

JENSEN BOATS SEEN CATTLE TRADE HELP

Question if Rate War Will Start Asked by Ottawa
Officials

OTTAWA, Nov. 18.—Important developments are expected to follow the inauguration of the Jensen cattle boat service on the Atlantic Ocean. The first Jensen boat with a capacity for 1,000 head of cattle will sail from a Canadian port early in December.

Will there be a drop in the cattle rate? North Atlantic shipping men in Montreal and officials of the Department of Agriculture here are unable to answer this question. However, the shipping men obviously are anxious and the inquiries which are being made by the Montreal shipping operators at the Government offices here prove that the entry of the Jensen boats may precipitate anything from a casual drop in the rate to a rate war.

It has been known for several weeks that the Jensen boats were going to enter the trade. These boats are solely cattle carriers. Other than cattle, they carry only ballast. Obviously the entry of four boats with a combined capacity of about 4,000 cattle in the North Atlantic trade will make a big hole in the traffic. When all four Jensen boats are in operation they will move about 1,000 head of cattle per week. This means that these boats alone will be able to carry one-half the total number of cattle offering on the basis of the shipments for the past year. Under these circumstances a drop in the cattle rate is considered more than probable.

Meantime the movement of cattle to the United Kingdom continues to show big gains over previous years in spite of the handicap imposed upon the trade by the restrictions made necessary by the outbreak of foot and mouth disease in England. Notwithstanding these handicaps the shipments during the week ended Oct. 12, totalled 2,889 head. This brings the total for the year up to date to 98,300 head which is a great gain over the previous year when the shipments for the corresponding period were 70,651 head.

The gain over 1923 is still more striking. In this year the shipments for the corresponding period totalled 60,737 head. This year's revenue to Canadian cattle-carrying steamship lines is estimated at $1,800,000.

THORNTON IS DINED BY LLOYD GEORGE

Tells of Capital Openings in Canada; Sees Prosperity on Threshold

Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Nov. 18.—Sir Henry Thornton, president of the Canadian National Railways, who recently arrived in London from Canada, was entertained at a dinner in the House of Commons, last night by Lloyd George. Among the guests were: Premier Stanley Baldwin, former Premier Ramsay MacDonald, Winston Churchill, Chancellor of the Exchequer; Sir Alfred Mond, Liberal M.P. for Carmarthen, a former Minister of Health; Philip Snowden, M.P., Chancellor of the Exchequer in the late Labor Government; J. H. Thomas, M.P., Colonial Secretary in the Ramsay MacDonald administration; Sir John Simon, M.P., Home Secretary in 1915 and 1916, and Right Hon. H. G. Burgess, Senator of the Irish Free State, and General Manager of the London, Midland and Scottish Railway.

Sir Henry Thornton spoke of the opportunities awaiting the investment of British capital in Canada, and he emphasized the importance of obtaining British capital in the Dominion rather than capital from foreign sources. Sir Henry expressed the belief that Canada was on the threshold of great prosperity.

MISSING GIRLS ARE FOUND IN NORFOLK

One is Cousin of Late President
Harding—Located by Travellers' Aid Agent

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Isabel Bennett, 18 years old, whose father, John D. Bennett, is second cousin of the late President Harding, and Sarah Cohen, 17, who had been missing from their homes in this city several days have been found in Norfolk, Va., by a Travelers' Aid Society agent, who had been on the lookout for the girls since the New York police sent out a general alarm regarding their disappearance.

News of the finding of the Bennett girl came as a great relief to her mother, Mrs. Frank Bennett, who was divorced from Isabel's father in Cleveland last June, and her husband, who is connected with the Federal Reserve Bank, with whom Isabel lived at 500 West 163rd street. Both Mr. and Mrs. Bennett, however, expressed disappointment in the girl that she should "do a thing like that," as the mother expressed it.

Mr. Bennett said he had no intention of going to Norfolk to bring Isabel home, and that the only way to meet the situation was to let her "taste a little of the stern reality of life."

"Isabel had an exceptionally good home," he said, "and it is hard to understand why she could act in this manner. She never left home before and has always been in the closest touch with her mother. When she returns she will be treated with every respect so long as she behaves."

Development of Local Talent And Promotion of Finer Music, New Club's Professed Aims

Much enthusiasm marked the organization of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club of Saint John yesterday afternoon in Salon A of the Admiral Beatty, when more than 60 members were enrolled. This is the first club of the kind to be formed here.

The officers elected were president, Mrs. Franklin J. Hodgson; vice-presidents, Miss Blenda S. Thomson and Mrs. T. J. Gunn; secretary, Mrs. M. H. Berrie-Good; assistant secretary, Miss Bernice Mooney; treasurer, Mrs. A. E. Massie.

Mrs. Hodgson presented to those assembled the reasons for their being called together, namely to discuss the advisability of forming a musical club for the ladies of Saint John, where they might refresh their knowledge of the great composers and their works. She said the club would do all in its power to develop local talent and would promote the better forms of music, both instrumental and vocal. The unanimous motion of the meeting was that it proceed to organize. The names of those desiring to join were taken and the election followed.

THE CLUB'S NAME

It was decided to give the club the name of the Ladies' Morning Musical Club, which will meet fortnightly on Tuesday mornings at 10:30 in the Admiral Beatty.

Much satisfaction was expressed by the president at the response to the call for the opinion of the women of the city regarding such a club and she was much gratified that the interest of so many had been aroused in the matter. She asked the secretary to

BANK MANAGER IS PUT UNDER ARREST

House, Auto and Card Games
Said to Figure in L. I.
Case

NEW YORK, Nov. 19.—Following the discovery of a shortage of $21,200 in the Woodhaven branch of the Richmond Hill National Bank, at Eighty-eighth street and Jamaica Avenue, Woodhaven, L. I., Melvin C. Aumack, manager of the branch since March 1, was arrested and charged under the Federal laws with embezzlement of national bank funds.

According to B. J. McGinn, manager of the claim department of the American Surety Company, which had issued a blanket bond on all employees of the Richmond Hill National Bank, Aumack made a confession in which he said he had used part of the money to buy a home and an automobile and that he had gambled the remainder with neighbors.

Aumack is 27 years old, is married and has one child. Mr. McGinn said that Aumack told of spending millions of his evenings away from home and that he was a consistent loser in card games with the indication that the games were fixed against him. He said he frequently visited cabarets and other places where liquor was sold.

Carleton Tower Lodge, No. 37, last night won the first of this season's debates to be held by the city lodges of the Knights of Pythias. The subject for debate was, "Resolved that the public school teacher has greater influence in the community than the preacher." The affirmative side of the resolution was upheld by F. L. Gearson, H. J. Mowatt and R. O. Trenoway, of New Brunswick Lodge, and while the affirmative set forth many arguments in favor of the public school teacher the judges decided the Carleton Tower Lodge debaters, G. Henderson, E. Fullerton and LeBaron Stubbs, who upheld the claims of the preacher, had won the debate.

The judges were William R. Scott, E. S. Pushe and L. C. Lynds.

The silver shield, won last year by Union Lodge, No. 2, is again the trophy for the winner of this season's debates.

MANY ATTENDED
A large audience heard a recital given last night in the Capitol Theatre, Fredericton, under the auspices of the Fredericton Rotary Club. Mrs. S. Kent Scott, Miss Beryl Blanche, and Mrs. L. Lingley, of Saint John, took part.
