COMPOUND

CHAMOMILE CORDIAL.

THIS Cordial, as its name denotes, is prepared especially for a Member of the Pharmaceutical Society of Great Britain from the Flowers of Chamomile and of the Vegetable Medicinal ingredients imported from England. No such preparation has ever been equalled for its power and virtues. It is also equalled in quality for its great economy. It is a powerful Remedy, and a gentle panacea, answering the varied Requirements of a weak and languid constitution, removing the various Complaints of the System, and reducing the several Diseases to which it is applied. It is also an excellent Remedy for the various Complaints of the Liver, and the best Remedy for the various Complaints of the Stomach.

These Chamomile Extracts, while fully preserved, preserve it self concentrated and developed in the Compound, which is easily digested, and retains a strong, pleasant Wine, and such may be used at discretion. The flavor is sweet and agreeable, and the taste most medicinal and unctuous, especially when the body is fatigued, or the Temperature advanced, or feelings uncomfor-

TESTIMONIALS:

Toronto, June 26th, 1852.

Messrs. REXFORD & CO.

GENTLEMEN.—We have tested the Sample Bottle, with which you informed us, of your Compound Chamomile Cordial, and find it a valuable Remedy and pleasant to the palate, and consider it a good Preparation for the use of the valuable Toxic Properties of the Chamomile.

We are, &c.,

GEORGE HERRICK, M.D.

JOHN KING, M.D.

GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tried the sample of Compound Chamomile Cordial which you sent me.

Aware of the manner in which you prepare it, and of the nature and quality of the ingredients when you employ it in making it, I cannot oblige to express to you in my writing, my opinion of it, which I should not hesitate to do under different circumstances.

I consider it a very elegant Pharmaceutical Preparation, or Remedy of home made excellently useful in a dietary as well as the medicinal point of view. It will serve as an excellent substitute for all the tinctures which are prepared in Wine for the use of invalids, as all wills prove no excellent medium for the medicinal convenience of remedies, which, without some auxiliaries are often repelled again, and rejected by the sick.

I am, Gentlemen,

You, &c.,

FRANCIS BADGLEY, M.D.

June 27th,

GENTLEMEN.—I duly received and have tried the Sample of Compound Chamomile Cordial which you sent me. I consider it a very elegant Preparation and useful in cases where a cold Tonic is required, more especially in cases of Diastopepsia, and the weakness of the stomach, it being very preferable to tea, &c., & can be taken by any one.

I am, &c.,

TAOMAS DUGAN,
Surgeon.

London, C.W., June 18th, 1852.

Messrs. REXFORD & CO.

GENTLEMEN.—I have received the Sample Bottle of your Compound Chamomile Cordial, and to test it a beautiful as well as highly palatable preparation. The aromatic and peculiar bitter flavor, by which lies the essential Medicinal qualities, appear to be largely infused and well preserved, and to this versatile Tonic is highly beneficial in those forms of Diastopepsia, depending on deficiency, or want of tone of the digestive organs, (the form most frequently met with on this continent) your Cordial will I doubt not, form no inconsiderable addition to our Pharmacopoeia.

From the knowledge possessed by me of Mr. Rexford and his very high reputation as a Pharmaceutical Chemist, I feel much pleasure in confidently recommending his preparation of this valuable Tonic to my Professional brethren, and to the public, as a delightful and invigorating Cordial.

I am, Yours, &c.,

GEORGE HOLMES,
Surgeon.

Messrs. REXFORD & CO. Toronto.

GENTLEMEN.—I have no hesitation in expressing to you my professional approbation of your Compound Chamomile Cordial. The tonic properties of the Flowers of Chamomile, with which it is fully blended are so universally acknowledged, and the Medicinal qualities of the vegetable ingredient so fully admitted in Diastopepsia complaints, that I consider the idea of administering it in the pleasing form of a Cordial, most happy, and convenient, and propitious to success, that it would be well to let the public know of this.

The Castilian Hair Invigorator.

THIS elegant Toilet Preparation is warranted to excel all others ever offered to the public, for Preserving and Restoring the hair, it prevents all cases baldness or grip hair, cures dandruff and ringworm, and is of the highest importance, as, that it is unlike most other Toilet preparations, being perfectly harmless, yet successful for the purpose recommended. It gives the hair a beautifully soft, smooth and glossy appearance, in this it also differs from other preparations, all of which more or less harden and dry the hair. The Spanish Ladies so justly famed for beautiful and glossy hair, have used for centuries. It causes the hair to retain its original color to the latest period of life, only making it assume a darker shade if originally very light. Diseased hair loosens and falls out or turns grey. The Invigorator removes such disease, and restores the skin and hair to a healthy condition.
