GERMANS WANT U.S. TO ADMIT THEIR PULP FREE

Echo of the Reciprocity Measure Rejected by Canada—Favored Nation Treatment.

BERLIN, Jan. 5.—The controversy now going on in America and Europe on the subject of the paper pulp duties is occupying the close attention of official circles here. It is understood, however, that Germany has not taken any steps in the matter and that she is waiting in the hope that the United States congress will make universal the exemptions in that respect enjoyed by Canada, which, under the act for Canadian reciprocity, passed by the American congress, is accorded the free admission of wood pulp under certain stipulated conditions, or that the customs court in Washington will decide to that effect. Germany might, it is thought, in the last resort appeal to The Hague.

No communication whatever on the subject has yet passed between the German foreign office and Washington or the American embassy here.

The situation respecting the admission of wood pulp is that under the act for Canadian reciprocity passed by the American congress, although Canada refused to pass a reciprocal act, the American act provides for the free admission of wood pulp under certain stipulated conditions.

The contention of Germany and other foreign countries having treaties with the United States containing favored nation clauses is that it now becomes the duty of the United States to admit free of duty their wood pulp on precisely the same terms as are applied to Canadian wood pulp. Under direction of President Taft, this contention of Germany and other foreign countries is to be referred to the customs court recently established in Washington. The German government holds that this court is not competent to pass upon the terms of a treaty, and that under the limits prescribed by the act of congress creating the court of customs, it has no jurisdiction over a matter of that sort. Moreover, it is held that the customs court is purely an American institution, and would be likely to decide a question of this sort in favor of its own government.

WEST END C.T.S. WILL ERECT NEW BUILDING

Situation Will Be Near Corner of Bathurst and College New Officers Elected.

The reports of the officers of the West End Christian Temperance Society, passed at the regular business meeting, yesterday, show the financial standing of the society to be in advance of any year in its history.

The property on Bathurst-street, belonging to the society, and where they have conducted meetings for the past 33 years, was sold during the past year for a handsome figure. It is the intention of the trustees to build a new hall in the neighborhood of Bathurst and College-streets during the coming summer.

The Sunday afternoon meetings that have been conducted for the past 33 years will, in all probability, be resumed very shortly.

Not a Poor Man in the Island—Prices for Fish High.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—That there is not a poor man in Newfoundland, that the year which has just gone into history has been perhaps the most prosperous in the annals of the country, and that prices for fish are "way up," were statements made to-day by Mr. J. Johnston, general manager and ticket agent of the Newfoundland and Company, who is at the Windsor Hotel for the meeting of railway men, who are discussing the question of excursion fares for the summer months.

Appropos of the conference, Mr. Johnston said that there would be but slight changes in the rates, and that he expected to leave for Boston to-morrow on the same business.

TO ENTER MONTREAL

Joliette and Lake Manuan Railway to Give Connection With G.T.P.

MONTREAL, Jan. 5.—Back River is said to have a railway. The Joliette and Lake Manuan, which is to connect the Grand Trunk Pacific with Montreal, will enter the city by crossing that stream, a route entirely new among the city's railroad connections. The road, also now known as the Joliette and Lake Manuan, will not be so designated when it is running into Montreal, but will have "Montreal" somewhere in its nameplate. The right to continue into Montreal was only recently acquired by Dominion charter.

Grading work is now being done on the line, and will probably be continued all winter. It is planned to have sixty miles of steel down by October, next. The entire length of the road will be 244 miles.

A NARROW ESCAPE

Toronto Traveler Stepped Into Coal Hole of Kingston Hotel.

KINGSTON, Jan. 5.—(Special).—F. Zimmerman, a Toronto traveler, came near being buried alive here this afternoon. Someone heard his groans and extricated him. His arms were above his head and he was wedged in, helpless. A bruise on his shin was the only injury he received.
