

Was Completely Laid Up With Severe Case of Piles.

Sworn Statement From a Man Who Has Unbounded Confidence in Dr. Chase's Ointment.

There is no longer any debate as to the best treatment for itching, bleeding or protruding piles. But since about one person in every four suffers more or less from this annoying ailment it is necessary to keep on telling people about Dr. Chase's Ointment.

Mr. Wm. Shaw, Island Brook, Que., writes: "I am writing this to let you know the benefit I have derived from your Ointment. I have suffered more or less for years with protruding piles and last winter I got so bad, I was completely laid up with them. I went to our local storekeeper and asked him if he had anything that was good for piles and he recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. I purchased a box and took it home and used it according to directions and for over one year I have not been troubled with piles. I had tried other remedies before but they only gave me temporary relief and that one box of your Ointment did more for me than all the others, as I

SURGEON-MAJOR MACPHERSON

Given a Big Reception Yesterday on Returning on Sick Furlough.

The cross-country express pulled in at the railway station at four o'clock yesterday afternoon and the rolling of drums, the blaring of bugles and the vociferous cheering from the vast crowd of citizens who assembled on the platform to welcome Major Macpherson, the gallant officer who had won honor for himself and Newfoundland, included in the number were: Lady Davidson, the Premier and Lady Morris, Sir Joseph and Lady Outerbridge, the Ladies' Reception Committee of the Patriotic Association, Mayor Goeling, R. G. Rendell, D. M. Baird, Dr. Fraser, Major Montgomerie with a guard of volunteers and bugle band. As Mrs. Macpherson, who accompanied her husband from England, stepped from the train, she was presented by Lady Davidson with a magnificent bouquet of beautiful flowers consisting chiefly of chrysanthemums and lilies. After the usual hand-shakes and hearty welcome from their numerous friends, the party proceeded to the front of the station, where the Premier in extending an official welcome to Major Macpherson, said: "On behalf of the Ladies' Reception Committee and the country at large we assemble here this afternoon to welcome you home and also to thank you for your services in the great war in which we are now engaged. Through the medium of the press and by private correspondence we were from time to time enabled to follow your career and we are glad to know your work was appreciated by the Army and those in authority who are best fitted to judge. Every person in our country should know that a great responsibility rests upon us, and should we in one moment slacken in our duty towards the Empire, it will be so much the worse should there come a day of reckoning. You have done your part and the welcome we extend to you today is a mark of appreciation of the valuable services you have rendered. We are also pleased to welcome Mrs. Macpherson who as Secretary of the Ladies' Patriotic Association, has, like her gallant husband, nobly done her part." Surgeon-Major Macpherson, in a brief speech thanked the Premier and the Ladies of the Reception Committee from the bottom of his heart, but soldier-like refrained from telling of his own experiences. He considered whatever services he had rendered the Empire was to him a great privilege and joy, and after his furlough had expired he hoped to be able to take up his work with as much vigor as when he left off. The last time he had heard the Premier address the boys it was at Pleasantville, when the first commissions in the Regiment were given. Sir Edward said to him: "I never realized till this moment they cannot all come back." In very touching words he spoke of the irreparable loss the Regiment had suffered in the death of Capt. A. O'Brien, who was not only a great favorite with his own soldiers but was also held in the highest esteem by the officers and men of other regiments. He referred to Captain Donnelly's unassuming quiet way, who in speaking of his experiences at Caribou Hill referred to it as a school boy would speak of a snow-ball match between two schools. Lieut. Cecil Clift was worshipped by his men, who say of him, "if we all had advanced as fast and straight as he did, we would be here now to tell the tale." Of Lieut. Stan Emsley, he said he was the organizing man of the regiment and at all times took a deep interest in the men under his care. With Lieut. Norris he was not so intimately acquainted, but he was told by those best fitted to know that like a true soldier he fought and died with his face to the foe. In the early days of the war, said the Major, the badge of the Midland Regiment was not known to many and barely recognized on the streets of London, but to-day a far different view of it is taken, and since the immortal charge of July 1st the badge is looked up to and honored by the millions of the world's greatest metropolis. Speaking of the boys in hospital he said they are a cheerful lot and the N.S.B. spirit which has become proverbial is everywhere in evidence. The organization of the whole medical service is a miracle of despatch and efficiency, not by any means an unfeeling machine but one which gives each individual careful and personal attention. On behalf of Mrs. Macpherson and himself he again expressed his gratitude for the right royal welcome the people of old St. John's had offered him. Major and Mrs. Macpherson were then taken to Mr. Harold Macpherson's motor car to Government House where they were heartily received by His Excellency and Lady Davidson.

St. Thomas's Men's Bible Class

Begins Its Winter Session. — First Meeting Last Night.

