

MOTHER SEEKS DREAM CITY FOR SOLDIER SON

Canadian Woman in German Hunting Lad Reported Killed at Ypres

WAS FIRST VICTIM OF POISONOUS GASSES

Mrs. McGill, Edmonton, Tells of Vision in Which She Saw Him Alive

PARIS, Jan. 19.—A vivid dream in which a mother saw her son alive after he was reported killed at Ypres, has brought a mother from Canada to search the whole of Germany for the boy she now believes to be alive and suffering from loss of memory.

The mother who has undertaken this labor of love is Mrs. Sarah McGill, a native of Edmonton, Alberta. She has arrived in France, accompanied by her husband and daughter.

WAS GAS VICTIM.

Her son was one of the first victims of German poison gas, but although he was reported dead his body was never found. "Something tells me he still lives," says Mrs. McGill. "In the dream I had my boy looked very ill," says Mrs. McGill, "and he was moving about as though the place was strange to him. Passers-by were staring at him, as though he was just as strange to them. I am sure it was my boy, and I am sure I could recognize the town again."

Her first visit in Paris was to one of the photographic agencies that specializes in views of German towns. Special arrangements had been made to keep the library open for her, so that she might run through it on the chance of recognizing a street which she had seen in her dream.

Some of the views resembled the place of her dreams, but none was quite the same thing.

TASK NOT EASY ONE.

"It was a disappointment," Mrs. McGill said, "but I did not think my task would be an easy one. My boy was one of the first to sample the German poison gas in the Ypres salient, and the last heard of him was that he was left behind, dying, when the front line was forced back by the gas clouds."

"Though the ground afterwards regained, there was no trace of his body, and I am convinced that he was taken into Germany as a prisoner."

"I have never believed that he was dead. Something tells me he still lives, and when I had a dream in which I saw him plainly moving about in a strange city, I felt sure I had found the long-sought clue to the mystery of his whereabouts."

WILL ADVERTISE.

"I made the speediest arrangements I could to get over here, and I am hurrying through Germany to make inquiries at every likely place. I will also make a point of advertising in the German papers and watching closely in the streets in case I should recognize my boy as I did in my dream."

"If I find a street scene such as that of my dreams I shall stay there until the town has been thoroughly combed."

Mr. McGill and his daughter are firmly convinced that the dream was sent to inform them that the boy mourned as dead is indeed alive.

Heavy Berlin Taxes Cuts Dogs' Numbers

BERLIN, Jan. 19.—The increase of dog tax to $17 a year has brought disaster to the canine population of Berlin. Hundreds of people, unable to pay the higher tax, are to be seen sorrowfully leading their canine friends to the dog's lethal chamber, where they are killed by a painless injection.

FOUND HUSBAND HANGING ON DOOR

Woman, Thinking Him Carrying Out Prank, Slapped His Face

LONDON, Jan. 19.—A dramatic story was told at a Woolwich inquest on Charles William Hayes, aged 29, of Plumstead.

Mrs. Hayes said her husband had worried because he could not get work. They were spending an evening at a neighbor's house, and her husband, who was a jolly fellow and always ready for fun, dressed himself up.

At midnight he said he would go home to change his clothes, and as he did not return she went home to see what had become of him.

She could not open the door at first and called out "Open the door, you fool!" There was no reply, and she forced the door, and then saw her husband behind it and smacked his face, saying, "You fool, what are you doing?"

She had no idea he was dead, because his eyes were open, but a neighbor had told her he was not acting, and then she saw that he was hanging by his scarf from a hook behind the door. She cut him down and sent for a doctor, who said he was dead.

Uniformity in Hats Destroying Trade

LONDON, Jan. 19.—The neat little pull-on hat which is the joy of women with shingled heads, would be doomed to die an instant death if leading London milliners had their way. This is because the milliners are on strike against Dame Fashion. They declare that uniformity in hats is destroying trade. Business is not half as good as it was when women wore individual models that cost time to make and money to buy and had to be replaced frequently.

"What Makes It So Wonderful?"

Naturally, the question follows the utter astonishment of hearing the new Orthophonic Victor for the first time.

COMPARED with the enchantment of actual performance, explanation seems futile. Yet, humans are curious. The query persists: "What makes Orthophonic Victor music so captivating?" First, there is the revolutionary new acoustic principle. Second, there are the things it only, —of all reproducing instruments,—accomplishes. The Orthophonic Victor reproduces the base sounds as they should be heard. Harshness,—it does not know. Piano notes are maintained for their true duration.

Organ music has full organ resonance. Dance music rhythm is compellingly faithful to its original. Vocal harmony parts are clear and distinguishable from one another. Diction is natural as life. All tones have their true proportionate values. The result is beauty that matches the original, tone for tone.

There is yet a third reason for the wonder of this peer of instruments. It is a Victor Product! Your nearest "His-Master's Voice" dealer can transform your interest into conviction today.

Doctor Tells How to Strengthen Eyesight 50 Per Cent. in One Week's Time in Many Instances

A Free Prescription You Can Have Filled and Use at Home

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—Do you wear glasses? Are you a victim of eye-strain or other eye weakness? If so, you will be glad to know that according to Dr. Lewis there is real hope for you. Many whose eyes were failing, they have had their eyes restored through the principle of this wonderful free prescription. One man says, after trying "I was almost blind; could not see a word at all. Now I can read everything without any glasses and my eyes do not water any more. At night they could pain dreadfully; now they feel fine all the time. It was like a miracle to me." A lady who used it says: "The atmosphere seemed hazy with or without glasses, but after using this prescription for fifteen days everything seemed clear. I can even read fine print without glasses." It is believed that thousands who wear glasses can now hear them in a reasonable time and hundreds more will be able to strengthen their eyes so as to be spared the trouble and expense of ever getting glasses. Eye troubles of many descriptions may be wonderfully benefited by following the simple rules. Here is the prescription: Go to the nearest drug store and get a bottle of Bon-Opto tablets. Drop one Bon-Opto tablet in a fourth of a glass of water and allow to dissolve. With this liquid bathe the eyes two to four times daily. You should notice your eyes clear up perceptibly right from the start and inflammation will quickly disappear. If your eyes are bothering you, even a little, take steps to save them now before it is too late. Many hopelessly blind might have been saved if they had cared for their eyes in time.

NOTE: Another prominent physician to whom the above article was submitted said: "Bon-Opto is a very remarkable remedy. Its constituent ingredients are well known to eminent eye specialists and widely prescribed by them. The manufacturers guarantee it to strengthen eyesight 50 per cent in one week's time in many instances or refund the money. It can be obtained from any good druggist and is one of the very few preparations I feel should be kept on hand for regular use in almost every family." It is sold in this city by all good druggists.

AIR SERVICE TO INDIA

LONDON, Jan. 19.—"An air service between Cairo and Karachi in India, to begin in January, 1927, possibly a fast connection with it, mainly by air from London via Basle, was a development in civil aviation forecast by Sir Eric Geddes. In years to come, he added, extensions might be made to Bombay and Calcutta, and possibly to Rangoon, Singapore and even beyond that."
