REIMBURSEMENTS.

The Speaker read the following communication from His Excellency the Governor: Victoria, April 20, 1865.

To the Honorable the Speaker and Members of the Legislative Assembly :

GENTLEMEN,—Referring to the resolution of the Legislative Assembly in Committee of Supply relative to the sum of $34,066 20, under the head of Reimbursements forwarded to me on the 11th inst, I have the honor to supply the following information. By the statement of the Treasurer, dated 5th November, 1864, submitted to the Legislative Assembly on the 13th January, 1865, it appears that the actual balance of Crown Revenues on the 31st December, 1863, amounted to $34,321 65. The particulars of this balance will be seen by examination of the return of the Treasurer dated 23d February. 1865, and furnished to the House on that

It further appears that the estimated proseeds of the various sources of Crown Revenues for 1864 were $27,413, making together with the sum of $34,321 65 an amount of $61,734 65 available for Crown purposes during 1864.

On the other hand the following sums for January and February, 1864, $646 60.

Total, $27,668 45, The difference between $27,668 45, and $61,734 65, viz., $34,066 20, represents the amount which should have been in hand on 31st December, 1864, on account of Crown Revenues. That balance, however, was wholly expended during that year for the general expenses of the colony, including a sum of $10,670 paid in the same year for the salaries of the Chief Justice, the Attor-ney General, the Treasurer, and the Surveyor General.

I have the honor to be,

Gentlemen, Your most obedient Servant, A. E. KENNEDY,

GOLD MINING BILL. The Speaker laid before the House a bill to regulate Gold Mining in the colony, which had passed the Legislative Council. Read a first time and ordered to be printed.

The following bills will come up Monday for a second reading; Descent of Property; Declaration of Titles; Home-stead Law; Postal Service bill; Law of what these little things were. This question Evidence bill.

The Speaker said he would appoint Messrs-M'Clure, Burnaby and Franklin to bring in Bills of Supply. Mr. Burnaby objected.

The Speaker then said he would appoint

Mr. DeCosmos. Mr. DeCosmos decidedly objected. He would prefer to see the committee appointed from the Government side of the House from the Government side of the House (laughter).

Mr. Southgate asked which was the Gove

the following resolution:

eivilised world in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, does adjourn till to-morrow as a mark of respect to the memory of the great departed,—the Chief of a nation connected by the nearest ties with our own, and gloryg in the same origin, the same traditions.

Mr. M'Clure ruse to second the resolution, Mr. M'Clure ruse to second the resolution, if on no other grounds than to represent the opinion of the inhabitants of Vancouver Island. They had seen the feeling of sorrow evinced by the people, and it was but becoming in the House to give expression to that feeling. While looking with regret on the great struggle going on in a country with institutions so like our own, we must naturally with profound sorrow the audden death view with profound sorrow the sudden death of so great and good a man, and express our sincere sympathy with the people who had sustained so great a loss.

Mr. DeCosmos fully concurred in the sen-timent, and thought the occurrence of such a catastrophe in a friendly nation worthy of notice and commemoration by the Legislature of this country. He could not see the necessity of adjourning, however. He thought if a resolution were passed to that effect and transmitted to the proper authorities the end would be fully answered.

The resolution was passed unanimously, and ordered to be transmitted to the Govern nor, and the House adjourned till to morrow

PETITION FROM COWICHAN.

The petition from the residents in Cowichan, praying for the quieting of the Indian titles, &c., was laid before the House, and ordered to lie on the table. The petition has already been published in the Colonist.

CROWN LANDS AND CIVIL LIST.

The House went into Committee on Ways and Means, Mr. Franklin in the chair. Mr. Duncan deemed it his duty to express clearly his opinions and those of his constituents on this important question. Some hon, members deemed the question a secondary one, but he believed it second to none that had yet been laid before them. The resolution of the hon member for Metchosin was not drawn out with that shrewdness and statesmanship which usually distinguished that gentleman. The acceptance of the Civil List might involve this colony in embarassment and difficulty, and he would recom-mend the Executive before the question was forced on the House, to dissolve the Assembly and let them go to their constituents on so important a subject. The Orown Lands question was no obstruction to Union, as had been asserted by the bon. member for Metchosin, nor would it take four or five years to settle the disputed points, as that hon, gentleman had said. The Crown Lands question involved a claim of $1,000,000 to the colony (Dr. Tolmie, hear, hear), and by accepting the Crown Lands now we involved the loss of all our claims (hear, hear and no, no!) But the settlement of the Crown Lands would not take anything like five years; he believed the whole thing could be settled in six months. The hon, junior member for the city did not think the Executive wished us to sacrifice our claims nor to swallow anything were payable during 1864 out of that $61,734 75: salary of the Governor at £3,000 per annum, $11,147 18; do. Colonial Secretary, £600, $2,910; arrears of salary of late Governor for 1861, 1862 and 1863, drawn in 1864, $12,964 61. Salary of late Governor for later fo which would be prejudicial to the interests of the colony. We had been asked for $400,make us boit the colony altogether. (Laughter.) The hon, gentleman asked if we did not take the Crown Lands how could we settle up the colony. It would be time enough to provide for settling the country when there was any chance of an immigration. We would have no more immigration here till we discovered larger and richer gold fields. The hon, gentleman said we must take the Crown Lands. We did not refuse the Crown Lands, but we wanted the lands as given in the Indenture of 1849, [hear, hear], as they were given into the hands of those good and honest stewards, who had never, no never, made a shilling out of them [hear and laughter] but who were to hand them back unimpaired to the colony. The Pre-emption Law of this colony was a complete failure. (No!) There was not a provision in it compelling settlers to fence in their land or to cultivate it. In fence in their land or to cultivate it. In Cowichan there were 13 or 14 settlers living in one cabin, and all owning sections of land. The Indian policy of the country was a failure. The gold policy of the colony was a failure. He believed that Mr. Cardwell's despatch which had been so frequently alluded to contemplated this colony taking into its own hands the whole management of its amendments made by the House, but insist- its own hands the whole management of its ing upon their own amendment striking out clause 4, and insisting on their amendment that the Board of Education shall have power to regulate the amount of school fees.

