LOCAL NEWS

York E. O. L. No. 3, will pay a visit this evening to No. 63, Fairville. Search for the body of the late John Sherwood still continues without success. Nails ex-steamship Mauritania have left New York and will arrive here tomorrow at noon. The condition of little Audrey Sears, the child who was burned, is slightly improved. George Brogan, of Bangor, the newly signed pitcher of the Clippers, is expected on the Boston train tonight. There will be a special meeting this evening of the Royal Arcanum, in Forester's hall, Charlotte street, in honor of the supreme representative, U. R. Thompson, New York City.

While attempting to open a bottle at his home, 12 Brunswick street, Leo Callahan cut himself so badly that several stitches were required to close the wound. Mr. Callahan is a well known baseball player, and no doubt the Clippers, on whose team he is playing, will find themselves rather handicapped by the loss.

WAS ON SCENE OF GRIPPEN'S ARREST

P. Kinsella Returns from Province of Quebec Where He Was Erecting Monument in Memory of Alexander Ross

P. Kinsella, of this city, has arrived home from St. Felice, Quebec, where he erected a large monument in memory of Alexander Ross, St. Felice is one of the most beautiful villages in Quebec. Mr. Ross was one of the oldest settlers, and was highly respected by the people, who are all French. The monument was erected by his son, John J. Ross, of Woodland, Me., who is identified with the pulp industry of that state. He and his family went by auto to St. Felice, to see the completed monument, and he took Mr. Kinsella on a tour from Rimouski to the Gulf coast, passing through the quaint French villages enroute. At one point on the Gaspé coast they saw a great cross erected by the people over the bodies of the crew of a German steamer, washed ashore from the wrecked vessel, many years ago. The graves were all decorated with shells and white pebbles, and the great cross could be seen far out at sea. The tourists happened to be near the point where the steamer Montrose took on the pilots and Scotland Yard men who arrested Dr. Grippen. They saw these men put in a gasoline launch and board the steamer, and within a very brief space of time all the people along shore had the news of the arrest.

The monument erected in memory of the late Alexander Ross, by Mr. Kinsella, is twelve feet in height, weighing between four and five tons, highly polished, with the inscription in French. It stands in the park and all the people in the neighborhood were greatly pleased with the fine appearance of the monument.

SANITARY CONDITIONS ARE BEING IMPROVED

Inspector Howard of the Board of Health Has Been Instrumental in Having Much Needed Work Done

The work of bettering the sanitary conditions of the city since the latter part of last year has been going on very encouragingly, and great progress has met the eye in the discharge of their duties. At present the city presents almost a clean bill of health. This may in a measure be attributed to the precautions taken by the board, and to a certain extent to the many improvements in the way of plumbing and sewerage, which have been most carefully attended to. This work is in charge of Inspector Jas. Howard, who since last November, has inspected the installation of the following: 604 patent closets, 223 sinks, and 87 bathtubs. These are greatly needed innovations, and when it is considered that out of this number, only 24 buildings in which the work was done, were new structures, and 273 quite old houses, the vast importance of it to the general health may be realized. In all 900 fixtures in the way of plumbing facilities have been placed in position about the city. And the good work still continues. The inspector found a ready willingness on the part of landlords to have the necessary steps taken and the plumbers, as a result have reaped a harvest from the operations many of them having orders still on hand which will keep them busy until well on in the middle of winter.

MANY MATTERS TO BE DEALT WITH IN CONFERENCE

Equal Rights for Laymen and Ministers—Admitting Women—Missionary—Work Change in Pastoral Term

Some matters of interest to be dealt with at the coming general conference of the Methodist at Victoria, B. C., were dealt with in an interesting manner by Rev. Thomas Marshall, superintendent of missions for the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland, who leaves with the married delegation from here this evening. One of the important changes in the discipline of the church is the placing of laymen equal rights with ministers in the conference. At the present time there is a ministerial session the day previous to that of the conference, and all matters reported to the conference. At this meeting of clerical matters pertaining to ordination of the character of ministers and probationers are dealt with. The proposition to come before the general conference is that there be a united conference, doing away entirely with the ministerial meeting.

The admission of women to the annual and general conference will be a question, Rev. Mr. Marshall said, to come some time in the future. The suggestion is that the word "layman" be changed to "lay members." At the recent British Methodist conference held in July it was decided to admit women as delegates to sit at conference meetings. In the United States the practice has been in vogue for some time.

The report of the committee appointed at the last general conference on the matter of church union will also be received and the report is being looked forward to with a great deal of interest. The question of missionary policy and administration will be dealt with by the people of the western country. Rev. Mr. Marshall said, are anxious for an executive and in order to meet their views it will be necessary to appoint three superintendents instead of one, as at present. Rev. Dr. Curran being the general superintendent. Instead of concentrating all the offices in Toronto, they will have to be divided, there being a superintendent for the eastern provinces, one for the west, and one for the middle district. The change of pastoral term will be an all-important question. There are two suggestions; one that the term be lengthened from four years, as at present, to five or seven years, or be lifted altogether, making the appointment for a year with the possibility of re-appointment for an indefinite number of years. All the matters spoken of by the reverend gentleman would, he said, be of the most vital interest to the church in Canada.

MAUDIE TO WED; GETS OFF LIGHT

Judge Advises Her Not to Practice Pitcher Throwing at the Groom-to-be

There is an old saying that "all the good things come to those who wait," and a young colored dandy, realizing the truth of this sweeping statement this morning when he judges court, when the fact that she was to be one of the principals in a happy event this month, saved her from paying a fine of $25. She will be so much to the good in providing her trousseau. The bride-to-be, one day last week struck a coloration friend, Mrs. Hays, in the face with a milk pitcher, breaking it (the pitcher, of course), it was said, into several pieces. Mrs. Hays considered this very unfriendly treatment, and promptly had Miss Maudie before the court. She was adjudged guilty, and a fine of $20 struck, but in view of her engagement to a colored gentleman, the fine was not imposed. Judge Ritchie warning her, however, that in her matrimonial career, she must be less inclined to stultify.

POLICE COURT

The case against Joseph Connell and Chas. Harrington, charged with assaulting Meyer Gordon, in Main street two weeks ago, was dismissed this morning in the police court, there being not sufficient evidence against either of the boys. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., appeared for Gordon and D. Mallin, K. C., for Connell. Hugh McGuire, stockeep, of Main street, said that he had seen the assault, but Connell was not one of the offenders. He had heard from Sergt. Kilpatrick and a lad named Curran, that two boys named Allan and Short were concerned in the assault. A woman, named Mrs. Allen had offered Gordon $5 not to proceed further against the lads. The case against Robert Campbell, of the west coast, charged with selling liquor illegally to Samuel Aides, was postponed until Friday next at 10.30 a. m. J. B. M. Baxter, K. C., appeared for the defendant and Geo. A. Henderson for the prosecution. Sergt. Ross gave evidence on the matter, and the case was adjourned to get more witnesses. Charles McCarthy and Crandall Patterson were fined $8 each on charges of drunkenness, and Arch. Quinn remanded.
