ment. Nothing brings the present and the past into more striking contrast than the growing popularity of dancing. In 1700 the town council of Glasgow empowered John Smith to give lessons in the art provided "he shall behave himself soberly, teach at shall behave himself soberly, teach at seasonable hours, keep no balls, and that he shall so order his teaching that there shall be no promiscuous dancing of young men and women together, but that each sex shall be taught by themselves, and that the sone sex shall be dismissed and out of the house before the other enter therein."

Regarding indulgences of this nature, a contemporary pamphleteer penned the following warning: "There is ground to think and conclude that the town the the translation of the strict of the

In the regard of at least one customs official of the United States, Scots are a curious, enigmatical peeple. A Scotch-American lady, living in the middle west, had been spending the summer in the homeland, and was returning, via New York. Ere leaving the States, she had been asked by several homesick Scots to bring back with her some good Scotch pease-meal, an article of diet not to be obtained in America at any price. She determined to oblige them, but when packing her trunk realized that the meal was somewhat difficult to handle. Paper bags being insecure, she hit on the plan of using a silver teapot, some glass vases, and a gastogene (all of which she had purchase). teapot, some glass vases, and a gas-ogene (all of which she had pur-chased here to take back to Amerchased here to take back to America) as packing cases. A few pence spent on the meal were sufficient to fill all these articles, which the lady packed in the ordinary course, giving them no more

In New York, however, there was frouble. A lynx-eyed official, searched her luggage, and, of course, soon came on the pease-meal. "Aha!" thought he, "A capture!" Other officials whose attention was directed to the "find" were inclined to take a serious view, and it took the lady a long time to give a satisfactory account of the meal. Even then, the first official had his

KIDNEY-LIVER PILLS

Again this great medicine has triumphed over kidney disease of a severe type. From a bed of suffering and helplessness, Mrs. Waish was restored to health and strength by using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

Kidney pains in the back tortured her. Dropsical awellings had set in and she had no reason to hope for cure, since the doctor's medicine failed to even relieve her. Read what the husband says about this remarkable sure.

Mr. Thos. D. Walsh, Pictou, N. S. writes: "Two years ago my wife took to her bed after suffering for a long time from kidney pains in the back. She was not able to stand on her feet of even turn herself in bed. The doctor's medicine was no henefit whatever, that we could see. Sometimes her legs would swell considerably. Reading about a woman in similar condition being cured by Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, we purchased two boxes, and when these were used she was able to sit up. With three more boxes she was restreed to health and doing her own housework.

"As for myself I also found these pills all that is claimed for them." is two this statement in order that others may obtain the same ease from suffering as that experienced by my wife and myself."
