The living cells of the green leaf are outlined with the remarkable green substance known as chlorophyl, which has the wonderpower of making use of the radiant energy of the sun and causing it to effect a dissolution of the small amount of carbonic acid gas present in the atmosphere. This very stable chemical compound is silently and easily separated by the sunlight into its constituents of car bon and oxygen, and the latter is returned to the air, while the former gas builds up the body of the which ultimately becomes human food. For, when all is said and done, the meat and the eggs and the milk upon which we feed consist only of the materials originally produced by the plant, and so the human being is really a vegetarian after all, and without the green leaf he certainly could not exist. So the carbon which has been sucked for us from the atmosphere by the green leaf is recombined in our bodies with the oxygen we breathe, and liberated again into the air, where but for the green fields and forests it would ultimately accumulate to poison us. Man can never spread his cities over the entire earth, therefore, for his lungs no less than his stoves and fires are always throwing carbonic acid into the air, and the green leaves alone

"We hear of the criminal class. Can you tell me who belongs to the criminal class? Do the insurance directors, who bought stocks low and sold them at high prices to the companion of which they were directors? Do to railroad officials who broke the law the land and now stand convicted? Do the coal carriers who did by a gentlemen's agreement that which was against the law?

"The age you enter has been called socialistic, but that is false; it has been called communistic, but that is false. It is fraternal. The men of the future will recognize the organization of society in the upbuilding of the community, the nation and the church of God."