all forever. The hon. Speaker had said by refusing the Civil List now we ran the risk of offending the Home Government and of losing besides union all those little things which were quite as important as union (hear, what these little things were. This question of the Crown Lands had come up at previous elections, and it would come up again. He maintained that we should insist on our claims to the Home Government. The day had gone by when the Home Government could afford to quarrel with even the meanest of its colonies. If we in isted on our claims there was no doubt we would get ample justice (hear, hear). Dr. Tolmie said this debate had occupied three days, and it was high time it was settled. The Union question had been the

Mr. DeCosmos—Union? Humbug?

Dr. Tolmie—very excitedly—Humbug?

Yes, humbug had had a very large share indeed in the debate, as he was prepared to show! He saw something very fishy in the way in which this question had been managed. He was sorry that the House had not held a secret session on the question as a great Resolved.—That this House, taking into deal of buncombe would have been prevented. The delegation business had been dragged befallen the United States and the rest of the deal of buncombe would have been prevent into this question, and the opposition of cer tain hon, gentlemen was solely caused, he believed, by the desire to obtain the position of delegate to the Home Government. (Cries of name, name). .

Dr. Tolmie (with warmth and pointing across the table)—I will give the name! I name Mr. Amor DeCosmos.

Mr. DeCosmos (springing excitedly to his feet)—I demand an explanation!

Dr. Tolmie—I will explain. We had a private meeting to consider the appointment of a delegate to England, and as Mr. Southgate was going home at any rate it was agreed that he should be the only delegate.

Mr. DeCosmos rose and opposed the appointment of Mr. Southgate, and he (Dr. Tolmie) soon found that Mr. DeCosmos wanted to go

Mr. DeCosmos was in favor of Mr. South gate being one of the delegates, but he would never give his vote and support to the pro-position that he should be the sole one, as he knew nothing about Crown Lands, and only two months ago had spent his money freely in opposing Union and in buying up newspapers to advocate his views (cries of order, order!)

The Chairman said he must call the hon. gentleman to order.

Mr. DeCosmos had told the hon. gentleman that he personally cared nothing about the delegate-ship. What he wanted was to see the result attained.

That the stools in this instance did not prove "stools of stools in this instance did not prove "stools of repentance" to the eccupants, was obvious from the interest the progress of the play depicted on every face. "Grimaldi; or Life of an Actress," "A Regular Fix," "The Victims," "Little Toddlekins," "American Cousin," "Everybody's Friend," "Nan, the Good for Nothing," and "The Colleen Bawn," alternated behind the foot-lights upon successive evenings. Her excuse for this hasty revolt is that she could not endure the exacting reign of Wheatleigh. It would have resulted to her professional advantage could she have endured the drawing of a tighter rein; but it she could'nt how could she? and that ends the matter. Mr. Maguire will revive the great drama of "The Magnolia; or, the Angel of the Swamp." The cast will embrace the versa-tile Wheatleigh and the accomplished Courtile Wheatleigh and the accomplished Courtaine. Miss Emmeline Voeller made her debut at Maguire's Opera House as " Ann Chute" in the " Colleen Bawn," and fulfilled the requirements of the part admirably. She has a good stage presence, reads well, and emphasizes correctly and effectively. There is a sparkle of intellectuality about her, and an animation of manner and style, that tend to excite the strongest hopes in regard to the brilliancy of her future career. In her the Call recognizes the most successful and promising de-butante that has yet appeared on the boards now we settled the whole matter, claims and to be opened for a dramatic season on or about April 10th. THE SONOBA QUESTION .- Our London corresondent furnishes us with the following information respecting the part that the Emperor Napoleon is playing in reference to Mexican affairs: "I have reason to know, and it may be interesting to your Vancouver readers, that Earl Bussell has been most solemnly assured by the Mexican Minister that his master, the young Emperor Maximillian of Austria, has not ceded an inch of his Empire to any Power whatever. But where there is smoke there is fire, end there is fire under this cloud of false rumor, for Louis Napoleon has long looked with deaire upon the mineral wealth of Lower California, Sonora and Chichuahua. Years ago he tried to negotiate, through Court favor, a tertain territory from the Mexican Republic, ostensibly for Italian emigrants, and with purely mining objects. The fact came to me at the time from a sure source. The Empire is established, and he revives his scheme in another shape. I believe there is some movement on foot involving, under the name of mining rights, a cession of the country, not absolutely yet perhaps, but by way of a mortgage for the money expended in throwing down the Republic and setting up the Empire. Thus Maximillian would be relieved from a debt, and it would not be difficult for a to your Vancouver readers, that Earl Russell has personage so astute as the French Emperor to foreclose. At the same time, disgusted by the want of faith on the part of the Pope and Cardinal Antonelli, who had promised to assent to the terms of a concordat respecting the church land, which never can be restored, those worthies having given the Mexicans "no instructions." Maximillian is about to offer such of those lands as have not been wrested from the church as a security for a new loan, will further promote railways and set up a bank. The parties who hope to make something out of all this are now busy about it at Paris. Neither Federals nor Confederates like such "doings," and each talks of applying the Monroe doctrine—"When the war is over!"
