No other oil and no other medicine has ever been discovered which can take the place of Cod-liver Oil in all conditions of wasting. New remedies come, live their little day and die, but Cod-liver Oil remains the rock on which all hope for recovery must rest. When it is scientifically prepared, as in Scott's Emulsion, it checks the progress of the disease, the congestion and inflammations subside and the process of healing begins. There is the whole truth. Book about it free.

A Smile: A Laugh.

Stout Man—Why don't you get up and give one of the ladies a seat?

Irishman (at telephone)—Sind me up and give one of the ladies a seat?

Dealer—All right. Who for?

Irishman—There now, don't get gay. For the horse, at once.

"Don't you find so many house-plants a great deal of trouble, Mrs. Simpson?"

"Yes; but I had to buy them because I had no one to look after them."

Attorney—It is stated, sir, that you assailed him with a dangerous missile.

Dendy—Oh, didn't do it, 'n' a y' th' kind. Ol' called 'im a 'lyin' pup, an' hit 'im wid a brick. That was all.

Wife (examining the bill)—Do you remember, my dear, how many trout you caught last Saturday?

Husband—There were twelve; all beauties.

Wife—The fishmonger has made a mistake—the charges for only half a dozen.

First Passenger—Do you believe in putting any tax on roads?

Second Passenger—No, sir! And the man who puts 'em there should be hanged!

First Passenger—Be you a Populist?

Second Passenger—No, sir! I'm a bicycle rider.

How an ambitious aspirant may possibly become one of the exclusive "four hundred" is cleverly indicated in a contemporary's statement that "if you have a million you can get into the four hundred, but if you have only four hundred, you are likely to stay in the million."

On the Veranda—Fogg—"It's getting colder, my dear, and the weather is so bad."

Mrs. Fogg—"Shouldn't they might be; you ought to have seen not to come out in the rain."

Fogg—"If I'd come out without them, you mean to say that my feet would be frozen, I suppose? Just like a woman!"

Mother—Charlie, you said you'd been to Sunday school.

Charlie (with a far-away look)—Yes, mother.

Mother—How does it happen that your hands smell fishy?

Charlie—Well, I caught some fish on the Sunday school paper, and the outside in all about Jonah and the whale.

A colored witness in the Superior Court last week stated that he was unable to testify as to a certain occurrence because he had no domestic trouble."

"What was the domestic trouble?"

"Well, to tell the truth, boss, "was in the penitentiary for stealin' a cow."

CURED BY DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS

After twenty years of most excruciating pain caused by gravel I am pleased to make it known that I have been completely cured of this long-standing trouble by Dodd's Kidney Pills.

During these years I have spent hundreds of dollars without any permanent relief. Had I heard of your wonderful remedy years ago it would have saved me months of agony and hundreds of dollars.

IT IS A MAN'S DUTY TO DRESS WELL...

Every consideration—social, business, home, family and friends suggest that a man dress as well as his means will allow. "Costly thy habit as thy purse will buy," was Shakespeare's advice, and it was good advice.

The well-dressed man has more respect for himself, and so is more respected. The well-dressed man has confidence in himself, and so inspires confidence. The well-dressed man looks successful, and that often assures his success.

Then Why Not Dress Well When...
