ST. MARY'S COLLEGE:

THE FEAST OF THE REVEREND RECTOR.

A MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC ENTERTAINMENT-MGR. LANGEVIN'S VERY HAPPY ILLUS-TRATION.

Thursday last being the feast of the Rector of St. Mary's College, several former students of the college were in the city to congratulate Rev. Father Hyacinthe Hudon and to meet their former professors and fellow-students. They were present at dinner that day, where they met the clergy of the diocese of Montreal, Mgr. Langevin presiding.

On Wednesday night, as is customary, the students of the college played a tragedy, "Les Fils d'Edouard" (Richard

His Grace Archbishop Langevin presided, and seated beside him were Rev. Father Hudon, Rector of the college, Hon. Joseph Royal and Chief Justice Sir. Hon. Joseph Royal and Chief Justice Sir. Alexandre Lacoste. After the first act an address was presented to His Grace, another to the Rector, and one to the alumni of the college. These addresses were presented by Edmond Drolet and Jean Decarie. After the second act His Grace arose to reply. He said that he was glad to speak to the youth of the country, because the country places all her hope in them. St. Mary's College has made its reputation; consequently, it would be unnecessary to refer to the system of education there. His Grace stated that he was always proud to hear The education of the Jesuit Fathers spoken of so highly.

In the tragedy which overtook the children of Edward His Grace saw portrayed the passions of the fifteenth century, but he noticed that they are the same to-day everywhere. Education is they go. found to be the only means to control the passions of men, and the education that he was not surprised that their enemies are disconcerted at the results obtained, and it is for that reason that they try to alter the system; otherwise the youth would be well nigh invulnerable. Then the prelate gave advice to those present, telling them that with projer education men are better fitted for the world. He told them that if they wished to aid the oppressed, they should keep their hearts sincere, pure and bold. Many are afraid to stand by the truth and to help a just cause. Men are big children, and it is often found that their calculations are not well laid, as in the case of Richard III. The smiter is often smitten. God often alters their propositions and changes their plans. Happy are those who have only one conviction, the truth, and who serve under one flag only. His Grace became very eloquent when he broke forth into the following similes: "When in the night a cry of distress from a 1 oor unfortunate awakens you from slumber, would it not be cowardly not to harken to that cry? Would it not be cowardly on the part of a life erew to refuse to launch their boat to the rescue of a ship wrecked ship, freighted with poor unfortunates unable to help themselves?

"In the drama the children of Edward were choked, but from a far-off land today comes the ery of children who are now being choked. What do you think of those who neglect to utter a word to help them? Let your hearts answer these questions. Blessings on you all who understand the lot of these unfortunates. you who not only sympathize with the oppressed, but also array yourselves on their side."

Hon, Joseph Royal also addressed the students, and presented to the rector a gold medal, for which the students of philosophy will compe c. The rector also addressed the audience. The tragedy was excellently played and well staged. The costumes were specially made for the occasion, and were gorgeous. Rev. Father Lalonde, S.J., who had directed the rehearsals and who had acted as stage manager, deserves congratulation for the success of his efforts. The following students, who played the principal parts, ar also deserving of praise: Alexandre Lacoste, Leopold Porcheron, Alph. Deschamps, L. Hamel, T. Rinfret, R. de Lorimier and E. Beaulieu. An excellent orchestra rendered selections during the evening.

THE MAY FESTIVAL.

The annual May Festival, under the austices of the young ladies of St. Mary's parish, was held last Thursday evening in the church hall, Craig street, and I roved a great success, the audience being a large and appreciative one. The piece that caused the greatest amusement and which met with the heartiest encore was that of little Miss Logan, who is about seven years old, in her song, "Two little maids." The programme, which was prepared by Mrs. E. C. Monk, was long and varied and tucluded some of Montreal's best known singers; Miss MoAndrews, Mrs. and Miss Bacon, Mrs. and Miss Turner, Mrs. Monk, Mr. Taylor, Mr. Chas. Kelly, as well as a contingent of talent from St. Patrick's ladies' choir and many ladies and gentlemen of St. Mary's. A comedy entitled "The Hole in the Wall" caused great amusement, but was cut short on account of the lateness of the hour. During the evening some light refreshments were served in the parlors. Portion of the proceeds were devoted to the splendid Work of the Catholic Sailors' Club; the g merosity of the young ladics was acknowledged by the president of the Catholic Truth Society.

It's Easy If You Know How.

Ninety-nine women in a hundred may think that it is an easy thing to hold a pail at arm's length. Let them try it. Here and there one will succeed in holding the empty pail, but it will puzzle even a man to hold a pail full of water in exactly this position. There is no trick about it, however. The pail is a real pail and the water is real water. The secret is hidden in the arm and body of the waveness who does it. of the woman who does it.

ST, ANN'S SCHOOL.

A GRAND ENTERTAINMENT; THE PROPUG-TION OF THE BRAMA, "EDWARD THE CONFESSOR,

Under the austices of the St. Ann's Junior Young Men's society, the members gave a very pleasing production of the historical drama "Edward the Confessor" last Friday evening, in St. Ann's hall. The characters were interpreted by the following gentlemen: -Messrs. Thes. P. Gleeson, A. D. O'Leary, Win, M. Liston, F. J. Hogan, Jas. J. Fitzgerald, Thos. J. Donnelly, J. F. Doherty, R. J. Hart, Oscar Leblanc, Thos. J. Foy and Peter McGuire.

The solos by Prof. R. McGuirk and his talented little pupils. J. Slattery and F. McCrory are worthy of particular men-

The play was put on by Professor E. Varney and much credit is due to this able and painstaking, instructor for having brought the boys to such a degree of perfection in five rehearsels.

The St. Ann's Junior Young Men's of St. Ann's parish, with the object of means employed in Catholic reading circles. The following are the officers for the present year:—President, Charles Lennon; vice-president, Robert Hart; secretary, Thomas Donnelly; assistantsecretary, Thomas Gleson; treasurer, John Manning; librarian, Michael Martin, Council:—James J. Fitzgerald, Peter McGuire, Thos. Corcoran, Joseph O'Dowd and Dalma Leger, Rev. J. Me-Phail, C.SS.R., spiritual director.

Rev. F. Strubbe has reason to believe that with such a preparatory school, St. Ann's Young Men's society will continue to be in the future what it has ever been under his direction,—second to no other society of young-men in Montreal.

The success of the entertainment was all that could be desired and the members of the Juni r Young Men's society deserve the highes praise for the very creditable manner in which they presented the admirable play chosen for the occasion. It would be unfair to refer to the pleasing and entertaining event without saying a word by way of recognition of all that the good Brothers are doing to keep the boys of St. Ann's in the front rank. The school is one of the most admirably conducted in Montreal, and the parents, whose children frequent it, have every reason to be proud of their young people. Now that the scholastic year is drawing to a close they look forward with bright anticipations to successful examinations and the customary rewards for long months of study.