St. Thomas's Men's Bible Class reopened for its weekly meetings last night in Canon Wood Hall. In the absence of Rev. Dr. Jones, who was prevented from attending by illness, the Rev. C. A. Moulton acted as chairman, who recognized the illness of the Rector, and announced that Mr. W. H. Jones had kindly consented to assist him in conducting the class during the winter, and who would address the class this evening. He then called upon the Secretary to read a report of the work of the Class for last year, which after being read was received and adopted. All last year's officers were re-appointed, excepting the organist. Mr. H. W. Strifling was appointed for this session in place of Mr. H. J. Earle, who kindly acted as organist last year. The Chairman then called upon Mr. Jones to give the address, and on rising he received a warm welcome from the members of the Class, which was just as heartily reciprocated by Mr. Jones. He took as his subject "The Hand-writing on the Wall," and from the narrative in the 5th chapter of Daniel drew some practical and helpful lessons applicable to modern life, which were greatly appreciated by all present.

later a German prisoner was captured having in his possession a respirator. The medical men started right in to improve on the Hun invention, and after many attempts were made Dr. Macpherson's suggestions were found to be the best. He was therefore sent back to London where he completed his work and produced what is now known as the Macpherson Gas Helmet. Having every confidence in his invention the doctor allowed himself first to be gassed while he wore the helmet, and came through the ordeal without suffering the slightest inconvenience. Leaving France he was ordered to Salonika where he was busy attending to the medical business of the great eastern army. While in the east he met Lieut. Col. Curling, Lieut. Brown, R.A.M.C., Lieut. Will Weaver and Nurses Parsons and Bradshaw, all N.S.D.s. After spending several months in the Greek country he was sent to Egypt and from there he

At The City Hall.

Water Pressure in City the Best Yet—Tends to Reduce Fire Insurance Rates Considerably.

Mayor Goeling presided at last night's weekly session of the Municipal Board. Councillor Brownrigg was absent through illness.

In reply to Council's letter re tax of $500 paid by contractor for water supply, McDonald the Council give their final answer that the contractors can seek redress at the courts.

Permit was given to Messrs. C.H.T. and Pines to build house in Macklin Place for Wm. Ruxon. Referred to Engineer's report was also C. Couch's complaint of a broken sewer in his yard on Gower Street.

W. Taylor, South Side, complained of a pile of stones in front of his door. They belong to a city contractor who will be asked to remove them.

The Engineer was instructed to engage to R. T. McGrath's request for J. Grills to repair house Water Street West and also to install water and sewerage.

Permission was granted Thomas Snelgrove, Battery Road, to build a porch on his residence.

C. J. Fox, on behalf of the S. P. A., complained of the impassable condition of Long's Hill for animal traffic. Being attended to.

Plans of proposed stable for Isidor Wilensky were referred to the Health Officer.

The City Engineer's report was then read showing that several breaks had occurred in the water main during the week, but the work of repairs in each case was finished promptly and effectively. The report also stated that an automobile had collided with and carried away a hydrant on Garrison Hill. The hydrant, which was totally destroyed, was valued at $60.00 and the motor car owner will be asked to make good that amount to the Council. Incidentally the Mayor intimated that Don't want intention of concealing the water meter was also the owner to sue the Council for having the hydrant in the way as the car was damaged.

Statements were also submitted by the Engineer of the water tests made in the East End of the city and the water waste, which according to the exact figures, was found to be actually in excess of the consumption. In 15 localities there were 71,730 feet of mains tested with a daily waste of 678,000 gallons and 1,575 feet of service pipes tested showing a waste of 895,000 gallons, or a total wastage of 1,573,000 gallons for the East End per day. The amount of the supply of water which goes through the city fluctuates at different times of the year but it is estimated to be 5 1/2 and 7 million gallons. In other words, to make a conservative estimate of the entire city there would be at least fully 3 1/2 million gallons being wasted daily and less than that amount legitimately used.

The water tests taken last week show the pressures to be over 90 per cent better than last year. This, the Board contends, ought have a material effect towards reducing the rates of fire insurance which are charged by underwriters will be written accordingly.

R. W. Jeans asked for an order for office requisites.

The East and West End Road Inspectors reports were received and adopted as was also the report of Fire Underwriters will be written accordingly.

Sgt. Dunphy doing well. Mrs. Dunphy, 32 Cochrane Street, is in receipt of a commutation from Mr. Henry Reeve, Hon. Secretary Nfld. Police Force, for the services rendered by her son, Sergeant Dunphy, of "Ours," who was wounded in the knee recently "Somewhere in France." The relative re-assures her that he is getting on well and everything possible was being done for him; he had been visited recently in Hospital in London.

Another Big Recruiting Meeting.

Headed by the T. A. Band, the Naval Reservists and Volunteers left the Court House at 7.40 last night and marched to the Seaman's Institute. From there they returned and marched west to Steer's Cove. Leaving there they returned to the Square in front of the Court House where some thousands of people assembled. Lieut. H. Ross, who was one of the officers at Caribou Hill and was badly wounded in the left arm by a shrapnel bullet, was the first speaker. His brother, Lieut. Wallace Ross, fell dead on the battlefield of July 1st. In the plain blunt language of a soldier he told of his experiences since leaving here over two years ago for the Old Country; the training our boys received and the generous treatment and hearty welcome given Newfoundlanders in all parts of England and Scotland. He told of the trip to Egypt and from there to the Gallipoli Peninsula where "Ours" won for themselves and their country undying fame. He strongly impressed on the minds of the young men standing around to go over to the recruiting camp on the opposite side of the street and put down their names, get in training and be ready to fill up the gaps made vacant by the men that had fallen.

The next speaker was Mr. W. R. Howley, K.C., who like many others has to remain at home and do his bit as best he can to help along the great cause. He reviewed the history of the British Nation within the past few years, and he regretted to state, that Newfoundland in proportion to her population was far behind the standard set by Canada, Australia, New Zealand and other British possessions in sending the seas in sending red blooded men to fight for the great cause. There are two classes in which the young man of military age and fitness can be numbered, one is the men that has red blood in his veins and is willing to fight for the protection of his mother, sister or sweetheart from the outrages and insults of the Hun; the other is the stay-at-home who makes all kinds of excuses and is classed as a coward. "Young man to which a
