—One improvement which the new street commissioners have a chance to make which will be appreciated in regard to the breaking of the roads after a snow-fall. Friday evening last the public had to break its own roads through the snow and turn out in the morning and break them again through drifts two feet deep. The snow-plough did not set alone Queen Street until half-past eight and at one o'clock it had not reached Washington Street nor the side streets. The snow-fall of the previous week though fully a foot deep on the sidewalks was not broken out at all, and school-children had to make their way through snow up to their knees in many instances. In other towns the snow-plough turns out at the beginning of the storm and keeps on the rounds till the storm is over. In Bridgetown the usual custom is to wait until the business people and school-children have broken the path for the snow-plough. It is time the order was reversed.

—Elsewhere will be found a notice of the purchase by two of our enterprising farmers of new breeding stock of a superior strain. This the Monitor-Sentinel is pleased to observe. shows a determination to improve existing conditions of dairy farming, which are not up to the standard that the advantages of our valley for stock-raising would warrant. Dairy farming should take its place with fruit-raising in the Annapolis Valley. A failure in the fruit crop would not then be such a serious set back to our farmers as it is at present, when it is their staple dependence. There is always ample market for dairy products both at home and abroad and prominent agriculturists are strongly urging our farmers to improve their advantages in the matter of dairy farming.

Strong Blow at Liquor Traffic

ST. JOHN, N. B., Feb. 6.—The Lenten pastoral letter of Rt. Rev. T. Casey, Catholic Bishop of St. John, read in the Catholic churches of the diocese to-day has caused a stir because of its strong pronouncement against the liquor traffic. His words being declared to form the most severe arraignment of the liquor business ever given in official Catholic utterance in the maritime provinces, perhaps anywhere in Canada, and culminating in what is looked on as a direct call to every Catholic in the liquor business to give it up. The pastoral was peculiarly of interest in the St. John city portion of the diocese as nearly all the retail liquor dealers here are of Catholic faith.

Senator William Roach of Halifax and Mr. E. L. Thorne manager of the Union Bank, are in England completing arrangements for the organization of a company to operate the Chimney Corner coal mines in Inverness, Cape Breton. Several hundred thousand dollars will be spent on machinery and equipment.

Steamer Boston had among her outward cargo on Wednesday 373 crates of live lobsters. They sold for $28 for large and $12 for small. She also had twenty-one barrels of clams, 170 boxes boneless cod, ten do. smelts, ten cases flnan haddies, 234 barrels vegetables, seventeen pkgs. hides, etc. Total value $10,270.—Yarmouth Telegram, 4th inst.

Obituary.

MRS. MARY A. BRINTON.

At the home of her son, Mr. Eber Brinton, at St. Croix Cove, on the morning of Feb. 3rd, Mrs. Mary A. Brinton, widow of the late Travis Brinton, passed away, aged seventy-nine and nine months.

Mrs. Brinton was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Handley Chute, and was born at Hampton. About sixty years ago she married Mr. Brinton, and after being a few years in Port Lorne, they settled permanently in St. Croix Cove.

In early life she united with the Hampton church, in which she was an active worker, and her daily life and conversation was a bright testimony for the cause she loved, and will remain an inspiration in the hearts of a host of friends who will long cherish her memory.

She is survived by one son, Mr. Eber Brinton, one brother, Mr. Robt. Chute, of Hampton, and three sisters, Mrs. Samuel Gesner, of Lynn, Mass., Mrs. Hannah Brinton, of Hampton, and Mrs. Lorenzo Fash of Granville.

The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. S. Smith. The interment was at St. Croix Cove.

SAVED HER LIFE

Zam-Buk Cured Scalp Eczema

If you have eczema, ringworm or any scalp sore, do not permit your hair to be cut off without first trying Zam-Buk. Mrs. Davis Monteith, of 93 Bertrand street, Norwood Winnipeg says: "My daughter contracted eczema of the scalp, and this broke out regularly for three years in succession. It would probably have been recurring yet each season had it not been for Zam-Buk. The eczema first started with an outbreak of little red, watery pimples, which turned into large sores. We consulted a medical man, and tried lotions, powders, salves and all kinds of things but in vain.

"Each time the disease appeared her hair had to be cut off. When this had been done three times a friend suggested that, as other things had failed, I should try Zam-Buk. Instead of again consulting a doctor and going through the old and ineffective programme, I acted on this advice, and obtained some Zam-Buk. Almost as soon as this was applied the child experienced relief. The itching and irritation seemed to be soothed, and in several places, after some days' treatment, there appeared marked signs of improvement so we thought we would not this time cut off the hair.

"We kept on applying Zam-Buk until in a few weeks it was very evident a complete cure was being effected. In the end all the sores were healed, the hair over the effected parts had grown again, and at the present time her scalp is healthy and quite free from every trace of sore or eczema." The same healing virtue is responsible for cure of ulcers, abscesses, running sores, cuts, cracks, children's rashes. There is nothing to equal Zam-Buk, as it is so pure. All druggists and stores at 50 cents a box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co. Toronto, for price.

