Dear Dean Macmillan,

In response to my enquiry yesterday I was delighted to learn from Mrs. McMurray that your cold had improved to the point where it will be possible for you to attend the inauguration of President Kerry of Dalhousie University. I am today sending this good news forward to President Kerr and attaching a copy of my letter for you. I hope that you will convey my warm personal greetings to him, and to my many other friends at Dalhousie.

Cordially yours,

Dean Macmillan
