestrean s on the south side, for the other s Wilderness, slong which apparent. traffic is on the south side to the other abuts the Wilderness, along which apparent-ly few people care to walk. We to whom London is a home take little notice of the Strand and its changes, any more than we visit the Tower or Westminster Abbey. But the man who has passed half a dozen years in some out of the way corner of the empire is the one to whom the Srand really appears, in some out of the way corner of the empire is the one to whom the Srand really appears, how we where hels, and that only here and there does a landmark catch his eye, but when he does see a well-knewn abop or church, however much it may seem to be out of position, he feels that he is really in the old London again and rejoices accord-ingly. And the Strand is still the Strand, as it has been in all centuries between the time elds track through the brushwood, to our own day, when the motor bus thunders along the street end every succeeding building is taller than its predecessor. Getting Used to It. I ran hard to overtake a street car recently, and asked a physician upou-the car whether it was a safe thing to the car whether it was a safe thing to do. "Yes," he replied, "if you do it every day." Here is a point in regard to vigorous exercise. If we practise run-ning daily we strengthen the heart and lungs, and no injury is done, providing we start moderately. But if we make a desperate run only once a month we are liable to overtax the heart, and if the heart is not in a healthy condition the heart is not in a healthy condition are liable to lose our lives. It is posare liable to lose our lives. are liable to lose our lives. It is pos-sible for a human being to endure great strain, great cold, great heat, great mis-fortunes of every kind, providing he accustoms himself to such changes grad-ually. The firemen in the holds of great occan steamers endure for hours at a time heat in which those unaccustomed would perish in a short time. The Es-cuinance of the north can head a comwould perish in a short time. The Es-quimaux of the north can lead a com-fortable life for long periods where an ordinary man unaccustomed to the cold would soon perish. The lesson is, then, that whatever changes we make we should make moderately, thus accustom-ing ourselves to the change. It is advised that consumptives and others should sleep outdoors, or in rooms with should sleep outdoors, or in rooms with the window well raised even on cold nights, but remember that this change must not be made suddenly from a hot room to excessive cold .-- Michigan Chris-

COBALT STOCK. The mining market exhibited consid-erable animation in Toromo yesterday, the feature being the sharp advance in Nipissing, which scored a gain of 43 points. La Rose sold up about ten points. Nova Scotia was again the active trader, touching 65c on heavy byying, much of which is said to have come from the Montreal end. The other issues were quiet. Wallace & Eastwood in their market letter states: "The market shows some slight signs of returning public interest; but a re-"The market shows some slight signs of returning public interest; but a re-newal of really active business, accom-panied by an all round hardening, is not likely to come just yct." BPADSTREET'S TRADE REVIEW

The character of the harbor of Seattle, which is known as Elliott Bay, is well. illustrated by the fact that the American fleet in its trip around the world sailed in under its own steam, passed in review and came to anchor without aid. Many fleets of similar size could be accommo-dated within its harbor. It is likeyise true that the great steamship Minnesota in her trips to and from Japan and China comes to her berth in the Seattle harbor under her own steam without assistance, which is far different from conditions in New York harbor and in most harbors of the world.

conditions in New York harbor and in most harbors of the world. In Truth Puget Sound is one vast Mediterranean Sea, and furnishes in-numerable harbors and facilities for commerce. Its shore line is over 1,100 statute miles independent of the Ameri-can shore of the Strait of San Juan de Fuca and the archipelago of islands known as the San Juan Islands. If the Pacific Ocean, as Seaward predicted, is to "become the chief theatre of events in the world's hereafter," Puget Sound in the world's hereafter," Puget Sound will assuredly become the chief centre of American transportation from the west-tern coast of the continent and the port of Seattle the greatest port of entry for this commerce up at front and rear and with that bunch of men standing high in the air on top and with bell a-clanging and siren shrieking, sweeps roaring by. You may miss the galloping horses and all that, but still the big lorseless tender on the way to a fire is a sight to see. In the tender's house the absence of horses makes-all the difference in the world. No more the harness hanging up in front; no more the horses stand-ing in their stalls, to jump and come tearing and blunging to the pole at the sound of the gong; no more the drop-ping of harness and snapping of collars around the horses' necks as the driver gathers up the lines; no more the eager digging of hoofs into the engine house floor as the horses buckle down to start their load; no more the sharp clatter as they start on their run. All gone. Now the men come from their quarters down the sliding poles silently and swit-ly, just as they have always done, to leap on the tender, and now where once a man snapped a horse's collar a man cranks the tender's motor; the chauffeur is already up. All the splendid tumult of the old time start is gone, but they say the motor tender gets away in about two sec-onds less time.-New York Sun,

AFTER THE GAME.

AFTER THE GAME. When I cash in, and this poor race is run, my chores performed, and all my errards done, I know that folks who mock my of be and bring large garlands, worth three stacy of wee. And firlends will wear crope booknots on their ties, while I lock down (or up) a million miles, and wonder why those people never know how smooth I was un-til my spirit flew. When I cash in I will not care a yen for all the praise that's heap-ed upon me then; aerens and sline. In my handsome box, I shall not heed the laudatory talks, and all the pomp and all the vain dur-bar and the pomp and all the vain of the work who have an one then aerens and the the stant and the stant have a stant and the pomp and all the stant and the stant all the pomp and all the stant and the stant and the the stant and the people action of the stant and the stant and

OUT OF THE MOUTHS OF BABES. "Say, mister," said little John to the flore ts. "will you sell me a plant for a dollar," "An electric light plant," was the reply. To him who hath, don't give your all --there's a pooor fellow begging outside.

There is an article in the June num-ber of Cassell's Magazane on "The King's Farm," which has been written by the Very Rev. John Cillespie, Li, D., and the oats or barley sown out with grass and clover seeds, after which it is razed for three years. The farm has the im-production of royal experi-ments in agriculture at Balmorel. Much of the beautiful and ipcturesque estate of Balmoral, we read, has been planed and almost all the remainder turned in to pasture land since it was acquired by Queen Victoria. The home farm is at Abergeldie Mains, which is held on lease by his Majesty from the owner, Mr. Gordon, of Abergeldie. The rent hingdom therefore have the King as the chief member of their class. The farm to the south side of the Dee, shout two and a half miles east of Balmorat, Castle, extends to only 165 arres of thereabouts of arable land, with soner tion of granite. It is cultivated on the sixcourse rotation very commonly foil powed in many parts of Scotiand-ammely, oats on land plowed out of