D'ISRAELI ASBESTOS COMPANY SHOW EXCELLENT STATEMENT

The D'Israeli Asbestos Co., Inc., whose asbestos quarries are situated at D'Israeli, Quebec, have issued their Annual Statement audited by F. P. Blanchet and E. P. Oliver. Their financial statement is a very creditable one and shows a good cash balance in the bank, and a large amount spent on their Plant and Branch Railroad, and other resources of considerable value. Copy of this statement can be procured on application.

This company is free from debt and bond obligations. They expect to be producing asbestos early in the spring and at the present time the machinery is being installed to operate their 250 ton capacity plant.

The stock of the D'Israeli Asbestos Company is widely held by investors who realize that asbestos stocks form a safe channel to invest their surplus funds. Feb. 8. It

O'HIGGINS IN THE LIMELIGHT.

Canadian Writer Is In Centre of Political Storm in Denver.

Mr. Harvey J. O'Higgins, formerly of Toronto, who has become one of the best known writers in New York, is very far from being a man who courts sensational publicity for himself or his work. But he is getting it just the same. His name is at present being mentioned in the newspapers of Denver, Colorado, almost as frequently as the name Beresford was mentioned in the press of Toronto during fair week. It is, in fact, appearing constantly in papers all over the Western States; and it is just possible that before this article appears, Mr. O'Higgins may have been sandbagged or kidnapped, or possibly the fingers of his writing hand may have been shot away.

Now, on earth, you ask, has modest, quiet Harvey O'Higgins been up to that he should be in the thick of such a storm? Well, this is the way of it, and the story will be interesting to his many Canadian friends and admirers.

Most people who read the papers at all carefully have heard something of Benjamin Barr Lindsey, judge of the juvenile court in Denver. They call him "de kids' judge." He is the friend of all children, and believes that it is the duty of the state, what very, very careful in the handling of boys and girls who, standing unguarded and unadvised at the threshold of life, are in danger of becoming criminals instead of useful citizens. He believes in trying by every conceivable method that is practicable to set children on the right path before sentencing them to jail to herd with confirmed criminals. He has devised many ways of doing this, and children's society agents and Government officials from all over the world go to his court to observe the results of his juvenile parole system and other methods of dealing with youthful offenders. But he has not been content to fight for the children. For years he has been fighting against the rotten methods of machine politicians and dishonest corporations and combinations in the city and the state in which he lives. Some time ago Everybody's Magazine concluded that the publication of an autobiography of Judge Ben. B. Lindsey would be, in the language of Kid Burns, the "big noise" of a season in magazine features. So they arranged with the judge for the material, and sent Harvey O'Higgins to Denver to edit it.

Meaning that the latter would write the story, concisely and strikingly. Mr. O'Higgins says that Lindsey, who is a tiny ninety-eight pound man, but a lion in courage, has done wonders in the way of reform in Denver, although he has neither money, personal magnetism, nor strong friends. His enemies are legion, including all the gamblers and hard cases, male and female, of the city. He has been offered big bribes to quit his fight for the honest administration of honest laws. He has been threatened. Attempts have been made to discredit him and blacken his character, but he keeps on fighting.

Recently it became known in Denver that Judge Lindsey's real story containing "real names," and written by the skillful hand of Mr. O'Higgins was about ready for publication—a ripping story of 75,000 words. And during the past two weeks it is said that lawyers and detectives, representing powerful influences and men whose "real names" were likely to be recalled to a continent as crooks, have been busy trying to induce the magazine not to print the story. It is only to be hoped that no extreme western vengeance will fall upon Mr. O'Higgins for his part in promised sensational exposure, although such newspaper headings as "Gangs Plotted His Murder" are employed by friendly newspapers in describing the danger in which Lindsey himself stands. In this connection, however, it is reassuring to note that even the papers most strongly antagonistic to the judge are free in their praise of "the famous magazine writer and 'revelist' and 'gentleman of charming personality' who is writing the sinister 'autobiography'."

The Boy Collector.

One day recently the front door-bell of a certain Toronto house rang and the mistress of the house, opening the summons, found on the threshold a diminutive Irish lad.

"Well," she queried, "what is it?"

"I've come for the money," was the laconic but cryptic response.

The lady had no idea what the boy meant, but finally the latter made it clear that he had come to collect a small sum owing on a parcel which had been delivered to a visitor in the house. The lady paid the money and then suggested that she be given a receipt.

"Receipt—what's that?" asked the small but determined collector.

The lady explained that as they were each acting the part of agent in the transaction it would be advisable for him to give her something in the shape of a voucher.

The lad's education evidently did not include a knowledge of the technicalities of any such formal proceeding as this, but he was bright and Irish. So, with the remark, "Aw, I know what you want now," he wrote on the back of the memorandum he had brought with him:

"T. Maloney came for the money and got it."

A Mackenzie Philippi.

Gratifying offers are being received daily from private individuals, who are ready to donate old and historic volumes and documents to the new Ontario legislative library now being formed to replace that which was destroyed by fire. Only this morning a letter was received from a Toronto gentleman offering a relic of the rebellion days of 1837. It is a pamphlet by William Lyon Mackenzie entitled the "Legislative Black List of Upper Canada, or Official Corruption and Hypocrisy Unmasked." This is a pamphlet which was not in the collection of the destroyed library.
