beds, buy your bulbs, and then seize the first fine weather opportunity to get them in the ground in good shape. There is nothing gained by planting spring-flowering bulbs too early. Late planting invariably turns out best.

If you intend to plant lilies, most varieties of which are very late fall arrivals, prepare your bed and cover it with a few inches of leaves or manure to keep the frost out till the bulbs arrivals. Then you can plant almost any time up to December by reing off the litter and setting in the lilies with a portion of clear sand around each bulb. After you have them planted put four of five inches of leaves or manure on top of the hed for a winter comforter, and you will be well repaid next summer by a how of the most beautiful subjects of any garden.

FOR THE COLLEGE

Bishop of Huron Makes Plea in Behalf of Local Anglican Institution.

An interesting pastoral, issued by the Bishop of Huron, was read in all the Anglican churches of the diocese yes terday. The pastoral had to do with the financial condition of Huron Col-lege, and in it a plea was made for a more liberal support of the college. He asked that a collection be taken up on Thanksgiving Day for that purpose Heretofore the church's contributions o Huron College have been very intermittent and spasmodic. It is the bishop's desire that a definite sum be saked from the diocese every year.

Four-fifths of the clergy in the diocese are graduates of Huron College, and consequently the church is vitally interested in the institution. The college, and consequently of strengthening. lege staff is in need of strengthening, and one more lecturer, preferably two, are needed for the work. Two thou sand dollars a year would be required for the latter. Arrangements may be made whereby the control of the university will come directly under the synod.
