St. Catharines is fortunate in possessing two newspapers that have not tied themselves to the interests of the monopoly that is now making the unreasonable request for an extension of a franchise having seven years yet to iun. The Star and The Journal, in refusing to follow the Cataract Power aldermen, in giving away without return a twenty-five-year franchise, are not blinded by glittering promises of gigantic industries, which will come to any city that can offer cheap electricity for power purposes, and which cannot be kept out if there is a prospeet of advantages such as St. Catharines is able to offer as a manufactur-

TO LOOP OR NOT TO LOOP

Merchants on Yonge Street Don't Want So Many Cars, Because They Block Business.

Altho the property owners downtown are not very much exorcised over the matter, there is a universal desire among most of them to get rid of some of the cars which go to make the present congestion at King and Yongestreets. And the people on the streets which have been mentioned as possible loop lines are anxious to avoid them. rance of the merchants on ronge of the thetween Richmond and King, who have given any thought to the matter, feel that less congestion would be greatly in the interest of traffic.

"King an d Yonge will always be a busy corner, and the removal of certain of the lines of cars would entail no loss to the merchants who are at present paying huge rentals in that vi-In my opinion it would help ade. It is a common thing for a erchant here to stond at his door and see prospective customers start across the road to his store and go back again in deadly fear of the cars. While the car lines originally made this corner down here what it is, too many cars can easily spoil it. I think that every merchant down here will agree with me that beside removing a great deal of the danger of the corner of King and Yonge for the pedestrian and facilitating the car service, it would help trade."

In the meantime the board of control think that the proposed Richmondstreet loop will make the congestion worse than ever. Queen and Yonge would then get the worst of it. Some say that the loop should go down to Adelaide, because that would carry passengers further down town. It was decided, however, to send the report on the matter back to the works committee, whence it came.
