POLICE COURT

Junk Dealer Reported for Buying From a Boy—A Lower Cove Assault Case.

John T. McGoldrick who was reported by Officer Fred Lucas for purchasing metal from a minor pleaded not guilty to the allegation in the police court this morning.

Archibald Foster testified that he was in his eighteenth year and on May 12 he obtained a portion of lead pipe from his uncle's premises and disposed of it to Mr. McGoldrick for seventy-five cents at the latter's junk shop on Lower Cove slip. He said he represented himself to the dealer as twenty-one years of age.

Policeman Lucas who was sworn stated that he was investigating thefts of brass from the James Robertson Co., of South End and from T. McAvity & Sons and in the course of his investigation visited the junk shop on June 8. On the books he observed the name of Archibald Foster as having sold 131 pounds of lead to Mr. McGoldrick. After interviewing the boy he reported the dealer to the police court authorities. It was arranged to adjourn the hearing until 2:15 to ascertain the youth's age from his mother.

The examination of Charles Dunn, who is accused of theft of twelve pounds of brass from T. McAvity & Sons by whom he was employed was resumed with C. S. Hanington representing the firm in the proceedings. Myer Weitzman a Jewish junk dealer with a shop on Pond street, testified to purchasing brass from Dunn. Weitzman's testimony weakened the prosecution somewhat. He declared that the metal could be purchased anywhere in the city although the McAvity concern are the sole manufacturers. Two fellow employees of Dunn testified and the evidence of Policeman Lucas was also adduced. E. S. Ritchie defended Dunn.

It required less than five minutes to decide an assault controversy in which both complainant and respondent were of the Ethiopian race. When William Richards was summoned to court it was understood from the information of a colored woman that Richards kicked her dog and repeated all of her. Richards was therefore accused of assault to which he pleaded not guilty.

The woman in her testimony after hearing and having advised the police clerk to follow her testimony minutely so as to avoid errors stated that Richards in strolling home on Saturday night after assembling an over-supply of corn extract, kicked her dog which was reposing on the pavement in front of her abode. In an instant she reached the sidewalk and reprimanded with Richards. He thereupon turned a veritable oratorical shower upon her and after exhausting his vocabulary departed in triumph. His honor inquired of the woman whether she was not so anxious to vanish. She remained in court for some minutes and in the corridor was quite boisterous in venting her chagrin at the unsatisfactory termination of the proceedings. It was suggested that she report Richards to the S. P. C. A. for kicking the dog but she was not in an amiable mood and did not receive the advice gratefully.

Daniel Taylor graciously loaned his presence to the court for a few minutes as a spectator. As a rule Daniel does not enter the portals of the police building except under police surveillance.

ALL WILL HAVE A CHANCE TO SEE IT

Extra Performances of Miss Hersey from Jersey on Saturday Afternoon and Evening

Owing to the very heavy sale of seats for Miss Hersey from Jersey to be presented by the St. John Dramatic Club in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday evenings of this week, it has been decided to repeat the play on Saturday afternoon and evening. Those who have purchased tickets for Thursday or Friday evening from members of the club and who have not yet exchanged them at the box office for seats, can, if they prefer, secure seats for Saturday evening's performance instead of the two previous days.

A stage rehearsal was held in the Opera House last evening and those who were privileged to witness it expressed the opinion that it will be the most delightful amateur production ever given in St. John. Full of bright sparkling comedy and wit, and audacious situations and climaxes, Miss Hersey from Jersey will prove a sure cure for the blues. There are still a number of excellent seats for Thursday and Friday evenings. Another complete rehearsal will be held in the Opera House this evening at 7:30 sharp.

NAVAL DEFENCE

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—Your article on the above subject is timely and sensible in its suggestions as to what plans may be devised at which all the representatives of the British realm come together. I note in the same issue of yesterday that four Dreadnoughts have been laid down in Russia. Austria-Hungary has others in contemplation. That country has in the past, in the patriot Kossuth's time, shown the determining action of ever oppressing the masses, and like Russia and Germany, has kept their people under a slavish yoke. The true British heart has never been afraid, but it is well to be prepared for eventualities that might occur through a combination of such autocratic powers to try and crush the liberty-loving peoples who live outside the zone of their devastating and destructive-loving autocratic tyranny. It is clear to see that all the English-speaking peoples are of a non-desirous warring class—a class that desire peace and prosperous conditions of life at the present epoch, and that a combination of those people would prevent the present barbarous-living nations from further extending their tyranny on the English-speaking people the world over, and who have learned the great blessing and knowledge of the arts of peace and industry; but to continue, we must be ever prepared to meet the Napoleonic oppressors who may combine to crush the only liberty worth living and working for—British Freedom.

Respectfully,
J. S. CLIMO.
