COLLEGE.

Editor Evening Telegram

Dear Sir—The calamity which overtook the community in the destruction of the Methodist College has brought forth many expressions of the kindest sympathy from many directions.

I am sure the community would be interested in this evidence of kindness and good will which is so greatly appreciated by the Methodist College Board.

I shall be glad if you will publish the enclosed in your esteemed paper.

Yours very truly,

R. F. HORWOOD,
Secretary Methodist College

Feld Hall,
ST. JOHN'S, Jan. 20th, 1925.To the Board of Governors, Principal and Staff,
Methodist College,
City.

Gentlemen—It was with feelings of profoundest regret and dismay that we, the Staff and Boarders of Feld Hall, heard of the terrible fire of last evening, and we feel that we cannot refrain from expressing to you our whole-hearted sympathy in what must appear at the moment to be an almost overwhelming catastrophe. It is advised that we say "at the moment" for, realizing the noble and undaunted spirit which has characterized the founders and supporters of your magnificent institution during the years that are past, we are assured that the present tremendous crisis will be, in fact, already being faced with a courage and resource that cannot know defeat.

In addition to the destruction of the splendid school buildings we have to mourn the loss of the beautiful College Hall—the centre of many uplifting movements and itself an inspiration. Its advantages were shared by all; we believe it will be the desire of the whole community to share in its re-building.

Again assuring you that our deepest sympathy is with you.

We are, Gentlemen,
On behalf of the Staff and Boarders,
Yours sincerely,(Sgd.) H. LESLIE PIKE,
