FINE DISPLAY OF VICTROLAS

Baby Gramaphone Gains Much Attention

Deserving special attention among the Exhibition booths, is that of the Phonograph Salon with its particularly fine display of Victrolas in the new period designs. Beautiful pianos with their rich mahogany finishes serve as a fitting background for the smaller instruments.

instruments.

The miniature Peter Pan gramaphone has been the cause of much comment—compactly folded in a small camera-like box, upon being assembled it plays with the same full, clear tone as the larger models, and is sure to prove a great favorite with motorists, campers, yachtsmen and others.

The Phonograph Salon have recently been appointed local representatives for the Williams and the Everson Pianos and have two fine instruments on display.

play.

The Williams Plano, for 74 years famed for its superior tone, finish and lasting qualities, is so well known as to be considered a Canadian institution and the Phonograph Salon are only too pleased to demonstrate its superiority to those visiting the Exhibition booth.
