The editor of The Canadian Nationalist came across just such a case recently. It is that of Mrs. S. Somerville, a well-known and highly respected resident of this city. Mrs. Somerville does not seek notoriety, but is willing that a statement of what Pink Pills have done for her shall be made public in the hope that some other sufferer may be benefited thereby. "My illness at affirst," said Mrs. Somerville, "was a serious attack of typhoid fever. Although I recovered from the fever, it left its effects that have caused me many years of misery. The doctor said that my blood had become impregnated with poison, and that it would take a long time to eradicate it. The trouble seemed to have its chief seat in my limbs, which caused me a great deal of pain. Mr. Pitts, like many others invested in Torontz real estate at the time of the boom, and the heavy depreciation in preperty since, not only caused him to lose what he paid, but has left him liable for several thousand dollars under the covenant in mortgages. This, with an unfortunate speculation in cattle, has proved more than Mr. Pitts could carry, and his assignment is the result. There will be a meeting of the credit tors on the 26th inst, when, no doubt, a satisfactory settlement will be effected. In the meantime the hotel will be run as usual under Mr. Pitt's management.

And the people liked a drop of good wine as well as the class, and so it came to pass that the wines created a furor. Now they are bought all over the country. They are found nearly in every house. Bioomer Evil in Paris.

It is quite likely in the near future that Parisian wheelwomen will be obliged to wear something less masculine than knickerbockers when riding. The demi-mondaines have taken to the wheel in great numbers and have appeared in public wearing costumes which even Paris considers immodest, tights and very short skirts or to the wheel in great numbers and to the wheel in great numbers and have appeared in public wearing costumes which ever Paris considers immodest, tights and very short skirts or close-fitting knickerbockers being their favorite attire. Such an objectionable feature of boulevard life has this become that the Chief of Police, M. Lepine, has given the matter long and careful consideration. While the activation of the price of the bicycle to wear long skirts, yet the evil alluded to has become so prominent that severe measures are deemed necessary. There is a knotty question, however, which has arisen and which is yet unsolved by the authorities and that is, how is it possible to always distinguish between by the sake of healtful exercise and though the sake of healtful exercise and the distinguished exerces and popularity in the sake of healtful exercise and the distinguished guests that the speeches were listened to with particular interest by, all present.

A Plague of Field Mice.

Northern Bohemia is visited with a field mouse plague so serious that Governmental aid has been invoked, Thereupon, the application of Loffler's mouse-typhus bacillus having proved so efficacious in Thessaly, the Austria Minister of Agriculture sent an expert with a plentiful supply of the mousekilling stuff to the afflicted district. Pleces of bread are soaked in a dilution of the deadly potion; the mice and die; this will ultimately result in the total extermination of the rodents. It is reported that over 10,000 field mice have been thus killed in one day on single estates, and yet there seemed to be no appreciable reduction of the swarms overrunning the fields.
