

Recipients of Barton fellowships and scholarships for 1991/92 were decided by a selection committee in March 1991. They are listed below.

Seventy-nine new applications were accepted up to February 1992 for consideration for the next year but the announcement to wind up the Institute was made before further selections could be made. The status of these applications remains unknown at the time of preparing this report.

ANNEX I

BARTON AWARDS 1991-1992

BARTON AWARDS 1991/92

Dalby, Simon (Vancouver) Centre for International Studies, Simon Fraser University Research on the environmental dimensions of international security in the Pacific	$30,000
Holoboff, Elaine M. (Vancouver) York University Research on Soviet security policies in a post-Cold War Europe	30,000
Baranyi, Stephen H. (Toronto) York University and field research in Latin America Research on the dialectics of defence development in Panama, 1968-89	14,000
Bergeron, Jean-François (Québec) Political Science, Laval University Research on political transition and democratization in South Africa as a result of political change under the leadership of F.W. de Klerk	14,000
Chandler, Andrea (Halifax) Political Science, Columbia University (New York) Research on post-revolutionary statebuilding and the politics of border control in the Soviet Union	14,000
Davis, Garth Barclay (Vancouver) School of Advanced International Studies, John Hopkins University (Washington, D.C.) Research on Canada and security in the North Pacific with a review of threat analysis and policy prescriptions for the 1990s	14,000
Desjardins, Marie-France (Montréal) Department of War Studies at King's College, University of London (England) Research on confidence-building measures in Europe	14,000
Hlinovsky, Olga (Hull, Québec) Department of Sociology, University of Montréal Research on an analysis of war from a political perspective within society	14,000