After investigation the board of trade is authorized to declare what is a reasonable price and require that the article be sold at the price. In case of failure to sell articles at the price specified, the board is empowered to take proceedings against offenders before a court of summary jurisdiction, which may inflict penalties not exceeding a fine of £200 or six months' imprisonment.

The board of trade may require local authorities to establish local or other committees, to whom the board may delegate all its powers, with a regulation to provide right of appeal by dealers from any order or decision of the local committees, and may make provision for the prevention of frivolous complaints.

The board of trade may authorize local authorities under prescribed conditions to purchase and sell any article to which the act applies. The act will continue in force for six months, unless parliament directs otherwise.

Food Hoards to Be Forced Out, Penalty for Profiteering, Goods Released From Cold Storage to Bear Prices at Which They Went In---Immediate Steps to Be Taken --- Some of the Remedies Suggested to Congress.

Washington, Aug. 8 .- President Wilson laid several specific proposals before congress today for checking the high cost of living, but at the same time declared permanent results could not be expected until peace time bases were fully restored by ratification of the peace treaty.

High prices, the president told congress, were not justified by shortage of supply either present or prospective, but were created in many cases "artificially and deliberately" by "vicious practices." Retailers, he said, were responsible in large part for extertion.

Strikes, the president warned the abor world, would only make matters worse and those who sought to emworse and those who sought to employ threats or coercion were only "preparing their own destruction." Leaders of organized labor, the president said, he was sure would presently yield to second sober thought. "Illegal" and "criminal" were the words the president used characteriating the methods by which some present-day prices have been brought about.
