occasion after threats of physical violence had been used toward him. On both occasions his interlocutor was Mr. Richard Blain.

In the first incident he used some offensive phrase. Mr. Blain protested and demanded a withdrawal. Mr. Carvell refused. The Chairman, Mr. Warburton, ruled that Mr. Carvell should withdraw, but he again refused. Then Mr. Blain intimated that if Mr. Carvell did not withdraw he might be obliged to deal with him outside the precincts of the House. Then Mr. Carvell withdrew the expression.

In the second incident a dispute arose over a second tender, for a piece of dredging, which had suddenly appeared among the papers before the committee. Mr. Carvell accused Mr. Crockett of having suppressed it. "You knew it was there and you tried to deceive the committee," he shouted at the top of a very strong voice. As a matter of fact, it turned out that Mr. Crockett had not known it was there until a moment or two before the question, when Mr. Carvell made this attack on Mr. Crockett.

Mr. Blain intervened and demanded a withdrawal.

"On this side," shouted Mr. Carvell, and he added that Mr. Blain was making a nuisance of himself.

Mr. Blain demanded a withdrawal, adding that it might be necessary to stop Mr. Carvell's face.

The chairman, Mr. Warburton, agreed that the expression was offensive, and Mr. Carvell once more made the necessary withdrawal. Explanation as to the second tender followed, as already noted.

Two matters were investigated in the committee, both relating to St. John harbor. The Courtenay Bay and Beacon Bay were continued, and inquiry was opened in the matter of dredging off York Point.

Dr. Daniel did the questioning. In both cases the Maritime Dredging Company had been awarded the work.

Mr. Blain demanded a withdrawal, adding that it might be necessary to stop Mr. Carvell's face.

Worthy Of Imitation.

There were two brief paragraphs in the speech, with which the Lieutenant Governor of New Brunswick opened the Legislative Session at Fredericton on Thursday last which the Government of our Province should take to heart. One refers to the financial condition of the Province, and is as follows: "I have directed the accounts of the income and expenditure for the past year, as well as a statement of the receipts and payments of the current year, up to the opening of the present session to be laid before you. Here the Government of New Brunswick voluntarily expresses its intention of making known the exact state of the finances up to the opening of the session. Here the Government furnishes no statement relative to our financial standing of later date than four or five months ago. When they are asked during the session for later statements, they are not very willing to give them. As a matter of fact they generally give a statement not asked for. They should imitate the candor of the New Brunswick Government. The other paragraph has reference to the school books. Here it is: "At the opening of the last session, I informed you that arrangements had been made by my government, under which certain books used in the common schools were being supplied at a reduced price of forty per cent, and you will be glad to learn that the list has been extended so that practically all the books in the school curriculum are being sold at a similar reduction thereby effecting a very considerable saving to the people of the province. The present Government of New Brunswick has not yet been three years in power; this is their third session and they have relieved the people from the tyranny of the school-book ring. For over five years our Government have been making pretences to come to the people's rescue on this matter; but have only succeeded in appointing a commission. The people have not been in any way relieved from the monopoly enjoyed by the Toronto school book ring. That is the difference between a Conservative progressive Government and a fossilized Liberal combination."

We would, once more, call the attention of all who contemplate erecting dwellings or buildings of any kind, to the advertisement of Mr. Charles Lund, of Quincy Mass., which appears in the Herald. All the other building materials manufactured by him are equally endurable and first class.
