CONDEMNS VISIT OF LLOYD GEORGE TO THE DOMINION

Montreal Newspaper, Le Canada, Asks His Real Motive For Coming.

SCORES PEACE WORK

Canadian Press Desnatch. Montreal, Aug. 1 .- Le Canada, the French language morning newspaper of Montreal, devotes its leading editorial this morning to an attack upon Lloyd George and his projected visit to this country.

"Does he come to re-gild a prestige which he has totally lost in England," the newspaper asks, "and does he hope to be taken by Americans and Canadians for a prophet? Lloyd George states that he is not visiting us for the purpose of presents. visiting us for the purpose of prose-cuting any political campaign, but simply to thank Canadians for their ndid services during the war. "But Canadians would like, per haps, to ask him why so soon fol-lowing the war, instead of co-operating sincerely and energetically to-wards obtaining a legitimate peace for all the allies, to which they had a right, he desired so much to give a new orientation to the policies of his country in a narrow and dan-

Bu cles and his individualistic conception of the situation, has placed more obstacles in the path of a solution of peace than Lloyd George himself. If he comes to thank us, he exposes himself assuredly to the demand why the sacrifices of men and money by Canada are placed in the way of be-coming useless if the nation, conquered by the joint effort of the allies, escapes the obligation im-posed by her defeat."

In conclusion the paper says: On account of his conduct of the past few years there remains with us a growing mistrust and once more we ask: "What does Lloyd George come

Two-Cent Stamp Must Be Placed On Receipts and Drafts.

The rvisions of the Federal War Revenues' Act came into force today. The act as it now reads, calls for a two cent stamp on every receipt, sight draft, letter of acknwoledgement, post card receipt, and in fact every form which can be classed as a receipt for value or currency to the amount of $10 or over. In the smaller amounts the act is practically unchanged except that a larger nu of forms are classed as receipts. The most radical change is that instead of running to a maximum tax of $2 on receipts for amounts of $4,940.01 and over, the tax increase stops when maximum of $1 has been reached. In commenting on this change, the local collector of customs said that n the larger amounts requiring the maximum tax there will be a siderable decrease in revenue, and stated that one bank in this city had purchased as many as 96 of the $2 stamps in one month. This under the new ruling will be cut in two. A further change will take place on October 1 when it will become compulsory to use the revenue stamps issued by the inland revenue department. Meanwhile the 2 cent postage stamps are permitted alhough a limited number of the rev enue stamps are already in use by the banks and other monetary insti-

SUGAR PRICES CUT WITH PROSPECTS

Reduction in Canadian Product Due to American Competition.

LOCAL OPINIONS

Canadian Press Despatch. Toronto, Aug. 1.-Canadian sugar has dropped 7 cents in price per hundredweight in the last fortnight, and some wholesale grocers of Toronto expect a further decline of 25 cents in a week. The manager of a large chain of Toronto grocery stores stated last night that tomorrow his firm would sell sugar at the rate of ten pounds for 99 cents.

Two reasons are assigned, by those in a position to know, for the unexpected reductionin sugar prices at a time when that commodity is in great demand for canning purposes The first, and perhaps the more immediate, reason advanced is the placing upon the Canadian market American sugar at a price lower, duty included, than that asked by the Canadian refiners. In the second place, it is attributed to a weakness in the New York market. sugar are not forthcoming, they say, and the holders are becoming ner-

Hugh Blain, president of the Eby Blain Company, said that hte price of Canadian sugar had been, and was

The fear of active competition from American refiners had prompted them, he believed, to reduce their prices at a time when sugar might Similar and even more positive views were entertained by John Medland, president of the wholesale grocers' concern of Medland Bros., who said that he expected to see sugar fall off 25 cents more within a week. Such a reduction would then bring Canadian prices in line with the United States market at a figure which would render the laying down of United States sugar here unprofitable Local Dealers' Opinions. Several local wholesale and retail grocers differed in opinion when asked this morning by The Advertiser to give the reason for the sudden drop in sugar prices during the last two weeks. this morning from Toronto sugar has dropped 70 cents per hundredweight in the last two weeks, and another drop of 25 cents is expected in the forthcoming week. One retail grocer said that it has generally been the case that during the anning season sugar has dropped. He attributed the decrease in price to speculation, and the cheapness of American sugar. Another dealer was of the opinion that people got in their supply of sugar for canning purposes several weeks ago, and the dealers are loaded up. For this season, they have naturally
