

The Rev. H. A. Brooke, who was the first resident clergyman here, spent the greater part of the month of July amongst us. His visit was much enjoyed by everybody, and we trust the change has done his health permanent good.

The Services of the last two Sundays in August and the first in September were very kindly taken by the Rev. A. C. Ascah, a native of this place. This enabled me to take a pleasant ho'day and be present at the Biennial Visitation of the Clergy at Bishop's College. Mr. Ascah had just resigned his Mission in Terrebonne, in the Diocese of Montreal, and now has gone to labour in Moosonee, among the Cree Indians about Hudson Bay. His youngest brother has gone from us also, to study for the Ministry, and so be able to undertake like good work.

Whilst absent on my holiday, the congregation at Peninsula began to reshingle the Church, which it much needed. The work is now completed, and when it shall have been painted, the Church will have a roof good for many years. Inside, however, a very great deal must be done; as the building, when erected, was only roughly made fit for immediate use, and nothing has since been done to it, save the addition of the chancel. We trust however to have it done, and made more fit for the worship of God. Labour, and the provision of lumber, will be cheerfully forthcoming; but the very difficult part is, to raise the amount of cash needed. This is especially the case, since, although the fishery was fairly good, men have found it hard to get work, and the crops are fully one-third below the average. Any assistance towards finishing the Church from kind friends who have helped us before, or from others, will be most acceptable.
