M. H. Pringle bought 12 butchers' cattle, much hay in the country as a year ago. They give the reason that prices of cattle took a considerable drop last fall, and the farmers, rather than sell at the prices then paid, kept them during the winter, with the result that much more hay was sonsumed than last year. Sales were made to at $10 to $11 25 per ton, mostly to $10 cows, $2 to $3.
